The Danger in Sun-Tanning

Dr. Alvarez

In recent years skin specialists have been concerned over the very popular cult of sun - tanning. At great expense thousands of people go to the tropics; they take off their clothes, and spend much time every day getting their skin as brown as they can get it. I imagine most of them have the idea that sun-bathing is strengthening them and improving their health.

So far as I know, there is no scientific evidence to support this view. A person should feel much stronger and better after a month spent on a Southern beach, but such improvement in health can be due to the vacation, and not necessarily to the sun-bathing.

For years, we physicians have known that great exposure to the sun is not good for the skin. It tends to age the skin and wrinkle it. Anyone who doubts this needs only to glance at the heavily-creased skin on the back of the neck of a "red neck" southern farmer or rancher. Skin specialists are concerned about the sun-tanning fad because, for years, they have known that heavy exposure of the skin, especially of the face, to rays of the sun favors the production of little skin cancers. Many elderly persons must keep having these little growths burned off every so often, as fast as they form. Now, I read that recently this problem was discussed with considerable concern by experts who, under the auspices of the American Medical Association, held a symposium on the harmful effects of sunlight on the skin.

In writing this, I do not want to scare the life out of people who have been sunbathing; I only want to tell them that if they go on spending much of their time lying out almost naked in the sun, it is questionable if they are improving their health, and they certainly are mistreating their skin.

Dr. Alvarez' booklet on cancer may be obtained by sending 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.

Fluoridation Lack 'Shocks' Official

Portland –(UPI)– The president of the American Dental association says he is "shocked" that Portland does not have fluoridation of its water supply.

Dr. Paul H. Jeserich told dentists Monday that "I can see no valid reason which should prevent any city from using fluoridation – a health measure that has proved safe, effective and economical."

He said more than 43 million Americans drink fluoridated water which he said had been proved to reduce incidence of tooth decay by about 65 per cent.

Dr. Jeserich added that all water contains some fluoride so that adding it did not mean adding a foreign substance to water.

Salem Woman May Get Reward

Salem –(UPI)– A Salem woman whose home was burglarized by two escapees from the criminal insane ward of the state hospital Friday night may get a $100 reward.

The inmates, convicted slayer James Norman Jensen and Jack Stanley Amason, were caught Saturday in an east Salem barn.

Mrs. Helen Enloe discovered the burglary Saturday morning when she returned home from a friend's house and her call to police put officers on the trail of the prisoners.

Information leading to the arrest of escaped prison inmates calls for a $50 reward and in this case it would be double that.

Mrs. Enloe said she would file an application for the reward and Prison Warden Clarence T. Gladden indicated the application would be fully considered.

California became a state in the Union in 1850.

Pope Criticizes Handling of News

Vatican City–(UPI)–Pope John XXIII criticized the press Monday for playing up crime and sex stories in an "ostentatious stress of whatever is against the law of God."

"There are things that impress the Pope painfully," he told an audience of Italian Catholic publishers. "For instance the wide space newspapers are devoting to all the things that represent an illustration of the anti-decalogue (the opposite of the Ten Commandments) and of false testimony."

Nasser Attacks Jordan, Iraq

Damascus–(UPI)–United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser returned to the attack Monday against the rulers of Jordan and the regime of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem in Iraq.

Nasser told soldiers at a camp 15 miles southwest of Damascus that Amman's "governors . . . yielded themselves to British imperialism and America to act against Arab nationalism."

He also charged that "Anglo-Communist forces in Iraq tried to destroy Arab nationalism but failed. Arab nationalism shall achieve a victory in Iraq."
