

Board Approves Bowling Alley At Blind School

Salem—The Board of Control Wednesday afternoon gave the go-ahead for a bowling alley at the State School for the Blind here.

Approved was an allocation of $7,000 from a trust fund for a building to house the bowling lanes. Semi-automatic pin setters and other equipment will be donated.

Program Works Well

Approval came after school officials said that bowling is a "good sport" for blind children. They said that blind students have been bowling for the past two years and the program has worked out "very well."

The new building will go up at the west end of the present school gym.

The green light was given to architects to draw up plans for remodeling of buildings at the Mid-Columbia home at The Dalles, and the board commended administrator Glenn Howell for "the fine work you have done there so far." The Mid-Columbia home was formerly a State Tuberculosis hospital.

Pay Raise Voted

In other action the board approved a $180 annual pay raise for teachers at the State Deaf and Blind Schools; authorized a start on a separate steam boiler unit to cook garbage for hogs raised at the state prison farm, and approved after some discussion out-of-state travel for four officials of Fairview home, the state hospital and Mid-Columbia home.

Girl Scouts

Plan Display

Members of Girl Scout Troop 114, Hedrick Junior High school, will have a window display at Sears Roebuck and company store March 4. Theme for the display is "Girl Scouts are Creative" and articles displayed have been made from scraps of material and odds and ends collected during the winter months.

Grange News

Roxy Ann

Many visitors from other Granges in the county and one from Marion county joined the members of Roxy Ann Grange at the visitation meeting on Feb. 19.

Among them were Victor Croxton, state Grange lecturer, Sams Valley Grange; and masters of Sams Valley, Gold Hill, Live Oak, Phoenix, Griffin Creek, and Central Point Granges.

During the meeting an agricultural report was given by Carl Quackenbush and Harry Martin. Roscoe Roberts reported on Grange insurance.

Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, president of Southern Oregon college, spoke during the lecture hour. The program also included a skit and songs by Mrs. James Reddington, accompanied by Mrs. John Niss. It was announced that there will be a crab-feed at the Grange hall on March 20, starting at 12:30 p.m., to which the public is invited.

Next regular meeting is Friday, March 4.

Central Point

Central Point Grange will convene in regular session, Friday, March 4, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Homer Jeffries announces that the lecturer's program will be a showing of the "Covered Wagon Trek to Corvallis," by the 4-H club members of Jackson county last summer. David Foote and Patsy Charley will be in charge.

Recreation chairman Mrs. Gaston Floux and committee are making arrangements for a Candidate Night on March 25. This will give Grangers and their friends a chance to meet with those who have filed for public offices.

A DOG'S LIFE

Waseca, Minn.—The city council clerk solemnly intoned yesterday the formal request for a vote: "All in favor of appointing a city dog catcher please signify by saying 'eye.'" Five of the seven councilmen arose in unison—and barked. The motion passed.

FINDS FLU COSTLY

Miami Beach, Fla.—A case of influenza cost hotel president Harry Mufson $15,000 Wednesday night. Mufson picked up the checks for about 500 customers gathered to hear singer Pearl Bailey when Miss Bailey was too ill to go on.
