Breakdown Given Of Cancer Crusade Dollar at Meeting

Facts and figures of interest to all Oregon residents were presented at the Orientation and Training meeting of the Jackson County Cancer Crusade chairmen and captains last Monday by G. M. Gardner.

Over 50 persons attending the meeting heard Gardner, Oregon Field Service Director for the National Society, give the distribution breakdown of the Crusade dollar. Gardner stated that out of each dollar contributed, 25 cents goes to national research, 3 cents for medical fellowships, (advanced training for doctors in the field of research) 12 cents goes to the national headquarters for a program of education and service which includes leaflets, reports and films. Of this amount, in excess of $50,000 was returned from the national society to Oregon in support of research projects at the University of Oregon Medical school and at Oregon State college last year.

Sixty cents of each dollar is left in Oregon and is used as the Oregon Division Board of Directors directs. At the annual meeting of the society in October, 1959, it was reported that $70,000 in allocations had been approved by the Oregon Board of Directors to date.

Professor Grant

Money left to the American Cancer society through wills and bequests is divided so that 60 cents of each dollar remains in Oregon. The balance is used for the National Research program. On the Tomlin estate, a lifetime professorship grant at Oregon Medical school is to be formulated. There have been seven grants in the United States up to this time; Oregon is the eighth.

Dr. Robert H. Buck, Jackson County unit president, spoke on the professional point of view of cancer in our area. He stated that at both Sacred Heart and Rogue Valley hospitals, the American Cancer Society maintains cancer registries. This consists of histories of the cases, x-ray treatments, operative reports and results.

A tumor clinic is held weekly with approximately 20 physicians attending each clinic. They see from three to six patients at this time, enabling the patient to have multiple consultation with no extra charge. Dr. Buck announced that the John Tomlin Cancer conference is to be held in Medford on June 24 and 25. Physicians from New York, St. Louis, Portland and Spokane will speak on a specialized area of cancer research.

Educational Material

Dr. Abner Clark, in charge of educational material for the local unit, said that there have been eight special film showings to date this year, with 250 viewers present. Eight more are scheduled. He added that any organization, club or group wishing to have such a showing with a physician present to answer questions, may schedule one by calling Mrs. Robert Hamilton at Spring 2-2077. Dr. Robert Buck has slides available and will lecture to groups if arranged.

Whatever he can accomplish personally to calm the Middle East situation, Hammarskjold said at a news conference, can best be done by talks with leaders of the region.

Speaker Describes City At Wednesday Meeting

Medford was depicted Wednesday as "the city that has never had an inferiority complex" by Seth Bullis, longtime resident and chairman of the city's charter anniversary observances. Bullis spoke at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in a program recognizing Medford's 75th birthday. Medford was incorporated as a town on Feb. 24, 1885.

Unanimity of the townspeople was brought out by Bullis, who said that through the years "the best and most qualified people have worked together forming the policies of this town." There has not been much "back-biting," he remarked.

Bullis said that Medford is the youngest town of the valley of any size and "has grown tremendously because it is a great place to live."

Faced Challenges

He told of the ability of the community to face its challenges and remain a good place to live. When 9,000 soldiers from Camp White were "turned loose" here, the town "never rocked," he stated. Bullis said that the camp officials "leaned over backwards" to help the town. He mentioned that wartime transients of shabby character were kept at a minimum.

The depression was tough on people, but there was "quiet living" here, Bullis reported. There was no boom, but no bust, he said, adding that there was not much
