

Eleven-year-old Harold Edwards arrived in Medford last week by air from Manila in the Philippine islands and is a guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Edwards, 2092 Ridgeway drive. The youth, who made the long air flight alone, is pictured here with his cousin, Michael Paul Edwards, 13, a student at Hedrick Junior High school. Harold's father, Paul B. Edwards of Manila, is resident director in the Philippine Islands for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, known as UNESCO. The Edwards have lived in many parts of the world, and the visitor was born in Pakistan. The UNESCO director will be in the United States in May and will visit his son and relatives here. Harold's school in Manila closed for the annual vacation, which is held earlier in the year than is customary in this country.
