Prominent State Republican Dies In San Francisco

San Francisco—UPI—Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, 84, prominent in Oregon Republican politics, died in Notre Dame hospital here Tuesday.

Mrs. Gerlinger was visiting two daughters, Mrs. Harley C. Stevens and Mrs. Robert C. Kirkwood.

Mrs. Gerlinger was born at Newburgh-on-Hudson, N. Y., and lived in Arizona and San Diego, Calif., before traveling to Oregon in 1903.

She was married to George T. Gerlinger, who died in 1948. She was cited as Portland's "Woman of the Year" in 1957 for a long list of accomplishments.

Prominent AT UO
She was the first woman to serve on the board of Regents of the University of Oregon, holding a position on the board for 15 years.

She was instrumental in obtaining for the school several of its buildings, including Gerlinger Hall, named in her honor, and the Prince Campbell art museum.

Founder of Council
Mrs. Gerlinger was founder of the Council of Oregon Republican Women, serving three terms as president. She served two terms as Republican national committee woman for Oregon. She was founder of The Dalles Women's club, The Dalles public library and vice president of Pacific College (now George Fox College).

In addition to two daughters here, she is survived by another daughter in Portland, Mrs. William Swindels, a brother, Roscoe E. Hazard of San Diego, Calif., six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Visitors viewing the collection will have a chance to become acquainted with the works of a number of American and European artists, according to Miss Catherine Carter, art instructor.

Discrimination Case Expected To Wind Up Today

Portland—UPI—A hearing brought under a new Oregon law in which a Negro couple claims they were denied the right to purchase a home was expected to wind up today.

Russell A. Peyton, civil rights investigator for the state labor commissioner, testified Tuesday and said the matter was brought to a hearing after the civil rights division became convinced "that some discrimination had taken place."

Peyton testified that a Portland home builder, now deceased, had refused in 1959 to construct a house for Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Wiley although the couple offered to pay cash for the construction and a lot. He said the builder believed competitors had put the couple up to buying the house "to embarrass him."

Wiley testified Tuesday he believed he was discriminated against. He said he was turned down for a loan of $12,000 after offering to pay $5,300 down. After this, he said he offered to pay cash.

Wiley said he is employed at Tektronix, Inc., and averages about $450 a month gross pay. He also works as a substitute waiter at the Benson hotel and makes about $150 a month there, he said.

Attorneys for the real estate and mortgage firms named in the case have denied there was any discrimination. They said the evidence is that they sought to sell the couple a home and obtain a loan for them.

Commerce Officer Visits in Medford
Harold K. Cherry, manager of the Portland field office of the U.S. department of commerce, was a Medford visitor yesterday.

While here he conferred with Don McNeil, manager of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, which serves as a local outlet for many of the informational bulletins and services furnished businessmen by the department.

Cherry reported that a survey of this area will be made by representatives of his office soon, to determine certain factors relating principally to foreign trade, and which will be of benefit to local businesses engaged in foreign commerce.

He also reported that, while his office has little to do with making and compiling 1960 census figures, it will serve as the distribution agency for information produced by the decennial headcount.

Cherry stated that his office has a wide variety of government publications which provide information of interest to many businesses, and that additional information on these can be obtained either at the chamber office here, or at his field office in room 217, Old U.S. Courthouse, 520 S.W. Morrison st., Portland 4.

HORACE BLAKEWAY
Horace Jackson Blakeway, 80, a resident of Medford since last July and father of Mrs. Nita Birdseye, 2234 Hanley rd., died in a local hospital yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Blakeway, the son of William D. and Armilda Hillary Blakeway, was born near Burlington, Ia., Aug. 4, 1878. When he was a young boy he came with his parents to the west coast where the family settled in Esparto, Calif. It was here that Mr. Blakeway started the first garage, which later became an automobile sales agency, which he owned and operated for many years.

He was married in Santa Rosa, Calif., Oct. 19, 1902, to Mary Emaline Richardson, who survives. The couple came to Medford last July to live near their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Birdseye.

Besides his wife and daughter, he is survived by two sons, Marvin J. Blakeway, of Sacramento, and Carman H. Blakeway, Calif.; one brother, Sherman E. Blakeway, of Esparto; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Chapel Mortuary is in charge of funeral services which are tentatively set for 2:30 p. m. Friday at the graveside in the Capay cemetery in Esparto.

SOC Students to Participate in Mock UN Session

Ashland—Seven members of the International Relations Club of Southern Oregon college left today for the Model United Nations on the University of California campus in Berkeley. The delegation will represent the country of Iran.

Dave Dickerson, SOC student from Ashland, will fly to Berkeley from Cambridge, Mass., where he has been attending the national IRC convention, to lead the delegation. Betty Berg, Medford, is co-chairman of the group, and will serve on the interim committee at the conference.

Aida Okamoto, SOC student from Peru, will act as a committee member on the social, cultural, and humanitarian council. Mike Carson, from Alaska, is SOC's representative on the political, legal, and economic policy committee.

Franklyn Mahar and Helene Lamika, both students from Medford, are unassigned committee members.

Delegation Adviser
Advisor for the delegation and faculty leader of the IRC is Dr. Clifford Miller, who will travel with the group and serve as observer at the model UN.

As a part of the IRC's public relations program to foster more knowledge of Southern Oregon college and Jackson county, the group plans to distribute information material to the delegates from 84 other institutions of higher education represented at the conference.

Among the states sending delegates are Idaho, Washington, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Arizona, Alaska, and Hawaii.

The Southern Oregon college delegation will return April 10. The students plan to present a complete report on the Model UN to the students through a color slide show later. A report will be presented to residents of the southern Oregon area on a panel discussion over KBES-TV, April 23, on the "Higher Education and You" program presented by Southern Oregon college Saturdays at 11 a. m.

Coos Judge New President Of Coast Group
Oceanlake—UPI—The Oregon Coast Association wound up its 30th annual convention Tuesday by electing Coos County Judge James Harrison as president.

He succeeds Tom Becker of Newport. Lester Roy, mayor of Seaside, was elected vice president. Re-elected were Secretary Joe Meuse of Tillamook and Treasurer Bill McKeivitt of Newport.

The group voted to hold next year's meeting in Coos Bay. The Association went on record as opposing proposed billboard legislation. Members also said it would hurt those who depend upon highway advertising.

Survey Resolution
Another resolution called for hiring a national survey organization to look into the problem of state parks on the coast. Some motel and cafe operators complained that state-owned parks were competing with their business.

The group's natural resource commission went on record as favoring more intensive conservation methods to be used to preserve sports and commercial fishing.

Laws of Physical World Always Existed; Part of God

By DR. C. T. HAWES
Superintendent, Utah-Western District of the Methodist Church
Written for UPI
"Be still, and know that I am God . . . Psalm 40:10.
God is the source of all wisdom. In these days when man has learned so much and is learning still more, some fear we learn more than God knows. But man is learning the laws of the physical world that have always existed and are part of God and God's world.

God is our creator and heavenly father. These two must be thought of together. God created us as spiritual beings, with an eternal spirit that endures all changes and keeps the person unified as the body undergoes changes of life. God made man in His own image that man might commune with God, who is his father. Man cannot destroy the spiritual creation of God.

God is divine. As humans, we need something, someone, greater to whom to turn. We still and know that God is divine, creator and Father of all men.

Log Truck Wreck Kills Tenmile Man
Roseburg—UPI—A log truck went off Highway 42 and rolled over Tuesday, killing one man and injuring another.

John Harold Addison, 43, Tenmile, was dead on arrival at Community hospital here. His brother-in-law, Theodore Earl Anderson, 47, also of Tenmile, was hospitalized with undetermined injuries.

State police said it took more than an hour to remove the injured man from the truck, and about 1 1/2 hours to remove the body.

The accident occurred about 12:30 a. m., five miles west of Tenmile. Police said the truck, heading west, failed to make it around a curve, went into a ditch and rolled over into about 18 inches of water. The cab was crushed.

The truck was empty and was hauling a pole trailer.
