Annual Girl Scout Week Opens Today

"Preparing for the future through service to others" is the goal of almost three and a half million Girl Scouts, aged seven to 17, currently celebrating their organization's 48th anniversary. Girl Scout week starts today and continues through March 12. The theme this year is "You can count on her to be prepared." Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, national president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., commented on this theme by saying "This emphasis on preparedness is as old and at the same time as contemporary as Girl Scouting itself. While adhering to the Girl Scouts' basic code of ethics and promise of duty to God and country, our organization seeks to relate new program activities to the ever-changing and increasingly complex patterns of our society and to the multiple demands it makes on women." Mrs. Culmer explained that as the girls grow older, they are encouraged to select service activities of a near adult calibre requiring skills and attitudes essential to their development as useful, creative women and as citizens of the world as well.

Although service to her community still plays a major role in her activities, today's Senior Scout is given a chance to explore wider fields of interest through participation in vocational conferences, art festivals, and national and international events such as the 1956 and 1959 Senior roundups.

Study of Luke To Open Tonight

The first session of the classes to be held in First Methodist church on the study of "Luke's Portrait of Christ" and conducted by Dr. Gertrude Boyd Crane, professor of religion at Pacific university, Forest Grove, will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight, March 6. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Dr. Crane will teach a duplicate session from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, continuing through Wednesday. The evening sessions will continue on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The study on the gospel "Luke" will be concerned with portraiture and certain major areas of experience will be considered. Teachings of Jesus concerning vocations, personal witness, social concerns, prayer, money and The Kingdom will be pointed out. Further information may be had by calling First Methodist church.

Adarel Social Club Announces Meeting
Adarel Social club will meet Thursday, March 10, at 12:30 o'clock for a salad luncheon at the home of Mrs. Donald Shores, 88 Oak Grove road. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Gail Buffington and Mrs. William Childreth.

Meatless Meal
For a meatless lunch or supper make a hearty chowder. Pare and dice two medium-size potatoes, and cook with 1 tablespoon instant minced onion in salted water to cover. Meanwhile, cut a cup of ripe olives into generous wedges. When potatoes are tender, add to them a small can of corn, the olives, a large pat of butter, about 1 pint and a half of milk, and salt and pepper to taste. Heat just to simmering, and serve at once, in large bowls. To go with the olive corn chowder, set out a plate of toasted crackers, a wedge of your favorite cheese, and a basket of fresh fruit.

Old Favorite, New Touch
Baked stuffed potatoes are especially tasty seasoned with a little instant minced onion, topped with grated American cheese and sprinkled with dry dill. Make 'em ahead and heat through shortly before serving.

South Seas Fruit Cup
Enhance spring menus with a South Sea fruit cup. Canned fruit cocktail adds gay color and helps stretch more expensive fresh fruits. Combine drained fruit cocktail with diced orange, diced fresh pineapple, chopped preserved ginger and grated orange rind. Add orange juice to cover fruits and several tablespoons light rum; chill thoroughly.

Program on Music Planned Thursday

A program on music is planned for a meeting of Alpha Rho chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the home of Miss Jean Johnson, 57 Summit avenue, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, March 10. Assisting Miss Johnson will be Miss Florence Robinson.

The program on "Music's Influence on Our Lives" will be given by Mrs. James Tengesdal and Mrs. Robert Goodman.

The last regular chapter meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Bills, assisted by Mrs. Lou Cranston. Mrs. Bills was in charge of the program for the evening, and gave an account of her experiences in Europe during World War II.

The chapter birthday was observed and refreshments included a cake decorated with yellow roses, and the symbol of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Sam Floyds Honored at Party

Gold Hill-Mrs. Sam Floyds was honored at a layette shower Friday, February 26 at the home of Mrs. Lee Malone. Mrs. Herschel Robertson was hostess for the affair.

Guests other than the honoree were Mrs. Jerry Jeroloman, Mrs. Bob Gray, Mrs. R. P. Corona, Mrs. O. L. Kendall, Gold Hill, and Mrs. Golda Howlett, Medford.

An arrangement of yellow daffodils made up the table centerpiece.

Colorful Sauce

For a gourmet touch to a roast pork or duck dinner, serve this delicious Orange-Olive Sauce. Skim fat from pan drippings. Discard fat and add 2/3 chicken stock and 1/3 orange juice to drippings. Heat to boiling and season with salt, pepper, grated orange rind, a little currant jelly and chunks of ripe olives.
