

SCHEDULED AT ROUNDTABLE - Aloha Airlines Stewardess Joan Kenaulani Gandall, who was born in Honolulu, Hawaii, will be among entertainers at the Medford Chamber of Commerce roundtable luncheon at the Jackson hotel tomorrow noon. She is a member of a tour sponsored by Aloha Airlines, West Coast Airlines and Pan American Airways.

Preview of All-Jet Service to Hawaii Scheduled in City

A preview of the all-jet service from Pacific Northwest cities to Hawaii is scheduled in Medford Monday, March 7, when West Coast Airlines, Pan American Airways and Aloha Airlines combine to bring entertainment from the islands.

The visit is intended to call attention to Pan American's Hawaii jet service.

The delegation will arrive at the Medford airport at 10:50 a.m. and will be met by representatives of Medford and Jackson county. A ceremony presenting a token of good-will from the Honolulu mayor to Mayor John Snider is scheduled at the airport.

Theme for the day's activities here will be "Jet Hawaii '60," and will include entertainment from the islands which will be featured at the Medford Chamber of Commerce roundtable luncheon tomorrow noon at the Jackson hotel.

Afternoon Visit

Following the morning schedule, the group plans to visit at least one of Medford's schools before leaving for Eugene, where the group is scheduled to appear Tuesday.

Included in the entertainment will be Joan Kehaulani Gandall, Aloha Airlines stewardess, an accomplished hula dancer and recently Hawaii's representative at the San Francisco Pan Pacific Festival; Don Kualii, Aloha Airlines passenger service representative and a musician; and Eileen Lota, Aloha Airlines sales representative, musician and dancer.

In addition to the representatives from Aloha Airlines, officials of West Coast Airlines and Pan American will participate. These include: Pan American World Airways-Ralph Johanson, district sales manager, Seattle, Wash.; Ken Kinder, chief chef for the airline; Richard Emes, district sales manager, Portland; West Coast Airlines, Inc.-Doug Billmeyer, director of public relations and advertising; George Moulton interline sales manager; L. W. (Rusty) Rostad, district sales manager, Portland.

West Coast already has inaugurated prop-jet service with its Fairchild F-27s and Aloha Airlines, headquartered in Honolulu, initiated service with the Fairchilds along the island chain last spring. Late last fall, Pan American inaugurated jet service to the islands, connecting with West Coast Airlines at Portland, Seattle and San Francisco.

USEFUL GAS

Pittsburgh - Nitrogen, being a nearly inert gas, is useful as a kind of guardian in many industrial applications to give protection against some phases of chemical reactions.

Eugene Men Tour Park, Shop Lots

Four Eugene men were in Medford Friday to look at the city's Park and Shop program in an effort to evaluate its effect and see if a similar plan would work in the downtown area of Eugene.

Don McNeil, manager of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, explained the program here and showed them various parking lots which represent the only city-wide parking program in Oregon.

McNeil said the success of the program here has attracted the attention of cities all over Oregon, especially Eugene's, a city which has twice defeated city-wide parking proposals at the polls.

The delegation which was here Friday, he said, was impressed with the program and are hopeful that one similar to Medford's, which would be done on a private enterprise approach, can be adopted in Eugene.

The Eugene group consisted of the city engineer of the City of Eugene, the chairman of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce's parking committee, a member of the Eugene chamber's board of directors and a representative of the retail segment of Eugene.

Senator Has Sure Way to Get Votes

Providence, R.I. - (UPI) - After a campaign rally one evening, 92-year-old Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-R.I.) got into a cab with a friend. As they reached their destination, the senator paid the driver.

"Well, there's one vote I can count on," remarked Green as the cab pulled away. Asked why, he explained: "I didn't tip him and I told him to vote Republican."
