Hoffa Denies Contributions To Campaigns Illegal

Miami Beach, Fla. – (UPI) – Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa said Thursday that political contributions made by two St. Louis locals in 1956 were legal and made under a system that previously had been checked by a grand jury.

The Justice Department announced that the two St. Louis locals and six officers, including International Vice President Harold J. Gibbons, had been indicted on charges of making illegal political contributions from union funds in 1956 to the campaigns of two senators and two representatives, including Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.).

Financial Aid Voted

Hoffa announced that the Teamsters International Executive Board, meeting here, had voted unanimously to give Gibbons and the other indicted officials "financial and moral support to whatever extent necessary" to fight the indictments.

In Washington, a statement from Morse said he had never personally received any campaign contributions from the Teamsters' Union but that he had received voluntary contributions from rank and file union members. He drew a distinction between funds which are contributed voluntarily by union members and funds which come directly from union treasuries.

Highway Safety Group Reaffirms Stand on Laws

Salem—(UPI)—The stand of the Oregon Traffic Safety Commission for stronger laws dealing with drunken driving, speeding and other major offenses has been affirmed at a meeting here.

The Commission again endorsed the addition of fixed maximum speed limits to the present basic rule law.

The Commission also called for more effective use of chemical tests for those charged with drunken driving; authorization for police at the scene of an accident on "probable cause"; regulation of standards of auto safety equipment sold, and improved procedures of accident reporting.

Terence Fitzgerald of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee in Washington, D.C., told the Commission that last year's voluntary safety check of more than 42,000 Oregon cars found mechanical defects in one out of five vehicles.

Registration Drive Planned by Party

Fourth District Democrats plan to conduct a comprehensive registration drive prior to the May primary, according to K. C. (Swede) Wermmark, Jackson county Democratic organization chairman.

Wermmark and Glyndon O. Loomer, chairman of precinct 43, Medford, were Jackson county delegates to a work shop session in Eugene last week end, conducted by Vern Cook, Portland legislator and state chairman of the registration drive. Delegates from Curry, Linn and Lane counties also attended.

In outlining plans for the drive, Cook said it would provide an opportunity to build party organization and to find new party workers and leaders.

In addition to urging voters to register, canvassers will be asked to conduct a census of both registered and unregistered voters.

An incentive system has been established whereby each canvasser can earn a $5 credit toward party fund raising drives for each 50 new voters registered.

Zenith Founder's Widow Files Suit

Chicago—(UPI)—A psychiatrist testified for Mrs. Inez McDonald Neale Wednesday at her trial to win an $8 million share of the Zenith radio fortune.

Attorneys for Mrs. Neale, Ojai, Calif., attempted to show she was mentally and physically ill at the time her divorce from the late Eugene F. McDonald Jr., founder of Zenith.

Mrs. Neale is suing to have her 1947 divorce set aside so she can claim a window's one-third share of McDonald's estimated $24 million estate.
