

Spiegelberg To Lecture

Portland - Len Casanova, head coach at the University of Oregon, and his number one assistant, Jack Roche, will headline Portland State college's second annual football coaching clinic, scheduled for the PSC Auditorium, April 9.

Clinic Director Hugh Smithwick, the Vikings' head football coach, also announced that Fred Spiegelberg, head coach of Medford's A-1 state high school champions, Ted Ogdahl, head coach of Willamette's Northwest conference champs, Joe Huston, head coach at Lewis and Clark College, and George Shaw, former University of Oregon All-American and currently a quarterback for the New York Giants in the National Football league, will complete the group of guest lecturers for the clinic.

Spiegelberg will talk on the combination single-wing and T-formation attack he used at Medford.

HEISS ENGAGED

New York - (UPI) - Carol Heiss, 20-year-old Olympic figure skating champion, Monday announced her engagement to another Olympic champion - Hayes Alan Jenkins, who won the men's figure skating crown in 1956.

April 30 is the probable date for the wedding. Miss Heiss made it a big day all-around by hinting that she may turn professional.

Ford Frick To Rule On Trade Issue

Scottsdale, Ariz. - (UPI) - Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to issue an official ruling today on a disputed trade between the Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians.

The Red Sox traded catcher Sammy White and first baseman Jim Marshall to the Indians for catcher Russ Nixon last Wednesday but White promptly threw a monkey wrench into the deal by announcing his retirement from baseball.

This caused stormy Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane to fire a hotly-worded telegram at Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris, charging Harris knew all along that White would retire if the Red Sox traded him.

Harris countered with a message advising Lane, "your accusations are profoundly untrue."

Sox Sign Nixon
Harris said he signed Nixon to a Red Sox contract Monday and, in effect, defied the Indians to get him back.

"He's a Red Sox ballplayer now," said Harris.

Nixon chimed in with the statement that he did not want to return to the Indians because he was annoyed at the tone of a letter Lane sent him this spring.

"This is vicious," said Harris referring to Lane's telegram. "I didn't know how vicious Lane could be. He's trying to make me out a criminal. This is a matter for the commissioner."

Harris said he expected to hear from Frick today.

Lane, during a stopover in San Diego, Calif., Sunday, said "the deal's off as far as I'm concerned." He said he would send Marshall back to the Sox.

It was believed that the Red Sox signed Nixon to an $18,000 contract - about $3,000 more than he was receiving from Cleveland.

Harris indicated he would make some arrangements to make up to the Indians for the loss of White but these would not include the return of Nixon.

'Old Folks' Heroes Of Spring Training

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
Rookies are the traditional heroes of spring training but it's the "old folks" who are monopolizing the headlines this year.

One reason is that rainy weather early in the training program deprived many rookies of a real chance to strut their stuff and another is that veterans already are tuning up to make fast starts in the pennant races.

Take Monday when 39-year-old Stan Musial, 38-year-old Warren Spahn and 37-year-old Hank Bauer displayed mid-season form in pacing the St. Louis Cardinals, Milwaukee Braves and Kansas City Athletics to victories.

Musial, working like the most unheralded rookie in camp to make up for a 254 campaign in 1959, hammered out a homer and a bases-filled double as the Cardinals pounded out a 12-3 win over the Cincinnati Reds. Larry Jackson pitched no-hit ball for the Cardinals for five innings but then Jerry Lynch connected for a grand slam homer in the sixth.

Musial, who took special workouts during the winter, is enjoying one of the best springs of his career, and is more confident than ever that he'll make a comeback.

Spahn, 21-15 last season but fighting to prove to Manager Charlie Dressen that he can work on a four-day rotation, held the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers to unearned runs in six innings as the Braves scored a 6-4 victory. Spahn's stint matched the previous longest stint turned in by a Milwaukee pitcher, by Carlton Willey, and he now has allowed only two runs in 11 innings this spring.

Dick Phipps All-Events Pin Champ

Salem - (UPI) - The 19th annual men's state bowling tournament ended its seven-week stand here Sunday night and Dick Phipps, Salem, won the Class A all-event title with a total of 1,933 pins.

Phipps, manager of Cherry City Bowl where the tourney was held, will enter the National Masters' tourney next year in Detroit, Mich.

John Pennington, Roseburg, took the Class B all-events crown with 1,749 pins and Bob Craig of The Dalles won the C Class with 1,753.

In Class A team competition, Cherry City bowl, was tops with 3,104.

Herb Peard of Eugene was first in class singles with a 703.

Phipps said the men's tourney next year would be in Portland and the women's tournament in North Bend.

Al Lopez Predicts Chicago White Sox Will Take Series

(This is the first of 16 dispatches on the 1960 prospects of the major league baseball clubs.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor
Sarasota, Fla. - (UPI) - Al Lopez not only is predicting a pennant for his Chicago White Sox this year, but a World Series triumph as well.

He believes the winter deals whereby the club obtained Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese "is going to give us the power we lacked last season."

"We had to give up some talent to get them," Lopez pointed out, "but only one of them figured in our 1960 plans. That was Bubba Phillips and we replaced him at third with Freese."

"We didn't disturb the best defense and pitching in the league to get our new talent. That's why I'm sure we are going to win again and go on to take the World Series."

Others Less Optimistic
Most baseball men are not as high on the White Sox as the senior. They reason that Freese is not the fielder Phillips is and that the team could run into pitching trouble because there are some pretty old arms on the staff.

Early Wynn, who led the staff with 22 wins in 1959, is 40. Gerry Staley, the relief specialist, will be 40 during the campaign. Dick Donovan and Billy Pierce are not exactly kids either.

However, Lopez predicts that Pierce and Donovan will improve on their marks on last year when they won only 23 games between them.

"I am certain of one thing," said Lopez, "and that is that they won't wind up losing more games than they win like they did in 1959."

Lopez also forecast that Bob Shaw, 18-6, will be a bigger winner this season and also looks for improvement in Barry Lateman, 8-5.

Wynn, Shaw, Pierce, Donovan and Latman will be his starters with Turk Lown joining Staley in the bullpen.

Rest of Club Set
All the rest of the club is set - if Ted Kluszewski can make it at first base. Klu spent the greater part of the last three years on the bench because of back trouble. But after the White Sox got him from Pittsburgh, he played in 30 games, hit .297 and was the big gun for the team in their World Series loss to Los Angeles.

If Kluszewski needs help, veterans Earl Torgeson and Billy Goodman are available. That super keystone combination of Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio are back at the middle of the diamond with Freese at third, Sam Esposito and Goodman will be around to spell them if needed.

It will be Minoso in left field, the fleet Jim Landis in center and Al Smith in right. Joe Hicks, who hit .315 at Indianapolis last year, has a

Big Five To Select Top Teams For Bowl Contest

San Francisco - (UPI) - The Big Five - which didn't have much choice anyway - will select "an outstanding football team" to come to the Rose Bowl from now on as a result of the Big Ten's decision to skip any more trips to Pasadena.

That was the gist of an announcement which the new West Coast group made Monday executive committee.

Earlier this month, the Big Ten voted to pass up all further post-season football games. This move came after the powerful Middle Western conference had won 12 out of 14 games during its Rose Bowl tie-up with the new Pacific Coast conference.

"The Big Five will act as a conference in selecting a Rose Bowl opponent for our group to play," Big Five President Frank Kinder said at a press conference. "We will not deal with any particular conference - just the most outstanding team available."

Before the Pacific Coast Conference - now supplanted by the Big Five - entered into its agreement with the Big Ten, such teams as Tennessee,

Tulane, Alabama, Harvard and Pennsylvania were among those which played West Coast representatives in the New Year's game.

Abolition Of Boxing Proposed

New York - (UPI) - Professional boxing - "the down-at-the-heels prostitute of organized sports" - should be abolished on both medical and moral grounds.

So states James Stewart-Gordon in an original article "Abolish Professional Boxing" in the April issue of The Reader's Digest which appears today.

Citing medical testimony that sometimes a single hard blow to the head can kill a boxer by causing massive cerebral hemorrhage, Mr. Gordon points out that since World War II some 165 boxers have died of injuries suffered in the ring.

Sordid Business
The author calls boxing not a sport but a "sordid business" designed only to yield maximum profit to the men who control the fighters, arenas and TV outlets - a monopoly known as the "Ocotopus" with little regard to the fact that boxers can be permanently injured or killed.

Two former welterweight champions, Johnny Saxton and Johnny Bratton, both around 30, are now in mental institutions, seeking to clear the cobwebs from their brains. They are nothing but memories to those who used them during their productive years, and dropped them when their value ceased to exist, Mr. Gordon claims.

As long as professional boxing is run for the express purpose of lining the pockets of mobster bosses at the expense of battered, cheated and helpless young boxers, the author feels it is time the country banned "this public butchery."

Junior Olympic Winners Listed

Steve Patterson, in the 8-9 year age group, Wayne Garrett, in the 10-11 competition, and Larry Glawe, in junior high boys' rivalry, were winners last week in the spring vacation-time YMCA Junior Olympics here.

Dell Ingram was second and John Knox third among the younger boys and Blaine Hasel runner-up and Donald Lawrence next in the 10-11 bracket. John Stelle took second and Greg Swanson followed in the junior high contention.

Events tested the ability, endurance and strength of the boys. As a result of the strength indications in the Olympics, Y Physical Director David Curzon said that he plans a program which will help the boys strengthen arms and shoulders.

Out of these sectionals will come a yet uncertain number of qualifiers to join with a handful of exempt players to form a field of 150 for the championship itself at Denver, Colo., June 16-18.

The "double qualifying" system was used for the first time last year because of the steady growth in the total number of entries. A record of 2,385 entries were received last year.

Entries close on May 4. The sectional tourneys will be held at Denver, Colo., Mamaroneck, N.Y., Cincinnati, Ohio, and Seattle, Wash., starting June 6, and at San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Atlanta, Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City, Dallas, and Rochester, N.Y., starting June 7.

ADAMS TO COACH

Port Orford - (UPI) - Vic Adams, who resigned as basketball coach of Pacific University, has been signed as football coach of Pacific high school here. Adams resigned this season following loss of 36 straight games by Pacific.

RVCC Host To Pro-Am Links Meet

Rogue Valley Country club next Monday and Tuesday will be host for an early spring southern Oregon proff tournament.

Twenty-one professionals from Oregon and southwest Washington will take part.

Contestants will vie on Sunday at Roseburg in the first action of the three-day contest which will offer both daily and overall prizes.

Each pro is to bring two amateurs with him and two home club amateurs will join each pro. Play will be in five-somes.
