Truman Says Administration to Try Brainwash Before Election

Miami Beach - (UPI) - Harry Truman has charged the Republican administration will try to "brainwash" the American people before the November election to cover up the "worst mess since the days of U. S. Grant and Harding."

Democrat Said Answer

The answer, Truman said, is to put a Democrat back in the White House. Truman said the Republicans have "gotten away" with what they have done through public relations and a "certain amount of editorial bias on the part of the press . . . (the press) covers up for Ike things that are much worse than anything that has happened in our government since Grant and Harding."

Senate Ready To Begin Round-Clock Civil Rights Fight

Washington - (UPI) - The Senate, with Army cotis set up in the cloakrooms for weary members, was ready today to begin round-the-clock sessions in an effort to force action on a civil rights bill.

Siege-like preparations were evident as the Senate was called to meet at noon (e.s.t.) and, barring a last-minute switch in strategy, to remain in session indefinitely.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said the Southerners had no definite strategy plans for the continuous session.

Forest Grove - (UPI) - The Gem-Dandies of Boise, Ida., took first place Saturday night in the Barbershop Quartet contest here at the annual Gay Nineties celebration.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), backed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), ordered the continuous session after 11 days of debate failed to break the civil rights deadlock.

Russell, leader of the Dixie bloc, said he regarded the rash of lunch-counter seating incidents in the South as an effort "to incite a race riot . . . and therefore inflame the people of this country against the people of the South."

House Debate Later

Car Damaged as Fire Burns Truck Tires

Ashland - The Ashland fire department assisted state police and truckers Saturday in putting out a truck fire on the South Pacific highway, a mile north of Neil creek, state police said today.

There were unconfirmed reports that efforts might be made this week to advance House debate on civil rights to remove some of the pressure from the Senate's grueling schedule.

But House debate is not slated to start until the middle of March and there were no immediate indications of any plans for a speed-up.

Cost of Living To Hold Fairly Constant for Year

Washington - (UPI) - Congressional economic experts of both parties agreed today that the cost of living will hold fairly constant in the year-ahead.

But this was one of the few points on which Democrats and Republicans on the Senate-House Economic committee reached agreement in their annual pulse-taking to determine the state of the nation's health.

Filing separate and sharply opposing reports, the Democrats and Republicans even disputed the meaning of the prolonged stability in the level of prices.

Eight Democratic members, including Chairman Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), cited it as evidence that the administration has been unduly concerned with inflation. They said administration policies have held back economic growth and produced a "higher" than necessary rate of unemployment.

On the contrary, the six Republican members said the outlook for continued price stability demonstrated the wisdom of the administration's economic policies. They said Democrats should give the administration credit for "guarding against inflation."

The reports—which sounded like election-year campaign documents—simply rehashed the partisan arguments which emerged from the committee four weeks ago at the end of its nine-month study of employment, growth and price levels.
