

London—Antony Armstrong-Jones ignores the name of the musical, "Follow That Girl" but does exactly that in case of Princess Margaret. He will be following "that girl" the rest of his life as protocol prescribes he trail her by three paces. The engaged couple are shown as they arrived to attend the premiere of the musical written by Julian Slade, once a close friend and member of the Princess' party-going set. (UPI Radiotelephoto)

Camp White Club Host for Party

Scholarships Announced By Eight-Forty

Camp White Fifty Plus club was host to guests from Medford, Grants Pass, Eagle Point, Jacksonville, Wolf River, Trail, Talent, Ashland and Klamath Falls at a St. Patrick's party in the theater, Wednesday afternoon.

Henry C. Herzog, manager, and Banks I. Paul welcomed the group. The Rev. D. E. Millard, New Age church, Eagle Point, gave the invocation, and the colors were advanced by Jack Shipman for the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Maude Arnold played for community singing and Mr. Shipman sang two Irish songs.

Various cards and games were played and refreshments served before dance time.

Sixteen members of the Grants Pass Senior Citizen club demonstrated and offered to teach two simple square dances they had learned by themselves.

Stephen O'Donnell, Bert Vastelica and I. F. Benefield of the Camp White orchestra and Pearl Bailey played for dancing, and Mr. O'Donnell sang. Milton Stafford was master of ceremonies and Roderick Macdonald was in charge of the guest book.

The next event of the Camp White club will be an amateur show in which all the clubs may participate.

Gardeners Plan Board Meeting

Siskiyou district, Oregon Federation of Garden clubs, will hold an executive board meeting Tuesday, March 22, at the Girls Community club at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. R. T. Nichol, Medford, district director, urges board members, flower show and publicity chairmen of garden clubs in the district to attend.

A sack luncheon is planned for noon. A program on flower show practice will be held in the afternoon.

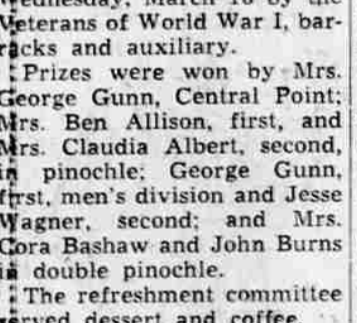

Gard Party

Approximately 75 persons attended the card party given Wednesday, March 16 by the Veterans of World War I, barracks and auxiliary.

Prizes were won by Mrs. George Gunn, Central Point; Mrs. Ben Allison, first, and Mrs. Claudia Albert, second, in pinochle; George Gunn, first, men's division and Jesse Wagner, second; and Mrs. Cora Bashaw and John Burns in double pinochle.

The refreshment committee served dessert and coffee.

Make-up for Easter... be "Light Hearted," be Gay, with Frances Denney's new make-up sequence. Light Hearted in Viva Fluid make-up. Constant Color face powder, Glamour Texture lipstick, with a touch of Jade eye shadow. This is the make-up to tie in with the spring fashion colors. Blondes, brunettes and redheads will find this a most flattering shade!

Student Nurse To Be Delegate

Miss Patricia Cowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cowie, formerly of Medford, and now of 1241 Dowell road, Grants Pass, has been selected to attend the national convention of student nurses in Miami, Fla., in May.

Miss Cowie, a graduate of Crater High school in 1958, is in her second year of nurse's training at Sacred Heart General hospital, Eugene.

She was chosen as representative from the hospital to attend the convention by the staff on the basis of grades, personality, and vote of the student nurses. As representative from the hospital all expenses will be paid for the trip and five day convention.

Betrothal Rings Mark Engaged

New York—(UPI)—Bachelor girls: look at his third finger, left hand before setting your cap for a male who strikes your fancy.

If he's wearing a birthstone on that finger, you can bet that it's an engagement present from his fiancé.

So reports the Ring Guild of America, citing the trend of men wearing engagement rings as gifts from the ladies of their choice.

The teenagers started it, the Guild reports. The trend is part of the "do alike" fad which has teenage couples wearing the same type and colors in clothing when "going steady."

The rings, said the Guild, are mainly, featuring bold lines either in traditional or modern stylings.

Pity the gal whose "intended" was born in April. The birthstone for that month is a diamond.

New Furniture Said Practical

By JOYCE SCHULLER
United Press International
Chicago—(UPI)—Removable upholstery, webbing and arms make a new line of furniture the ultimate in practicality.

"It's really the upholstery, not just the seat and back cushions, that comes off for cleaning on this modern "Trans-Dextra" line. Zippers do the trick. They're used in place of tacks to hold the upholstery to the tacking strip.

Because the zippers don't show, the upholstery appears to be attached to the wooden frame in the conventional upholstery manner. Double open ends on the zippers make it easy to remove all fabric panels from any side.

To make it even easier to remove the upholstery, chairs and sofas in the group knock down. The arms, with legs attached, unbolt from the center section.

Rubber webbing, used instead of springs, also is removable and replaceable in minutes. Designer Tom Ward used the rubber webbing to free the consumer from the expenses of professional furniture repairs.

To give the consumer versatility as well as practicality, he designed two basic arm styles for chairs and sofas. One arm style is fully upholstered while the other has an exposed wood frame with fabric-covered center panel. Because the arms on all pieces are interchangeable, they can be switched from sofa to chair occasionally for variety, or removed to make sectional.

Backless upholstered pieces in the group can be used as ottomans, parts of a sectional, or topped with plastic to form a coffee table.

Fabrics include most of the popular contemporary ones, in a wide variety of solid shades and multi-color stripes.
