

Gem Club Sees Film

At the last meeting of Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club, members and guests saw the motion picture, "The Story of Copper."

This film, produced by the U.S. Department of the Interior, starts with the mining of the ore from both underground and open pit mines, and continues through the entire process of concentrating the ore, smelting, and refining the metal.

Prior to the film, Frank Otis, the club's president, presented a number of interesting facts regarding copper and its minerals, of which more than 160 are known.

Ed Shoupe announced the preliminary plans for a gem and mineral show, to be held in Ashland this summer. This exhibition, sponsored jointly by the Roxy Ann and Ashland clubs, will run during the entire period of the Shakespeare Festival.

The new display of both rough and polished material in the U.S. National bank is from the collection of W. A. Hastain.

Prizes were awarded and refreshments served. For more information concerning this club and its activities persons may call the secretary, Delmar Smith, NOrmandy 4-1355.

Schoolmates Reunited At Recent Birthday Party

Eagle Point—A surprise party for Mrs. Vicky Caster reunited schoolmates from half a century past. The long time friends had attended Reese Creek school between 1905 and 1909. The old school has long since been abandoned to the march of progress and consolidation.

At the time this group had attended, the school had eight grades in one room, and was taught by one teacher. It was the custom at the time for teachers to board in the homes of the community or live on the school grounds. All of the desks were handmade and each one seated

Conference Announced

Portland—The 47th annual Oregon Older Girls' conference, sponsored by the United Church Women of Oregon, will be held March 25-27 at the Scout Training center on Mount Scott in southeast Portland.

Older Girls' conference is an inter-denominational inter-racial three-day meeting of high school and college age girls who are leaders and potential leaders in Oregon church groups, high school girls' leagues and other community clubs.

"Be Still and Know" is the theme of this year's program which will be built around workshops, convocations and worship services. Miss Judy Dotson will preside as president. Miss Freeda Hartzfeld, Dean of Women at Lewis and Clark college, as director, and Mrs. Kay Somers as assistant director.

Film on Cancer Shown for Unit; Workshop Slated

Medford Home Extension unit members viewed a film sponsored by the American Cancer society at their last meeting. Entitled "Never Alone," the film was shown by Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

A discussion followed with questions and answers led by Dr. Ralph Odell.

At a morning business meeting conducted by the chairman, Mrs. J. A. Barelli, plans were made for a white elephant auction to be held at the April meeting to raise funds to send delegates to the annual state council to be held in Corvallis in May.

Mrs. E. H. Trefron was appointed auction chairman.

Mrs. William Naylor and Mrs. D. K. Varner announced plans for conducting sewing classes for the better dress work shop program which is scheduled to start soon. Meetings are to be held at the home of Mrs. Naylor in Central Point.

Mrs. Carrie Milnes, ACWW chairman, read an interesting letter from her pen pal in England and displayed a gift she had received from her and a group picture of their overseas club.

A nominating committee was appointed, with Mrs. Frank Armstrong, chairman, and Mrs. Leland Knox and Mrs. E. F. Archer, members.

The luncheon committee appointed for the next meeting, Wednesday, April 13 at the county courthouse, is Mrs. Herbert A. Sims, Mrs. H. W. Wright, Mrs. Roland Beach, Mrs. E. N. Biden and Mrs. Russel Herbert.

two students. The room was heated by a huge barrel-type stove and "chillblains" were a common complaint.

All the party guests still reside in the Rogue River Valley. The schoolmates included Mrs. Fred Pettegrew and Mrs. J. W. Bates of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Conover and Mrs. Pollie Zimberlee of Shady Cove, and Thomas Vestal, Verne Matthews, Marshall Minter, Mrs. W. E. Hammel and the guest of honor, all who still live in the Reese Creek-Eagle Point area.

Among old-timers attending were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bellows, now living in Medford. Mr. Bellows had served as a school board director at the time the schoolmates had gone to the Old Reese Creek school, as well as serving a total of 24 years on the same board and two years as district secretary.

Other old-timers, friends and relatives taking part in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. John Foster, Fred Pettegrew, Mrs. Eva Garrett, J. W. Bates, Mrs. Lottie Van Scoy, Walter, Lori and Steven Caster, all from Medford; Mrs. Thomas Vestal, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Bergman, Mrs. Marshall Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Merle McGraw, Marshall, Beth and Mark Caster, Mrs. John Foster, Fred Pettegrew, Mrs. Eva Garrett, J. W. Bates, Mrs. Lottie Van Scoy, Walter, Lori and Steven Caster, all from Medford; Mrs. Thomas Vestal, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Bergman, Mrs. Marshall Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Merle McGraw, Marshall, Beth and Mark Caster, Mrs. John Foster, Fred Pettegrew, Mrs. Eva Garrett, J. W. Bates, Mrs. Lottie Van Scoy, Walter, Lori and Steven Caster, all from Medford.

A ham and turkey dinner was planned in Mrs. Caster's home while she was away temporarily, and the guests gathered before she returned in the evening. Mrs. Marshall Caster and Mrs. Walter Caster, co-hostesses for the event, and daughters-in-law of the honored guest, expressed the regret that they were unable to consult their mother-in-law on the guest list, and still maintain the element of surprise. It was difficult, they reported, to delve into the past to make the list, and then to locate present addresses. The honoree received many gifts and cards of congratulations. Sending a gift, but unable to attend, was Robert McCabe. The guest list had included quite a number of the schoolmates still living in this area, who were unable to attend for various reasons.

Crater Chapter To Hold Meeting

Central Point—Mrs. Oscar Minnick announces that Crater chapter, Grandmother Clubs of America, will meet at 1 p.m. Monday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. Roy Kelly, Cherry street, Central Point.

Hostesses for the dessert luncheon are Mrs. August Sukow and Mrs. Arthur Foote. A business meeting will follow.

Cheese Sauces

Use a medium cheese sauce with pimiento strips over stuffed eggs, sauteed mushrooms, broiled oysters or cooked shrimp. Use it on buttered toasted English muffins. Mix cheese sauce with diced chicken or tuna and leftover vegetables for a shortcake.

Extension Group To Hold Meeting

A program on Associated Country Women of the World will be given at the next meeting of the Jackson County Extension Alumnae association. It will be held Monday, March 21, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Alice Ricks, 2319 Beall lane.

The program will be given by Mrs. Dora Krause, Ogilvie.

Former schoolmates of Mrs. Vicky Caster were reunited at a surprise party given in Mrs. Caster's honor at her home. Those who attended the event all had attended Reese Creek school between 1905 and 1909, and some, including the honored woman, still live in the Reese Creek-Eagle Point area. Mrs. Marshall Caster and Mrs. Walter Caster planned the party.

Hildegard's Wardrobe So Big She Loses Count

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
New York - (UPI) - The singer Hildegard spends thousands of dollars yearly on her incomparable wardrobe, but brags that she could be just as chic on a secretary's salary.

"Spending money isn't the secret of being well-dressed," said the Wisconsin-born chanteuse.

"This is a nation where good style is mass-produced. I think you can manage on any budget, if you aim for simplicity of line and good fabrics. And if you use accessories to vary a good basic costume, you can stretch your money farther."

Hildegard said her wardrobe was elaborate for two reasons - she happens to love clothes, and she needs many of them for her appearances in some of the nation's most sophisticated hotels and supper clubs.

She tried to do a mental inventory of her wardrobe, which through the years has made her one of the best-dressed women in show or any other business, but decided "it'd take me a month" of going through storage receipts to be accurate.

Stores Clothing
"Some of my summer clothes are in the basement of the hotel here," she said. "Some are with a friend in California."

"When you live out of a suitcase . . . or suitcases . . . as I do, you never know where half of your things are. I don't know of anyone so continuously on the go as I am, unless it's Sophie Tucker. But one of these days I'll have a house with one huge room all closet. Then I'll have four huge racks . . . one for each season. And then I'll be able to count up."

The singer travels with 26 pieces of luggage - "down from the 32 I used to need," she said, "because I've switched from trunks to lightweight wardrobe cases. You can stuff a lot more in them."

She moved into a suite at the Plaza hotel, where she currently is appearing, with a dozen new full-length gowns which cost from $500 to $1,000 each, approximately 75 pairs of shoes including flats "because I love to walk," mules, oxfords, daytime pumps, and evening shoes to match each gown; some 30 hats - "I don't believe a woman is well dressed in the daytime without a hat," several daytime suits, "lots" of lounging clothes, and gloves and handkerchiefs - which have become her trademark - "by the hundreds."

Few Jewels
Her only jewelry is a watch for daytime and diamond necklace and a spray pin of diamonds and rubies for evening. "I've analyzed myself," she said, "and a lot of jewelry is not good for me."

This one-woman operation has a staff of 10 including singing teacher, manager, accountant, attorney, personal maid, musical director and accompanist, and a full-time fashion consultant - Helen Rich.

Miss Rich helps the singer in clothes selection and makes sure the blonde beauty doesn't repeat a costume in any one hotel or club where she is appearing.

Many of the gowns no longer needed go to various convents, where nuns convert the elaborate brocades and velvets into altar pieces. Gloves and handkerchiefs by the dozens go to auctions for benefit of charities.

That dream of one day having a house-did that meant that Hildegard planned to retire any time soon? After all, she has been in show business more than 25 years.

"Me retire!" she said in surprise. "Only when I am flabby and fat. These I don't intend to be."

"My dear, I am a dedicated woman."

Court Members Receive Offices

A number of valley members of Order of Amaranth received appointments during the annual convention of the grand court held recently in Portland.

Charles F. Hoppe was appointed grand trustee for a two-year term; Mrs. Ira D. Canfield is one of the nine grand assistant lecturers for the coming year; Mrs. Marshall M. Day was appointed grand representative of British Columbia and Mrs. Fred A. Purdin, grand representative for New Jersey.

The session was the 33rd annual convocation of the order, and the installation of officers was witnessed by about 1,000 members and friends. Mrs. Stanley O. Leveck, Portland, and Ray T. Johnson, Salem, were installed grand royal matron and patron.

During the session a check for $1,000 was presented to Joe Fisher, potentate of Al Kader temple of the Shrine.
