

Read about a successful new bark by-product of Kogap lumber industries which both eliminates air pollution and uses more of each log, on page 14 of today's Mail Tribune.

To report improper or non-delivery of the Mail Tribune in Medford phone SP-2-5141, in Ashland MU 2-1021, and in Yreka VI 2-2807, before 6:45 p.m. daily and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. If regular delivery arrives shortly after you call please notify office thus eliminating special messenger service.

"You Might Say That They See I-To-I"

Outlook Said Dim On Arms Confabs

Geneva - (UPI) - American sources said Saturday that Russia's refusal to accept cheat-proof controls "bodes ill" for the success of the 10-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

Senators Ignore Ike by Working On Medical Plan

Washington - (UPI) - Three Republican Senators Saturday ignored President Eisenhower's opposition and announced they were drafting a plan to provide medical care for the aged.

The plan was advanced by Sens. John Sherman Cooper (Ky.), Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) and Hugh Scott (Pa.) who urged the President to support it.

Dr. Clarence Drummond, county public health officer, explained that a total of $8,000 would be required for hiring a case worker for family counseling.

Only health department personal to receive increases were the sanitarians, who received ranges ranging from $15 to $25 a month.

The county court also considered the Jackson county farm home budget but took no action.

Major budget request items are the superintendent's salary of $3,400, up $100; assistant superintendent, $3,400, up $100; first cook, $3,096, no change; second cook, $3,096, no change; third cook, $3,096, no change; dishwasher and D room girls 3, $7,020, no change; relief cooks, $950, no change, and $415 credit; farmer, $500, compared to $2,160 previous salary, $1,660 credit; first laundress, $2,484, up $144; second laundress, $3,805, up $984; registered nurse, $4,452, up $216; registered nurse, $4,032, no change; licensed practical nurse I, $3,636, no change; relief nurses, $3,704, compared to current salary of $4,268, $564 credit; supplies $16,010, no change; power, $2,700, up $100; repairs $2,500, $700 credit; and fuel $4,250, no change.

EP School Budget Gains Approval

Eagle Point - The Eagle Point School district budget committee last week approved a general fund budget totaling $647,409.21, an increase of $53,449.91 more than this year's expenditures.

Estimated receipts and available cash balances total $215,539.71, budget committee members noted, which is an increase of $24,233.90.

The amount necessary to balance the budget for the general fund is estimated at $431,869.50, to which is added $57,508.34 of the bond interest and redemption fund for a total of $489,377.84.

Taxes which will not be collected and estimated rebate on taxes is estimated to total $27,344.31, leaving total estimated tax levies of $516,722.15.

Of the latter total, $63,259.17 is not subject to the 6 per cent limitation, and $75,227.91 is inside the 6 per cent limitation, leaving $378,235.07 outside the 6 per cent limitation.

Budget committee members noted that the bond interest and redemption fund is $21,797.54 less than the present year.

The increase in the budget, committee members said, is from general increases in operating and maintenance costs.

The budget includes salaries for two additional teachers, one elementary school teacher and one high school teacher, who will be needed because of increased enrollments, committee members noted.

Superintendent Glen Hale noted that the high school enrollment has exceeded 300 students, and state standards require a full-time librarian when enrollment reaches 300 students.

Demonstrations In Support of Sitdowns Spread

By United Press International

Mass anti-segregation demonstrations in support of Negro lunch counter sitdowns in the South spread across the country Saturday.

Picketing, parades and rallies were held in the East, New England, the Midwest, and Far West by thousands of Negroes and sympathizers.

A mass demonstration was staged by the 1,380 students of all-Negro Hampton Institute at Hampton and Newport News, Va., focal point of the nationwide demonstration movement which student leaders called "operation 26."

The Hampton students appealed to 108 students groups from New York to California and to the Congress of Racial Equality and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to join in and encourage the protests.

The chairman of the Hampton group calling itself "students for human dignity," Thurman Davis, said similar letters appealing for sympathy demonstrations went to Oxford University in England, the Sorbonne in Paris and to schools in Nigeria and Ghana.

At least 1,000 students marched in a protest parade at Hampton and picket lines were manned before at least 10 stores in Hampton and Newport News.

The pickets wore raincoats and carried umbrellas for a cool drizzle.

Newport News police with police K-9 Corps dogs patrolled the picketed areas.

In Richmond, Va., a downtown F. W. Woolworth store closed its lunch counter after reports that sitdown demonstrations would be staged.

Pickets marched at Richmond's largest department store, Thalhimers.

A 9 below zero at Madison, Wis., was the coldest ever recorded there so late in the season. And a 5 below at Portland, Maine, also was an early spring low record.

Newport, Vt., with a reading of 11 below, was officially the coldest spot in the nation, but the mark was not a record. Unofficially, the lowest temperature was 21 below at the village of Wanakena in St. Lawrence county, N.Y.

Temperatures Hit Lows in 6 States

By United Press International

Dame spring waded an icy wand over New England Saturday, dropping temperatures to all-time lows in at least six states.

In the middlewest, however, warm weather caused heavy runoff from melting snows and brought new flood threats to Nebraska.

Two men and two boys were stranded on a ranch near Niobrara, Neb., when the flooding Reya river washed out a dike and cut off the ranch home.

A National Guard helicopter was dispatched to the rescue.

The mercury plunged to new lows in New York state, throughout New England and in Wisconsin as unusually cold weather spread across the north on the seventh day of spring.

A 9 below zero at Madison, Wis., was the coldest ever recorded there so late in the season. And a 5 below at Portland, Maine, also was an early spring low record.

Newport, Vt., with a reading of 11 below, was officially the coldest spot in the nation, but the mark was not a record. Unofficially, the lowest temperature was 21 below at the village of Wanakena in St. Lawrence county, N.Y.

More than 5,000 persons attended the Crater Lions Sportsfair Saturday, according to Gene Barlow, publicity chairman for the Lions, and an even greater crowd is expected today.

Barlow said the turnout was very gratifying considering the unstable weather conditions yesterday.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

MacMillan Here for Talks

By United Press International

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived here late Saturday to decide with President Eisenhower on the next step in Geneva nuclear test ban talks which the Briton said "May, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind."

MacMillan landed in a sleek Royal Air Force jet transport plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. He and Eisenhower will begin their talks Monday at Camp David, Md.

Stressing the need for British-American accord in answering Russia's new proposal for a nuclear test ban, MacMillan said:

"We have to make a joint decision about a next phase in the negotiations in Geneva."

MacMillan said it was not giving away any secret to say that he and Eisenhower found in previous meetings over the last three years that they "can work together in a practical way through these talks."

"That is why I was very glad that the President invited me to Washington for the latest in these series of meetings," he said.

Stressing the need for a joint decision, he asserted: "After all, what happens in Geneva may, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

Welcoming MacMillan at the airport, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said: "Your coming here is in accord with the long-standing practice of frequent consultations between the leaders of our two countries. We are glad to have you with us and are looking forward to exchanging views with you on the problems which are of such importance to the peace and security of the world."

The Eisenhower-MacMillan across-the-table discussions are expected to produce a firmly knit allied counter-offer to Russia's latest nuclear test ban proposals.

The thorny issue is Russia's call for a five-year moratorium on hard-to-detect small underground explosions. Eisenhower is expected to propose instead an initial moratorium limited to a maximum of one year.

6 Airlines Obeying New Safety Rules

By United Press International

The six airlines operating 96 Electra turbo-prop airliners acted immediately Saturday to obey new government safety limitations without disrupting service.

The Lockheed Aircraft Company issued a formal statement in Los Angeles saying that it would accept the new restrictions but adding a defense of its airliner.

"The initial testing program on this airplane was conducted in accordance with the most exacting criteria, and the airplane and all its components met or exceeded all requirements for air worthiness," the company said.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

The airlines affected by the FAA order are American, Eastern, Braniff, Western, Northwest and National.

9 NW Colleges to Support Sitdowns

By United Press International

Spokane - (UPI) - Delegates representing nine thousand students at eight Catholic colleges in the northwest Saturday adopted a proposal to support Negro students in the south in their "peaceful sit-downs in an effort to establish a respect for their proper rights."

The eight colleges represented at the congress included Portland University and Marylhurst College of Portland.

The bombs, apparently planted, exploded in the basement of Alvin Winn's home, in the garage of Bill R. Martin and apparently in the parked car of Walter Sherry Jr., owner of the third home.

The explosions caused extensive damage, police said, but no one was reported injured.

The impact knocked the Vipond vehicle into a telephone pole and the woman and girl were thrown to the pavement, according to police.

MacMillan Here for Talks

DINKY DINGHY—The three young ladies above, as small as they are, would make a boatload for this tiny sailboat now on display as part of the marine exhibit at Crater Lions club Sportsfair in Medford. The girls are (from left) Sportsfair Queen Linda Lowry, and Jan Myhre and Karen Larsen, members of the Royal Court. Sports-

6 Airlines Obeying New Safety Rules

By United Press International

The six airlines operating 96 Electra turbo-prop airliners acted immediately Saturday to obey new government safety limitations without disrupting service.

The Lockheed Aircraft Company issued a formal statement in Los Angeles saying that it would accept the new restrictions but adding a defense of its airliner.

"The initial testing program on this airplane was conducted in accordance with the most exacting criteria, and the airplane and all its components met or exceeded all requirements for air worthiness," the company said.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

The airlines affected by the FAA order are American, Eastern, Braniff, Western, Northwest and National.

9 NW Colleges to Support Sitdowns

By United Press International

Spokane - (UPI) - Delegates representing nine thousand students at eight Catholic colleges in the northwest Saturday adopted a proposal to support Negro students in the south in their "peaceful sit-downs in an effort to establish a respect for their proper rights."

The eight colleges represented at the congress included Portland University and Marylhurst College of Portland.

The bombs, apparently planted, exploded in the basement of Alvin Winn's home, in the garage of Bill R. Martin and apparently in the parked car of Walter Sherry Jr., owner of the third home.

The explosions caused extensive damage, police said, but no one was reported injured.

The impact knocked the Vipond vehicle into a telephone pole and the woman and girl were thrown to the pavement, according to police.

MacMillan Here for Talks

By United Press International

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived here late Saturday to decide with President Eisenhower on the next step in Geneva nuclear test ban talks which the Briton said "May, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind."

MacMillan landed in a sleek Royal Air Force jet transport plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. He and Eisenhower will begin their talks Monday at Camp David, Md.

Stressing the need for British-American accord in answering Russia's new proposal for a nuclear test ban, MacMillan said:

"We have to make a joint decision about a next phase in the negotiations in Geneva."

MacMillan said it was not giving away any secret to say that he and Eisenhower found in previous meetings over the last three years that they "can work together in a practical way through these talks."

"That is why I was very glad that the President invited me to Washington for the latest in these series of meetings," he said.

Stressing the need for a joint decision, he asserted: "After all, what happens in Geneva may, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

Welcoming MacMillan at the airport, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said: "Your coming here is in accord with the long-standing practice of frequent consultations between the leaders of our two countries. We are glad to have you with us and are looking forward to exchanging views with you on the problems which are of such importance to the peace and security of the world."

The Eisenhower-MacMillan across-the-table discussions are expected to produce a firmly knit allied counter-offer to Russia's latest nuclear test ban proposals.

The thorny issue is Russia's call for a five-year moratorium on hard-to-detect small underground explosions. Eisenhower is expected to propose instead an initial moratorium limited to a maximum of one year.

6 Airlines Obeying New Safety Rules

By United Press International

The six airlines operating 96 Electra turbo-prop airliners acted immediately Saturday to obey new government safety limitations without disrupting service.

The Lockheed Aircraft Company issued a formal statement in Los Angeles saying that it would accept the new restrictions but adding a defense of its airliner.

"The initial testing program on this airplane was conducted in accordance with the most exacting criteria, and the airplane and all its components met or exceeded all requirements for air worthiness," the company said.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

The airlines affected by the FAA order are American, Eastern, Braniff, Western, Northwest and National.

9 NW Colleges to Support Sitdowns

By United Press International

Spokane - (UPI) - Delegates representing nine thousand students at eight Catholic colleges in the northwest Saturday adopted a proposal to support Negro students in the south in their "peaceful sit-downs in an effort to establish a respect for their proper rights."

The eight colleges represented at the congress included Portland University and Marylhurst College of Portland.

The bombs, apparently planted, exploded in the basement of Alvin Winn's home, in the garage of Bill R. Martin and apparently in the parked car of Walter Sherry Jr., owner of the third home.

The explosions caused extensive damage, police said, but no one was reported injured.

The impact knocked the Vipond vehicle into a telephone pole and the woman and girl were thrown to the pavement, according to police.

MacMillan Here for Talks

By United Press International

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived here late Saturday to decide with President Eisenhower on the next step in Geneva nuclear test ban talks which the Briton said "May, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind."

MacMillan landed in a sleek Royal Air Force jet transport plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. He and Eisenhower will begin their talks Monday at Camp David, Md.

Stressing the need for British-American accord in answering Russia's new proposal for a nuclear test ban, MacMillan said:

"We have to make a joint decision about a next phase in the negotiations in Geneva."

MacMillan said it was not giving away any secret to say that he and Eisenhower found in previous meetings over the last three years that they "can work together in a practical way through these talks."

"That is why I was very glad that the President invited me to Washington for the latest in these series of meetings," he said.

Stressing the need for a joint decision, he asserted: "After all, what happens in Geneva may, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

Welcoming MacMillan at the airport, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said: "Your coming here is in accord with the long-standing practice of frequent consultations between the leaders of our two countries. We are glad to have you with us and are looking forward to exchanging views with you on the problems which are of such importance to the peace and security of the world."

The Eisenhower-MacMillan across-the-table discussions are expected to produce a firmly knit allied counter-offer to Russia's latest nuclear test ban proposals.

The thorny issue is Russia's call for a five-year moratorium on hard-to-detect small underground explosions. Eisenhower is expected to propose instead an initial moratorium limited to a maximum of one year.

6 Airlines Obeying New Safety Rules

By United Press International

The six airlines operating 96 Electra turbo-prop airliners acted immediately Saturday to obey new government safety limitations without disrupting service.

The Lockheed Aircraft Company issued a formal statement in Los Angeles saying that it would accept the new restrictions but adding a defense of its airliner.

"The initial testing program on this airplane was conducted in accordance with the most exacting criteria, and the airplane and all its components met or exceeded all requirements for air worthiness," the company said.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

The airlines affected by the FAA order are American, Eastern, Braniff, Western, Northwest and National.

9 NW Colleges to Support Sitdowns

By United Press International

Spokane - (UPI) - Delegates representing nine thousand students at eight Catholic colleges in the northwest Saturday adopted a proposal to support Negro students in the south in their "peaceful sit-downs in an effort to establish a respect for their proper rights."

The eight colleges represented at the congress included Portland University and Marylhurst College of Portland.

The bombs, apparently planted, exploded in the basement of Alvin Winn's home, in the garage of Bill R. Martin and apparently in the parked car of Walter Sherry Jr., owner of the third home.

The explosions caused extensive damage, police said, but no one was reported injured.

The impact knocked the Vipond vehicle into a telephone pole and the woman and girl were thrown to the pavement, according to police.

MacMillan Here for Talks

By United Press International

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan arrived here late Saturday to decide with President Eisenhower on the next step in Geneva nuclear test ban talks which the Briton said "May, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind."

MacMillan landed in a sleek Royal Air Force jet transport plane at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. He and Eisenhower will begin their talks Monday at Camp David, Md.

Stressing the need for British-American accord in answering Russia's new proposal for a nuclear test ban, MacMillan said:

"We have to make a joint decision about a next phase in the negotiations in Geneva."

MacMillan said it was not giving away any secret to say that he and Eisenhower found in previous meetings over the last three years that they "can work together in a practical way through these talks."

"That is why I was very glad that the President invited me to Washington for the latest in these series of meetings," he said.

Stressing the need for a joint decision, he asserted: "After all, what happens in Geneva may, indeed must, affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

Welcoming MacMillan at the airport, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said: "Your coming here is in accord with the long-standing practice of frequent consultations between the leaders of our two countries. We are glad to have you with us and are looking forward to exchanging views with you on the problems which are of such importance to the peace and security of the world."

The Eisenhower-MacMillan across-the-table discussions are expected to produce a firmly knit allied counter-offer to Russia's latest nuclear test ban proposals.

The thorny issue is Russia's call for a five-year moratorium on hard-to-detect small underground explosions. Eisenhower is expected to propose instead an initial moratorium limited to a maximum of one year.

6 Airlines Obeying New Safety Rules

By United Press International

The six airlines operating 96 Electra turbo-prop airliners acted immediately Saturday to obey new government safety limitations without disrupting service.

The Lockheed Aircraft Company issued a formal statement in Los Angeles saying that it would accept the new restrictions but adding a defense of its airliner.

"The initial testing program on this airplane was conducted in accordance with the most exacting criteria, and the airplane and all its components met or exceeded all requirements for air worthiness," the company said.

It added, however, that it was determined to find out what happened, and why, in two recent Electra disasters.

The lines reported that their schedules would have to be changed slightly because of the slower flying speeds ordered by the Federal Aviation agency but that the inspection requirements would not interrupt operations.

One unanswered question was whether the airlines would have to use additional crews on Electra flights because of the slower schedules. This was a matter that was expected to be worked out after the schedules went into effect.

The airlines affected by the FAA order are American, Eastern, Braniff, Western, Northwest and National.

9 NW Colleges to Support Sitdowns

By United Press International

Spokane - (UPI) - Delegates representing nine thousand students at eight Catholic colleges in the northwest Saturday adopted a proposal to support Negro students in the south in their "peaceful sit-downs in an effort to establish a respect for their proper rights."

The eight colleges represented at the congress included Portland University and Marylhurst College of Portland.

The bombs, apparently planted, exploded in the basement of Alvin Winn's home, in the garage of Bill R. Martin and apparently in the parked car of Walter Sherry Jr., owner of the third home.

The explosions caused extensive damage, police said, but no one was reported injured.

The impact knocked the Vipond vehicle into a telephone pole and the woman and girl were thrown to the pavement, according to police.

County Health Dept. Budget Trimmed, OK'd

The Jackson county budget committee Friday afternoon approved the Jackson county health department office budget, but trimmed it from $103,140 to $101,220.

Budget committee members disallowed a $240 raise for public health nurse IV position, a $300 raise for a clerk stenographer III position and a $120 raise to a clerk typist II position.

This leaves the top public health nurse at an annual salary of $5,040, a clerk stenographer at $4,200, and the clerk typist at $3,180.

The budget committee also cut $1,500 off the department's travel allowance and added $1,000 for polio shots.

Lynn Newbury, Ashland packing house owner, said he is quite impressed with the job the public health department is doing.

The budget committee has not yet approved a requested county allocation of $2,000 as its share of the child guidance clinic operational expenses nor another $2,000 requested allotment for establishing a family counseling program to operate with the child guidance center.

Guests to Appear

County Judge Earl Miller, Circuit Court Judge Edward C. Kelly and Dr. Leonard B. Mayfield, superintendent of Medford Public Schools, will be guests of the League of Women Voters of Medford on a television program Monday