

Syngman Rhee's Running Mate Wins Election

Seoul, Korea - (UP) - Lee Ki Poong, President Syngman Rhee's hand-picked running mate and heir apparent, won the vice presidency of the Republic of Korea today in voice-marked elections which the opposition proclaimed "invalid."

Lee, 63, running on Rhee's Liberal party ticket, easily defeated the Democratic party's John Myung Chang who won the vice presidency four years ago in a surprise upset. Rhee No Trouble

The 84-year-old Rhee himself had no trouble winning reelection for an unprecedented fourth term. He was unopposed. The Democratic candidate for president, Chough Pyong Ok, died last month in Washington.

Nearly complete returns gave Rhee 8,990,823 of a total 10,559,879 cast. He needed only a third of those cast.

Lee received 7,707,940 to 1,809,865 for Chang. Another 263,440 votes were declared invalid, presumably because they were cast for the late Chough.

Change conceded defeat but told a news conference: "This is the worst election I have ever seen—in the first place because of the number of lives lost. We will file suit with the Supreme Court to have the election nullified."

There was 11 hours of rioting in the southern Korean city of Masan.

Chang said he received reports from Masan that 10 persons had been killed in riots that broke out during the election in the city Tuesday.

Apartment House In Portland Damaged

Portland - (UP) - A fire caused about $4,500 damage to a northwest Portland apartment house Tuesday afternoon, but no one was injured.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from inflammable material placed too near an electric heater.

Colleges for Oregon's Future Group Organized in County

Steps were taken in Medford Tuesday night toward the formation of the Jackson County committee on "Colleges for Oregon's Future."

Named as temporary chairman of the group was M. M. Huggins, Medford. He and Eric W. Allen Jr. will head the nominating committee to select permanent officers, and also head the speakers bureau of the committee, which will be concerned with the needs of Oregon's public colleges during the coming decade.

Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, president of Southern Oregon college, presided at the meeting which was held at the Red Cross building.

Dr. Dan Poling, dean of men at Oregon State college, outlined the needs of the state system during the coming ten years, he explained.

Heading the list is the expected increase in student enrollments. Currently, about 22,500 students are attending the state schools. By 1970, this figure is expected to climb to at least 41,000.

This is caused not only by the increased birth rate of the post-war years, but also by the fact that more students are demanding higher education, he explained. This has created demands for increased housing, classroom space and additional teachers and researchers.

The first of these is the demand for increased housing, Dr. Poling said. He noted that the state system dormitories are self-liquidating buildings which pay for themselves without tax money. Bonds to finance the buildings are backed by the full faith and credit of the state, but the bonds are paid off from revenues from the buildings.

Dr. Stevenson commented that on the SOC campus, which has an approximate value of $5 million in buildings and grounds, about $1,700,000 was built with non-tax money.

Explains Measure Jim Frost, alumni secretary at the University of Oregon, explained a measure which will appear on the November ballot under the title "state bonds for higher education."

This measure will allow the state system to increase its bonding capacity for the construction of self-liquidating buildings.

Mrs. Wickes Shaw, director of information for the State System of Higher Education from Eugene, explained the Colleges for Oregon's Future program which is being launched in every county.

Among those attending the meeting were Huggins, Allen, Seth Bullis, Mrs. E. E. Evans, Mrs. Evelyn Nye, Robert Duncan, Mrs. Moore Hamilton, Adele Sheldon, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Durno, Ben Trowbridge Jr., Clifford Cordy, Bill Hoxie and Dick Moody.

Africa Mine Reopens; Safety Warning Issued

Coalbrook, South Africa - (UP) - The Clydesdale colliery where more than 400 Africans were killed by a rockfall in January has resumed operations despite a mining inspector's warning that there are not sufficient safety factors in the mine.

Inspector W. T. Dalling also described rescue operations as the "worst bungler" he had seen. The colliery's decision to reopen its undamaged shafts were expected to worsen a crisis in the industry.

The trans-Atlantic ocean speed record is held by the superliner United States, which averaged 35.59 knots during a trip in July, 1952.

Minor Rebuff

The rally will be held at St. Peter's Church in Jaffa, a Tel Aviv suburb. The United Christian Council, which is sponsoring the Protestant evangelist Billy Graham, it was reported today.

Graham will arrive in this city Thursday from a tour of Africa and is scheduled to hold a religious rally in the Tel Aviv area Monday.

Facial Lacerations

It was reported that Stoddard, pilot of the ill-fated twin-engine plane, and his wife, Helen, suffered "compressions of the vertebrae."

Both also suffered facial lacerations, but doctors said they were not critical.

Three other occupants of the plane which crashed landed at the 11,100-foot level of South Shell Peak, about 15 miles northeast of Ely, were not seriously hurt. They were Mrs. Horace Cumbie, 28, also of Anchorage, and daughter of the Stoddards; her son, Randy, 6, and Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, 70, Hayburn, Idaho. Mrs. Lee was suffering from exposure and possible undetermined injuries. The boy and his mother were both in good condition.

Huddled in Plane

They were plucked from the mountainside Tuesday by an Air Force helicopter which defied buffeting winds to get the five to safety.

The five huddled for two days in the cabin of their crushed airplane waiting for help.

UAR Newspaper Attacks Adenauer

Cairo - (UP) - The United Arab Republic government newspaper Al Gomhuria criticized West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for describing Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion as a man of "statesmanship and steadfastness."

"It is statesmanship to throw all the Palestine people out of their homes?" it asked. "Is it steadfastness to persist in flouting the United Nations resolution?"

Council officials said they had no objection to such a meeting but that Graham's tight schedule made it impossible.

It also was understood that the council tried to book the meeting at the Zionist Organization of America House in Tel Aviv but was informed this, too, was unavailable.

The council, which represents all of Israel's Protestant denominations, emphasized that the trouble was minor.

The government was preparing a warm welcome for the young American preacher. He will be met by Israeli President Itzhak Ben-Zvi.

John Hanson, who served under the Articles of Confederation in 1781-82, was actually the first president of the United States.

Buried in Pet Cemetery

Motherwell has admitted that he buried Heather in a pet cemetery as his "beloved dog" who had saved his life behind enemy lines in Korea.

But Motherwell insisted that she had choked accidentally. California law permits the prosecution to bring up the other two cases—although he wasn't tried on either occasion—in a second trial before a jury to assess the penalty for the Putney killing.

The jury found Motherwell, an admitted lover and liar, guilty on circumstantial evidence.

Various identifications

Motherwell, 43, has left behind him a long string of financially generous women with whom he traveled and made love.

They say he identified himself variously as an admiral, a doctor, a G-man, a missile expert and frequently disappeared on "secret missions."

He has previously been convicted of illegally wearing a military discharge button in Minneapolis and impersonating a Navy captain in Pensacola, Fla.

27,400 Persons File

Salem - (UP) - Last week 27,400 persons filed for unemployment compensation in Oregon. The figure the week before was 27,600.

The State Department of Employment said early March storms were blamed for the comparatively slight decrease for this time of year.

Giants Lose One Contest

Phoenix, Ariz. - (UP) - The San Francisco Giants lost their chance to go undefeated through the exhibition baseball season Tuesday - but the Boston Red Sox might still make it.

The American Leaguers, with a fistful of rookies, scored their third win in three outings by defeating the Giants, 6-5. It was the first loss for San Francisco in three games.

Right fielder Willie Kirkland got three of the Giants' eight hits, including a double, but that wasn't enough. The Red Sox rapped 12 hits, although Johnnie Antonelli blanked them in the first three innings.

Jack Sanford was bombed for eight hits and five runs, Billy Loes gave up three hits and one run, and Don Choate allowed one and one in one.

The Giants host the Chicago Cubs today. Manager Bill Rigney said he would use pitchers Stu Miller, Ramon Monzant and Marshall Renfro.

A's REHIRE CARROLL

West Palm Beach, Fla. - (UP) Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City Athletics since 1955, has been rehired for 1960 and 1961. Carroll's two-year contract renewal was announced here Tuesday by Nathaniel Leverone, chairman of the board. No salary details were disclosed.

Motherwell Found Guilty In First Degree

Downieville, Calif. - (UP) - The prosecution said today it will bring up two other possible murders in asking the gas chamber for Larry Lord Motherwell.

Motherwell was convicted of first degree murder last night by a gold miner, a carpenter, a laborer and nine housewives after nine hours deliberation. The jury ruled that he killed Mrs. Pearl Putney, 72, Washington, D.C., widow, for $18,000.

White Found Dead

Prosecutor Lynn Compton said, "there is evidence that Motherwell committed at least two other murders."

He referred to the apparent drowning in a bathtub of Motherwell's second wife, Sarah, in 1953, and the death of their 14-month-old mentally retarded daughter, Heather, in 1954.

Police have said that Sarah was alone when she died.

White Sox Have Strong Team Combo

United Press International The Chicago White Sox are doing it with mirrors again.

Scorned by some experts as a "freak" champion when they won the American League pennant last year, the White Sox have won four straight grapefruit league games with the same blend of strong pitching, airtight defense and opportune hitting that brought them their first flag since 1919.

The White Sox scored their fourth in a row Tuesday and the victory was especially sweet to Manager Al Lopez because the victims of the 3-0 decision were the New York Yankees. The Yankees have been pook-pooing the White Sox 1960 pennant chances ever since the close of the '59 campaign.

Get Two Hits

The White Sox made only two hits Tuesday but took advantage of Dick Bronstad's wildness. Dick Brown tripled across a run in the second inning after a walk to Joe Hicks and the White Sox added two more in the third on Nelson Fox's single, three walks and an infield out.

Bob Shaw, an 18-game winner last season, Rodolfo Arias and relief ace Gerry Staley pitched three scoreless innings each in limiting the Yankees to four hits. The White Sox have yielded only seven runs in 42 innings this spring and the American League champions have yet to make their first error.

Indians Win First

Tony Kubek had two hits and Bill Skowron and Roger Maris one each for the Yankees who have lost three of four games and scored only six runs.

The Cleveland Indians chalked up their first victory of the exhibition season when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-5; the Boston Red Sox shaded the San Francisco Giants, 6-5; the Pittsburgh Pirates outslugged the Kansas City Athletics, 17-13, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2, in other exhibition games. Los Angeles vs. Detroit, Milwaukee vs. St. Louis and Philadelphia vs. Washington were rained out.

SPORTS Southern Oregon Opens Season

Ashland - Southern Oregon college opens the 1960 baseball season March 25 with a home-and-home series against the University of Oregon Ducks. The first of two games will be played in Ashland and the following day, March 26, the two teams will clash on the Duck diamond in Eugene.

Coach Ted Schopf's Red Raiders have been working out every minute they can between the rain showers the past two weeks.

Monday the Raiders were split into two units for their first intrasquad game. The team with most of the returning veterans had to come from behind and knot the score at 4-4 during the seven inning workout.

Schopf was pleased over the pitching of lefthanders John Younger and Marty Vogler who helped shut out the varsity unit for awhile. Throughout the seven inning grind, six pitchers were used giving the hitters a look at both left-handed and righthanded throwing.

Fred Louk rounded out the lefties and a trio of hurlers John Cook, Jack Brown, and Earl Tichenor provided the right arm pitching.
