New York - UPI - The next time Cus D'Amato is asked to drop into the state attorney general's office for a little chat he must honor the invitation.

Otherwise the veteran boxing manager could wind up in jail.

D'Amato was fined $250 and given a suspended 30-day jail sentence Friday for failing to answer a subpoena from the state attorney general last November.

Justice William Ringel, in delivering the sentence in Special Sessions Court, warned D'Amato "the 30-day suspended sentence depends upon your good behavior."

Harris Resignation Rumored at Oregon

Eugene - UPI - Leo Harris said Friday he had "absolutely no comment" on reports he was quitting as athletic director at the University of Oregon.

Reports were that Harris would resign at Oregon to take a similar post at a school in the San Francisco bay area. Harris has held the Oregon post since 1947. He graduated from Stanford in 1927 where he earned three letters in football as tackle. He was head coach of Fresno High school and Fresno State college before coming to Oregon.

Portland - UPI - Portland's slugging third baseman, George Freese, who suffered a foot infection in a California spring training game Tuesday night, flew home here Friday for a brief visit with his family and a checkup.

United Press International The National league's opening day pitching assignments for next Tuesday are complete and the fans are going to see some mighty fine hurling if final tuneups are a true guide.

Based on recent performances, old stand-bys like Warren Spahn, Robin Roberts, and Don Drysdale are ready, and there's a bright newcomer in Jim Brosnan, who will open for the Cincinnati Reds against the Philadelphia Phils. Here's the opening day pitching setup after Friday's games:

St. Louis (Mizell or Jackson) vs. San Francisco (Antonelli). Pittsburgh (Friend) vs. Milwaukee (Spahn). Philadelphia (Roberts) vs. Cincinnati (Brosnan). Chicago (Hobbie) vs. Los Angeles, night (Drysdale). Drysdale, Brosnan, Roberts and Spahn all "tuned up" with strong efforts Friday as the National league's exhibition campaign neared a close. The American league exhibition season is extended another week because it does not open until April 18.

Gonzales Plans To Quit Tour

Vienna - UPI - Pancho Gonzales plans to quit Jack Kramer's pro tennis tour following today's matches at Nice, France.

"I'm physically tired and I don't want to impair my health," the husky Californian said. Gonzales admitted his contract with Kramer runs through next December but he said he has no intention of completing it.

Practice Putt Nets Penalty

Augusta, Ga. - UPI - Everyone generally jokes about the 19th hole but there wasn't a bit of laughter in it for down-hearted Dow Finsterwald.

Finsterwald should have been leading the Masters Friday with a classy 139 total for two rounds. Instead, he was one stroke back of Arnold Palmer with 141 and thereby hung a tale of all the harm practicing can do.

The 30-year-old Finsterwald sweated it out for almost a half hour on the 18th green after finishing his round Friday waiting to learn whether the officials had decided to disqualify him or not.

When they finally made up their minds to invoke a two-stroke penalty on him, changing his opening day score from 69 to 71, Dow walked outside the ropes that guard the 18th green and told reporters.

"The ruling is by far the best I could have hoped for," he said. "I putted just off the fifth green in the opening round Thursday." Finsterwald explained. "There is no question about it being a breach of the rules. It says so plainly on the back of the scorecard."

"At the time I did it, I was playing with Ken Venturi. I started doing the same thing today (Friday), but Billy Casper, who was playing with me, pointed out that I couldn't tell him I had done it today."

Red Raider Tracksters Take Meet

Ashland - Southern Oregon college depth paid dividends in track and field Friday. The Red Raiders utilized this asset to win a three-way meet at Monmouth. Scores were SOC 75 1/3, Oregon college 46 1/3 and Pacific 59 1/3.

The Red Raiders won five clear cut firsts and tied for two others.

Charles Swingle won the quarter mile in :53 on a day in which marks were held down by rain, wind and cold. Stu Baker running into the wind in the 100-yard dash and finishing against the breeze in the 220 nabbed both events in :10.5 and :23.3. Swingle and Baker teamed with Ora Banister and Don Story to take the mile relay in 3:35.7. Don Korth captured the javelin with 169-9.

John Harvey established a Southern Oregon school record when he tied at 12 feet 4 inches with Colin Morse of OCE for first in the pole vault. Mike Maki, SOC, knotted with two others for first in the high jump at 5-4.

Bannister was second in the 220 and in the quarter mile and Story and Johnny Jones, second and fourth, respectively. In the 100, Howard Hartman took third and Sid Smith fourth for SOC in the high hurdles, Ken Coffman second and Dave Graham third in the half-mile. Hartman second and Smith fourth in the low hurdles and Jones second and Story third in the broad jump.

Len Dobry took second and Bill Stewart third for SOC in the shot put and discus and Bill Guthrie was fourth in the javelin and John Sorenson fourth in the two-mile.

Each school won five first places. Raider Coach Dan Bulkley said that he was pleased with the improvement shown by his squad which will oppose Chico State next Saturday.

Portland - UPI - Portland's slugging third baseman, George Freese, who suffered a foot infection in a California spring training game Tuesday night, flew home here Friday for a brief visit with his family and a checkup.

Tornado Crushes Ashland in Pair

Medford High school's Black Tornado thundered into the defense of its Southern Oregon conference baseball banner Friday. The Tornado smothered the Ashland Grizzlies 21 to 2 then, for good measure took a 3 to 0 no-hit victory over the Lithia city team in a non-counting second game.

The bat of power-swatting Lowell Dean resounded again. Dean clubbed four hits in five times at bat and drove in eight runs. Three of his smashes were doubles. The big first baseman socked three for three and brought in six runs in the league engagement.

Medford pitcher Herb Wheeler held the Grizzlies to four hits in the opener. He struck out five batters and walked only three. All three free passes came in the seventh inning when he tired. A double play on centerfielder Wayne Thompson's catch and throw to Ray Konopasek at second base bailed the hurler out and ended the game.

Medford pitcher Herb Wheeler held the Grizzlies to four hits in the opener. He struck out five batters and walked only three. All three free passes came in the seventh inning when he tired. A double play on centerfielder Wayne Thompson's catch and throw to Ray Konopasek at second base bailed the hurler out and ended the game.

Bob Quinney, chucking three innings, and Pat McLoughlin, going two, held the Ashlanders hitless in the second scrape.

Ashland did the first scoring in the conference scuffle when Paul Alley got on base on an error in the first inning and Dave Jackson tripled him home. But Medford came back with nine runs in the same canto on eight straight hits, two errors, three walks and a hit batter.

Ken Durkee and Ken Jensen cracked triples and Dick Ragsdale, Cal and Lowell Dean, Mike Parsons, Jerry Anderson and Ray Konopasek singles. Cal Dean's was a blast too hot for second baseman Brad Gettling and Parson's hit was on a tough chance for starting pitcher Duane Nelson.

The first seven hits and seven runs were off Nelson, who was relieved by Bob King with one out in the frame.

Three Medford markers crossed in the third inning on a walk, a hit batter, a double by Lowell Dean, a groundout by Parsons and an error. Five runs came home in the fourth panel on Konopasek and Lowell Dan doubles, a Jensen single, two errors, a base on balls and a fielder's choice rap by Dick Ragsdale. Four more were in the sixth turn at bat on a Cal Dean double, Bob Quinney single, two walks, an error and Thompson's groundout.

Cal Dean had three runs batted in for the game and Quinney and Jensen each two. Ragsdale crossed the plate for five Tornado runs. Ashland gave its second run in the fourth inning on a Steve Harris double and an error.

All Medford tallies in the second game were in the third inning on a hit batter, Ken Durkee's single, a base on balls, Cal Dean's sacrifice fly.

Medford Gains Net Upset Over Eureka

Medford high tennis team, with Gary Cummings taking a key singles match and John McKinley in singles and Jim Randles and Dave Ryn in doubles turning in sparkling triumphs, defeated the strong Eureka, Calif., aggregation 4 to 3 on the Tornado courts on Friday.

Friday's marked only the third loss for Eureka over a three-year period. In this time the Logger netters have played 95 matches, including their summer tourney competition. All the Eureka losses have been 4 to 3.

Coach Bob Huff termed Medford's performance against the Eurekaans, who are more experienced through their more intense summer program, the best this year and said that the match ranked as one of the top efforts by the Tornado in his two seasons as mentor of the team.
