Progress Program In Final Weeks

A fellowship dinner and visitation will climax the Program of Progress now in its final weeks at the First Church of God, Haven at Holly sts., according to the Rev. W. E. Martin, pastor. The dinner, to be held at the Red Cross chapter house annex on Hawthorne ave., is scheduled for Saturday evening and visitation teams will contact members of the congregation on Sunday afternoon. The week end events will highlight an eight-week program of self evaluation on personal and church goals. During the past weeks members have filled out and discussed questionnaires designed to pinpoint the needs and direction of the church for the next five years. The Program of Progress, now concluding its initial phase, will be a springboard to launch an intensive evangelistic outreach in the near future, according to Mr. Martin. A guest director, the Rev. Dwight Brown, will be in Medford for 10 days to evaluate the information gathered and conduct a series of training, leadership and evangelistic visitation classes. Mr. Brown, who will speak at the Sunday morning service, has been active in this work throughout Oregon in recent weeks. Committee chairmen who have directed the activities of the past weeks include Glenn McCullough, general chairman; Roy Hoover, fellowship dinner; Pete Ryn, visitations; Mrs. E. Noss, resources; and Marion Helton, promotion.
