What, No Blondes?

Denver - (UP) - If you like the color of your locks, you're in the minority.
A survey conducted for the Noreen Beauty Institute showed that 65 per cent of the nation's women, ranging from 16 to the 60's, would change their hair color if they had a choice. Surprisingly, most women did not dream of being blondes. They voted for a medium shade that would lend itself to Auburn highlights, blonde flecks or reddish tones.
Baking salmon? Drizzle the fish with lemon juice, soy sauce and sprinkle with rosemary. Baste, while baking, with burgundy wine. Sprinkle generously with chopped watercress or parsley when with some of the rich pan sauce.
