

Stocks Moderately Active in Early Trading Session

New York—(UPI)—Stocks were mixed and moderately active in the early trading today. Steels, autos and chemicals favored the downside, and even leading electronics, strong in recent session, declined under pressure. Rails again were lower as a group than industrials. Brokers believe that the adverse action of the carrier group may be one of the primary reasons behind the inability of the general list to develop any sort of aggressive following.

Losses among steels were held to fractions. In the electronics, General Time and Collins Radio were each off more than a point.

Senate Crushes Proposal To Advocate Resistance

Washington—(UPI)—The Senate killed before dawn today a southern proposal to make it legal to advocate resistance to racial integration and quashed frantic Dixie attempts to halt the around-the-clock rights talkathon.

The crushing defeat of the resistance proposal was viewed as the first move in a stepped-up drive to break the stubborn southern attempt to talk rights legislation to death.

The vote against the proposal was 64 to 8. It was the first major vote since the Senate began its continuous civil rights session at noon Monday. It was a sweeping show of strength by civil rights advocates.

Elvis Presley Departs for Home

Frankfurt, Germany—(UPI)—Sgt. Elvis Presley goes marching home today with barbed wire, military police, German police, and two squads of public relations specialists to protect him from the fans who want him to stay.

The vote came at 4:30 a.m. (e.s.t.) after the Senate had been in continuous session for 40 and a half hours. The move to table the Russell proposal was made by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

Before the vote the outnumbered southerners tried desperately to stave off the defeat by proposing that the Senate adjourn. A move to adjourn until noon today was crushed 64 to 6 and a move to quit until noon Thursday was swamped 65 to 7.

Quorum Calls Demanded
The Dixie bloc also demanded three consecutive quorum calls in an effort to round up their forces. The Long proposal would have declared that nothing in the administration civil rights bill or any other measure should be interpreted as preventing a person from exercising his "freedom of speech" to advocate separation of the races and resistance "by all legal means" to "forceful" integration.

Appling Says Morse Not Generally Advocated for Post

Appling said Rockefeller, who earlier announced he would not be a candidate, informed him late Tuesday he has mailed an affidavit denying his candidacy. But he said he had decided to go ahead and enter the New York governor's name pending receipt of the affidavit.

He said he did not include Morse's name because "I have not found Morse to be generally advocated." The Oregon senator, however, also is entered in the Maryland and District of Columbia primaries.

Not General Advocacy
Regarding vice presidential candidates Appling said "in the case of both the Republican and Democratic vice presidential nominations, I find that no persons have 'advocacy' sufficient that it could be characterized as 'general'."

Under the new law, Appling had the sole power to pick names for the ballot. The law told him to choose those who are "generally advocated by national news media throughout the United States."

Appling decided the extent of advocacy by studying a special press clipping file. His exposure to radio and television also figured in the selection. 'Outer Space' Qualities
Persons whose names are filed by petition may not remove their names. Only 1,000 signatures are required. So far only names of Humphrey and Morse have been filed by this method although petition campaigns are under way for Nixon and Kennedy.

Deadline for filing by petition is March 11. 'Cape Canaveral Primary'
The Oregon primary has been termed by Kennedy as "an adventure in outer space." It also has been called the "Cape Canaveral primary" by Oregon's Republican governor, Mark Hatfield, who was speaking of its explosive qualities.

Appling said that although Humphrey's name has been entered by petition he decided to "follow through anyway" by naming him as a generally-recognized candidate.

Stevenson, twice defeated for the presidency by President Eisenhower, has said he is not a candidate this year but his name often has come up as a possible choice in case the Democratic convention becomes deadlocked.

Finch's Lawyer To Finish Appeal
Los Angeles—(UPI)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch's lawyer today was to finish his appeal to the jury to free the surgeon from a charge of wife murder and possible death in the gas chamber.

Prosecutor Fred N. Wichelo was scheduled to begin immediately two days of summation for the state against the wealthy, socialite doctor and his pretty but stony-faced mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23.

The trial for the July 18 murder of Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch was expected to reach the jury late Friday after the judge's instructions.

BRITANNICA EDITOR DIES
Evanston, Ill.—(UPI)—Walter Yust, 65, who retired less than two weeks ago as editor in chief of the Encyclopedia Britannica, died Monday. Yust had been editor in chief of all the Britannica publications for 22 years, and continued as editorial consultant after retiring Feb. 22.

Ike's Impact on Public Opinion In Chile Noted

Santiago, Chile—(UPI)—President Eisenhower appeared today to have had a greater impact on public opinion in Chile than in either of the other two countries he had visited on his tour of South America.

Demonstrations Against Racial Segregation Spread

By United Press International
Demonstrations against racial segregation in the South spread across the nation today with a group of Tennessee Negroes choosing jail terms to dramatize their "non-violent" campaign against racial barriers.

Protest meetings at colleges were touched off by the mass trial at Nashville, Tenn., of 75 Negro and five white students arrested for demonstrating against segregated lunch counters in the city's department stores.

Appeals Pending
Most of the Negroes preferred jail terms of 33 and one-third days each rather than "support the injustice" of segregation by paying $50 fines. Fifteen of those tried on disorderly conduct charges Tuesday in the trial which lasted until 11 p.m. chose jail. Four others who appealed their fines before the "back to jail" movement started remained free under bond pending appeal.

American officials attributed this to a number of factors, but said the chief reason was that Eisenhower was able to operate in a much more free-wheeling manner here than in Brazil or Argentina. This has been reflected in the fact that his speeches took on more zip and his actions became less rigidly circumscribed by protocol.

Diplomatic Tightrope
When visiting Brazil and Argentina, which are the two big rivals in South America, Eisenhower had to walk a diplomatic tightrope to avoid giving either any grounds for believing it was receiving less favored treatment than the other.

The trials resumed today. The dean of Vanderbilt University Divinity School at Nashville said the university was considering expulsion of the Rev. James Lawson Jr., 32, Negro divinity student who coached other Negroes in passive resistance techniques. Dean Robert Nelson said no final decision was made.

Negro groups staged rallies in at least four South Carolina cities Tuesday night. There were reports of a mass demonstration being planned.

The more staid journals praised Eisenhower for his "statesmanlike" discussions of the problems of disarmament, economics and hemispheric solidarity and generally agreed that his visit vastly enhanced the image of the United States in these parts.

Real Understanding
Santiago's popular press hailed Eisenhower as "Tio Ike" (Uncle Ike) whom they believed had shown real understanding of Latin American problems and sincerely planned to do something about them.
