Valley Artist To Do Works For Hospital

Three paintings by Hal E. Bishop, well known valley artist, are to hang in the new Crater Osteopathic hospital now under construction at Central Point.

The artist has been commissioned to paint a mural of Crater lake and portraits of the late Dr. Warner W. Howard, founder of the present Osteopathic hospital in Medford, and Dr. Andreas Plenk, famed surgeon who lived in Linz, Austria.

Mr. Bishop, who has been painting for over 30 years, has painted many murals which hang in Oregon hotels and other business houses. Twenty-six paintings are in the California-Oregon Power company building on West Main street.

He devotes full time now to work in his studio at his home in Millers Gulch on the Rogue river, and is a member of the Oregon Society of Artists and the Southern Oregon Society of Artists.

The portrait of Dr. Howard will hang in a private room dedicated to the physician, and the portrait of Dr. Plenk will hang in a surgery.

The scene of Crater lake will be painted from the Watchman lookout toward Phantom ship, according to the artist.

Mrs. William Shepherd presided over the business session. Mrs. Floyd Kelley gave a short talk on birds for Mrs. Lloyd Harris, bird chairman. Roll call was answered by telling "why we grow roses."

Guests present were Mrs. Kislie, Mr. and Mrs. Millard, Mrs. Genevieve McCorkle, Mrs. Harold Bressler and Mrs. Walter Cross.

Following refreshments served at the close of the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Millard and Mrs. McCorkle played several piano, organ and violin numbers.

The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Scott Brill, Trail, on April 11. The use of herbs and how to grow them will be the subject for the meeting. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Miles Williams and Mrs. A. Myklebye.

Extension Unit Work Around The World Told at Meeting

The fact that membership in an extension unit also means membership in the Associated Country Women of the World was shown members of the Westside Home Extension unit in their last meeting, March 3, at the home of Mrs. Allen Perry, Old Military road.

The ACWW chairman, Mrs. Arnold Motschenbacher, was in charge of the program. She explained home extension and how it works. With the aid of a flannelgraph she showed the different stages of extension work. Starting with the individual member in the county unit, she traced the work through state and national levels and into the world wide organization of ACWW. Mrs. Motschenbacher suggested that more members find pen pals in foreign lands and in this way learn how home extension works in other countries.

During the business meeting in the morning, Mrs. Walter Ricks, chairman of the Jackson County Alumnae committee, gave a talk on the Alumnae committee and told of some of their plans for assisting the Jackson County Advisory committee.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Louis Sujerveld who spent her girlhood on a flower farm in the Netherlands. In her informal talk, Mrs. Sujerveld told of the many differences she found between her former home and here. She and her husband came to this country about ten years ago immediately following their marriage. At that time she could speak very little English. Some of the experiences in the new country she related were amusing.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chester Wendt, Old Stage road
