Plant Trees
Troop 121 of Gold Hill made a trip to Hoover Lake last week to plant trees. They planted golden weeping willows donated by Kershaw Nursery.

Charles Hoover talked to the girls about his plans for planting trees so that they form a definite color pattern when seen from the air. He explained how the lakes and tree planting are a way of reclaiming the desert-like land in that area. The girls

Choir Concert Friday Night To Be Varied

Variety is the keynote of the program which the Adelpian Concert choir will present in Medford Friday, April 1, under the sponsorship of Medford High School choir. The concert will be held in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Dr. Bruce Rodgers is director of the vocal group which is made up of students from the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash.

Six selections of church music from the 16th century to the present will open the concert. These will include pieces by Mendelssohn, Bruckner and Randall Thompson.

Miss Sylvia Funk, mezzo soprano, will be featured in three solos, including an aria from "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, a May Day carol and a waltz-song titled, "Carmena."

Music of the romantic period will be represented by four folk songs by Brahms and "Adagio" by Bizet, arranged by Dr. Rodgers.

Irish, English and French folk music will give the program a foreign flavor. Featured will be Miss Carol Sandford, soprano, in the Irish air, "The Meeting of the Waters," as arranged by Dr. Rodgers. Others will be, "Early One Morning," "O, Dear, What Can the Matter Be?" featuring Miss Funk and Neil Oldridge, baritone, and "Aupre de la blonde."

A highlight of the program will come when the Madrigal Singers step from the ranks of the concert choir to present three selections of vocal chamber music: "Nicolette," "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" and "In These Delightful, Pleasant Groves."

The program will conclude with American folk songs which are all-time favorites: "Poor Lonesome Cowboy," "Skip-to-m' Lou," "The Streets of Laredo" and "Nelly Bly."

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Members To Hold Parties

Beta Sigma Phi sorority members have planned two parties this week.

A "friendly venture" party for a group of young women of the Phoenix-Talent area interested in forming a new chapter will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. Floyd Eastwood, 940 Shafer lane, under the sponsorship of Alpha Beta chapter. One of the young women will be presented a life membership in the sorority, the award being based on the qualification of the young women as presented by their nominators.

A model meeting for the Phoenix-Talent group will be held April 5 at the home of Miss Jean Cardona, 224 Saguin drive.

A party for all members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority eligible for the exemplar degree will be given Thursday, March 31, at Girls Community club by the Beta Sigma Phi City council.

Entertainment will be furnished by each of the five chapters in the area, with Xi Mu, the active exemplar chapter in Medford, serving as hostess group. Any woman eligible and interested in joining a new exemplar chapter is invited to attend and may call Mrs. Cecil Davis at SPring 2-9839, or Mrs. Richard Knoll, SPring 2-2984.

Plans for the "friendly venture" party were made at a meeting of Alpha Beta chapter held at the home of Mrs. Robert Stuart, 1608 Crown avenue. A program on "The Art of Thinking" was presented by Mrs. Ronald Hall.

The date for a "shipwreck party" to be given by pledges for sorority sisters and husbands was reset for Saturday, May 7, at Thurston's Dance studio.

Election Planned In Eagle Point; Discussion Set

Eagle Point — Eagle Point High School Parent-Teacher-Student association will elect officers at a meeting set for Wednesday, March 30, in the high school library.

The nominating committee will submit the names of Mrs. Donald DeHaven for president; Kenneth Vannice, teacher, vice president; Mrs. John H. (Jerry) Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Clinton Ayres, secretary; Wallace West, student, treasurer; and Miss Janne Calloway, student, historian.

Members may make further nominations from the floor provided the consent of the nominee has been obtained. Delegates will be elected for the annual convention of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Medford April 26-28.

Clarence Davies, teacher at Eagle Point High school, will again act as moderator for a panel discussion between parent, teachers, and students on subjects submitted by persons in attendance at the meeting. A question box will be provided in the library for this purpose. A similar program proved so successful at the January meeting of the association that the program chairmen, Mrs. Donald DeHaven and Mrs. Stewart Hopper, were requested to repeat it at this meeting. The members of the panel and the subjects to be discussed will be different than last time.

A special invitation is extended to parents of students in the eighth grades of the Eagle Point, Shady Cove, and Elk-Trail schools to attend this meeting and become acquainted with the high school PTSA.

Mothers of sophomore students will serve refreshments. A food sale will be held following the meeting, and per-

Gold Hill Woman Is Honored

Gold Hill — Mrs. Thomas Robinson, a long time resident of Gold Hill was honored at an open house held March 18 at her home on Fourth avenue, in observance of her 80th birthday anniversary.

About 20 relatives and friends called during the afternoon. Among the guests were several of her friends Mrs. Robinson calls her "adopted families." These include youngsters and adults, all call her "Mom." Mrs. Robinson says her hobby is always being friendly.

She considers Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jennings her latest "adopted family" because of their kindness to her while she has been convalescing from a recent serious illness which has kept her indoors. She enjoys having company, it is said.

Highlight of the day was a surprise telephone call from a daughter, Mrs. Leo Wathen, who resides in Ordway, Colo. Another daughter, Mrs. Jewel Routh, and a son, Thomas Robinson Jr., reside in Gold Hill. She has six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Robinson was born at Walker, Mo., in 1880, and grew up in a little farming community. She attended school in a small old fashioned building called "Liberty."

Following her marriage, the honored woman lived for several years in Colorado and California, prior to coming to Gold Hill nearly thirty years ago. Since that time she has resided on Fourth avenue at the family home.

Persons attending are requested to bring, buy, or both.
