COLLEGE LOANS

New York —(UPI)— The commercial banks of New York State have 9,323 loans totaling $5,503,360 outstanding to college students under the cooperative program of the New York Higher Education Assistance Corp. The New York State Bankers Association said the banks also have a sizable amount and a large number of other such loans made under their own plans.

The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Clinic

Sympathectomy: What Is It?

People who are suffering with a severe form of high blood pressure ask if a "lumbar sympathectomy" would do them any good. In a lumbar sympathectomy certain "involuntary nerves" which regulate the size of the big blood vessels in the abdomen, thighs, and legs, are cut through an incision (cut) in the middle of the back. With the removal of nervous spasm in the blood vessels, the blood pressure may fall, and in some cases, the patient is much better. His life may be prolonged, and serious symptoms may clear up. I must keep saying "may" because some persons are helped and many are not. What is sad is that even an expert cannot always predict which person will get well and which will not. Two facts are pretty well established: one is that it rarely helps to operate on the older persons, and it seldom helps to operate on persons who have the type 4, or "malignant" form of high blood pressure. There are some tests which can be made by an expert to show whether or not a sympathectomy is likely to do any good. The operation has lost popularity in the last 20 years.

DR ALVAREZ

Can A Child Be Marked

I get many letters from expectant mothers who worry themselves sick with the fear that something they saw will mark their unborn child. Actually, today, physicians are satisfied that children in the womb are never marked. Perhaps, when I say this, a woman whose child was born with a hare-lip, will tell me that in the eighth month of her pregnancy she was frightened by a rabbit which, in her garden, jumped out from under a bush. This woman does not know that her child's hare-lip was formed during the first weeks of her pregnancy when being formed. That is an "old wives' tale."

A Person Who Hates Everyone

Some young people write to ask why they hate everyone, and often feel full of anger, and even a desire to attack people. I sympathize deeply with them: it must be awful to go through the world, full of hates and dislikes an animosities. Some men and women tell me they never could marry anyone, or even share an apartment with a friend because of their frequent flare-ups of anger and dislike.

Last year I read, one right after the other, some 75 books written by people who had been psychotic or epileptic or, for a while, insane, and one thing that impressed me greatly was the confession of many of them that they hated everyone. For 50 years, I have noted that when I have a psychotic person in the office and ask, "How do you get along with your family?" he is likely to say, "We all hate each other, and when we get together, we get into a fight." If, on the other hand, I ask a nice, sensible well-adjusted sane person about his family, he may say, "We are an unusually affectionate clan; we all like each other and we even love our in-laws"

It would seem, then, that it is a sign of sanity to like people, and it is a sign of some tendency to psychosis when a person is full of hates, animosities, and feelings of aggression. If I were to find myself full of hates, I would go straight off to get electroencephalograms made; these are records of the tiny electric currents that are constantly being formed in the brain. I have seen many unhappy, hating people with electric records which were typical of an epileptic; and in some of these cases the giving of Dilantin, or some other "anticonvulsive" drug made the person much calmer, much more friendly, less irritable and jumpy, and much happier.

Cost of Medical Education

I recently read in the Journal, "MD," that today the cost of the training of a physician is nearly $47,000 for a non-specialist and $67,000 for a specialist. These figures include some $34,000 of earnings that the student foregoes during the 15 years or so in which he is studying. In most cases, the would-be specialist cannot expect to start earning any money until he is thirty.

Sex Life After a Heart Attack

Quite a few men who have had a heart attack, and who occasionally get angina pectoris (severe pain in the chest due usually to exertion) are distressed because the pain interferes with their sex life. Heart specialists advise such men to take a tablet of nitroglycerine before they start making love.

Dr. Alvarez' booklet on heart trouble may be obtained by sending 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.
