Catholic Church Scene Of Maddox-Wehrman Rite

Miss Mary Louise Wehrman became the bride of Dace A. Maddox in a nuptial mass Saturday, February 20, in Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Wehrman, Golva, N.D., and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert B. Maddox, Sterling Creek road, Jacksonville.

The Rev. William McLeod celebrated the double-ring ceremony and mass at 10 o'clock in the morning. Tom and Tim Darland, cousins of the bride, were acolytes. About 150 relatives and friends attended.

Mr. Wehrman escorted his daughter to the altar. Her full-length wedding gown was of Swedish lace with long sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The finger-tip length veil was held by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried an heirloom lace handkerchief loaned by Mrs. B. L. Hunter.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of Swedish lace, white roses and ivy, centered with a corsage of white gardenias.

Miss Virginia Wehrman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Darland, cousin of the bride, and Miss Diana Maddox, sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Wehrman wore a ballerina-length gown of holly red-glow chiffon with lace bolero. Her headdress was a small white crown and she carried a bouquet of variegated red and white carnations.

The bridesmaids' gowns were of holly red nylon chiffon with lace boleros. They also wore small white crowns, and carried bouquets of red and white variegated carnations.

Linda Dupray, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of pink nylon chiffon with a miniature pink crown. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and net.

Terrance Maddox was his brother's best man. Ushers were Raymond Maddox, brother of the bridegroom, and Raymond Wehrman, brother of the bride.

Miss Antoinette Adams played the wedding music. Baskets of white stock and carnations decorated the church.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey knit dress with white accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the Pioneer room of the Jackson hotel. The guest book was attended by Miss Dorothy Wehrman, sister of the bride. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Earl Brown and punch was served by Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Mrs. H. C. Drew, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Leslie Corey, aunt of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Lewell Dupray had charge of the gift table.

The newlyweds spent a few days on the Oregon coast and are now making their home in Klamath Falls. For traveling the bride wore a beige sheath dress with dark brown accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride, a licensed practical nurse, was on the staff of Sacred Heart hospital.

Clothes Harmony ...

C'mon in! The whole gang's here and we're having a swing along! Linda and I fixed burgers and beans and Bill brought over some new records. Man, they're the greatest. Linda and I saw them the other day when we flew downtown to get these mad plaids but we spent so much time at Burelson's we didn't stop to spin platters. You'd really go way out over that place—Burelson's, I mean—the clothes are really the swingiest! Don't you love our clothes harmony.
