

Appling Concedes Error Made in Ballot Printing

Salem—An error in the listing of a Democratic candidate for delegate to the national convention on Oregon's primary ballot was attacked Thursday by State Sen. Monroe Sweetland (D-Milwaukie) as a "serious and expensive" blunder.

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. conceded the error had been made by a woman in the state elections division.

Elections Director Jack Thompson said in checking with private printing firms in Portland printing ballots on contract with various counties that the entire Democratic ballot for Deschutes county had been run off before the mistake was discovered.

Klamath, Douglas Affected
Gene Conklin, Pendleton, was listed as a state-at-large delegate to the national convention when actually he is a candidate for 2nd congressional district delegate to the convention.

Thompson said the only other ballots affected as far as he knew was Klamath county, of which 15 of its 74 precincts were already run, and about one-third of the Douglas county ballot.

Clerks in the affected counties have the responsibility of deciding whether the ballots are to be rerun or whether the error may be corrected in other ways. The extra expense must be borne by the counties, which pay to have their own ballots printed.

Sweetland Critic
A spokesman at Beatty Printing Company in Portland where the Deschutes ballot was run said he did not know if the 6,000 ballots would be rerun or corrected with a blackout and an insertion. He had no estimate as to how much expense was involved.

Appling was en route to Seaside to address the Bowling Proprietors Association and was not available for further comment.

Sweetland, a Democratic candidate for nomination as secretary of state, criticized Appling and Thompson. He suggested that in the "interest of accuracy" Appling recall former state elections Chief David O'Hara, now retired.

Appling said the mistakes in listing Conklin had been caught before Sweetland's charges.

Second Powell Tax Count Dismissed

New York—Federal Judge Frederick Vanpelit Bryman Thursday dismissed a second of the three income tax evasion counts on which Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. is on trial.

He denied a defense motion to throw out the one remaining count, which charges him with preparing a false and fraudulent return for his wife in 1951.

The count dismissed today had charged the Negro congressman and minister with evading payment of $1,399.69 in taxes on the 1951 return. Testimony during the trial had indicated that errors made by others in filling out the tax form had virtually wiped out the alleged deficiency.

Bryman had dismissed another count of the indictment Tuesday after the government conceded it had failed to produce evidence to sustain its charge that Powell had prepared a fraudulent joint return for himself and his wife in 1952.

now...a luxury BROADLOOM that's STAIN-RESISTANT!

Unlike ordinary broadloom, the yarn in this fabulous broadloom is solution dyed. This means the colors go all the way through each strand of yarn. It's a new process, far superior to any other—the strands are color saturated, not merely coated with color. No amount of water will affect the colors. And remember, the locked-in coloring of this famous broadloom guarantees its rich beauty all throughout its long life. No amount of wear can change the beautiful shading.

- Velvety, deep-piled, moth-proof, stain and spot resistant!
- Rich blend gives longer wear, more luxury and beauty!
- Easy cleaning, too! Locked-in tufts won't pull out!
- Fine quality jute backing coated with latex makes carpets skidproof!
