

Mrs. Ted Jones, Tacoma, (center) was in Medford last week to speak for two meetings. Mrs. Jones is shown here with Miss Alice Kreiner, (at left) Kansas City, an area representative for Christian Business and Professional Women's clubs and of Christian Women's clubs, and Mrs. Lloyd Neilson, hostess for Miss Kreiner and Mrs. Jones during their stay in Medford. Mrs. Jones spoke for a Thursday night meeting of Medford Christian Business and Professional Women's clubs, being reorganized here, and Friday noon for a meeting of the newly organized Medford Christian Women's club, both at Rogue Valley Country club.

Christian Women's Groups Hear Speaker From Tacoma

The need for continued effort by those dedicated to the advancement of the Christian religion was stressed at two meetings for women held in Medford last week. Thursday night the reorganized Christian Business and Professional Women's club met at Rogue Valley Country club for dinner, and Friday noon a luncheon was held by Christian Women's club, also at the Country club.

About 40 were present for Thursday's dinner meeting, and almost 100 for the luncheon Friday noon. Speaker for both meetings was Mrs. Ted Jones, Tacoma. Mrs. Jones spoke of her early belief, saying she grew up believing that "no man cared for my soul," of her conversion to Christianity and how her life had been happier and more meaningful since.

Miss Helen A. Nichols, an area representative for the two groups, presided at the meetings. She spoke of the need for making Christianity available in the rural areas of America and stated that many rural communities have no churches. She told of the recent organization of a church at Ophir, Ore., and said that this community, in existence for 100 years, had never before had a church.

Entertainment for both the Thursday and Friday meetings was provided by Mrs. Maude Coddling of Hadley's store who staged a fashion show of hats. Mrs. Coddling

Final Concert Announced

Ruth Slenczynska, pianist, will give the final concert of the season for Jackson County Civic Music association. It is booked for Sunday, April 24, at Medford High school auditorium.

Miss Slenczynska played her first concert in Oakland, Calif., at the age of four years, at five years was pronounced "the greatest pianistic genius since Mozart" and studied in Europe under such great teachers as Petri and Schnabel. Returning to New York City, she gave a concert at Town Hall at the age of seven and it was reported on the front page of the Times as an "electrifying experience."

The child pianist played for nine more years and then, in an effort to break the influence of her father and his "Svengali-like" influence, retired from the music scene and entered the University of California. Five years ago Miss Slenczynska returned to her career and has since given about 600 concerts. Critics have termed her one of the greatest of concert pianists, ranking her with Rachmaninoff and Horowitz.

Band and Chorus Present Program For Camp White

Shady Cove-Trail - The Shady Cove band and chorus were presented in a program April 6 at the Camp White dormitory. The program was sponsored by the Ladies auxiliary to Steelhead post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Gary Monical, band director, took charge of both the band and vocal numbers.

Mrs. Edward Learning is program chairman for the auxiliary.

Xi Mu Chapter Slates Meeting

Xi Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet Wednesday, April 13 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Hubbard, 3562 Jacksonville highway.

Mrs. Veri Walker will be co-hostess.

A program on the "Enjoyment of Nature" will be given by Mrs. Hubbard, who will have as her topic, "Astronomy."

Actor Slated For Appearances At Conferences

Philip Hanson, well known actor-director of the Shakespearean festivals at Ashland, Oregon and San Diego, Calif., has just completed a major tour of the West Coast with his one-man presentation of Shakespearean scenes and characters entitled "Kings and Clowns."

As a result of the high praise accorded him by critics and audiences, the actor has been invited for guest appearances at three leading theatrical gatherings. On May 14, he will appear at regional conference of The American National Theatre and Academy of California at Arcata; August 29, following meetings on the subject of acting and directing the artist will appear at the national convention of the American Educational Theatre association at Denver, Colo.

The Western Speech convention will present "Kings and Clowns" as a feature in drama and interpretation November 24 when they meet at Corvallis, Ore.

The Shakespearean actor toured many universities and colleges last fall and winter receiving plaudits from professors and newspaper critics alike. Washington State university termed "Kings and Clowns" "an absorbing and rewarding theatrical experience."

After a high school performance in Spokane, the newspaper, Spokesman Review reported "A storm of applause, shouts of 'more' and 'bravo' indicated that the classic theater is not dead nor unwanted."

Mr. Hanson is now at work rehearsing two more one-man shows to add to his present repertoire which includes "Moby Dick," a performance soon to open in San Francisco along with "Kings and Clowns."

Kitchen Hats To Be Sold By Eagle Point Unit

Eagle Point - All women in the Eagle Point community are asked to make a hat of kitchen utensils or products used within the kitchen and wear it to a meeting of Eagle Point Home Extension unit Thursday, April 14, at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Edward Hayes, Big Horn road.

These hats will be auctioned for the money-making project of the year to help pay expenses of the baby-sitter hired for the care of the youngsters of mothers attending the meetings. Each hat should have cost ticket concealed within for the auctioneer's benefit.

Election of officers will be held.

Plans for the coming spring festival will be discussed following a report from the representatives from the combined area units.

Mrs. Otto Nagel and Mrs. M. Heckenberger will present the project lesson on "Care and Handling of Synthetic Fabrics and Fibers" following luncheon.

The president, Mrs. Don Kimmel, asked that each one attending bring an article of food for the helping hand basket for the unit has been giving each month.

Mrs. Donald Pulley will have child care at her home on West Main street just beyond the railroad tracks, and asks that each youngster bring a sack lunch.

A mild soapuds, a clear rinse, and a dry, soft cloth will keep your chrome utensils looking like new. To polish chrome, just use a soft cloth.

New York—Millinery fashion puts a lady in the shade this summer as New York's top designers introduce the "sunbrella" for 1960. High crowned to guarantee cool heads and big-brimmed for shelter from the sun, the "sunbrella" will star in every millinery collection, regardless of price. ## Women's News Social Events

Britons Resent Snub of Royalty

London—The blue chip social stock of Britain's royal family took a tumble today because of the poor response of European nobility to Princess Margaret's marriage next month.

To many Britons, the blow to national prestige recalled the rough-and-tumble days when King Edward VIII was courting the American divorcee, Wallis Simpson.

With only 24 days left before the marriage of Princess Margaret to Antony Armstrong-Jones—a commoner with a record of divorce in his family—it already was clear the bulk of continental nobility preferred to stay away.

The Queen and all those close to her steadfastly refused any comment on the situation and went ahead with plans to make the princess's wedding in Westminster Abbey May 6 a truly memorable event.

The press and public, however, did not attempt to hide increasing indignation over what they considered a monumental "snub" by Scandinavian and other royal houses—directly attributable to Margaret's choice of a marriage partner.

Choir Slates Concert Here

The 40-voice choir of Whitworth college, Spokane, Wash., will present a concert in First Presbyterian church here Monday, April 18, at 8 p.m.

Professor Milton Johnson, head of the college music department, is directing the group for the third year. The group will present sacred and secular concerts in 20 different cities in Washington, Oregon and California during the tour.

Traveling with the choir and augmenting the program will be Thomas Tavener, tenor, member of the college music faculty.

Bethel to Hold Friendship Night

Shady Cove—Shady Cove Bethel, International Order of Job's Daughters, has made plans for a friendship night April 23. Members of the Bethel at Bandon, Ore., Shady Cove's "buddy Bethel" will be guests.

A swimming party and a slumber party are also planned for the week end.

Friday, April 29, the Shady Cove Bethel will give a dinner for members of Cascade lodge, A.F.&A.M. The dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Ham-Egg Salad

Leftover ham and hard-cooked eggs become a delicious salad. Dice and combine them with chopped celery. Stir instant minced onion, dried dill and mustard into mayonnaise before tossing with the other salad ingredients.

A nut pick may be used to remove corks, to punch holes in sifting-cans, to untie hard knots, and to clean seams in cooking utensils.

Turkey Buffet Suggested For Easter

Easter Sunday usually finds the lady of the house in a state of confusion. First, there are the children to spruce up for Sunday school or the Easter Parade. Then she's got to prepare a dinner to fit this once-a-year festive occasion.

This poses a problem for the homemaker. What should she fix?

"Why not serve a turkey buffet on Easter Sunday? This is a smart way to make the most of the festive, joyous occasion. And it can be prepared without the worry and fuss of a regular holiday 'sit down' meal. Most of the work can be done the day before.

Menu

Here's the menu: fruit cocktail, cold roast turkey, hot giblet dressing, applesauce, buttered potatoes and fresh frozen peas, tossed green salad with Roquefort dressing, hot garlic bread, and strawberry shortcake.

On the Saturday before Easter, roast an unstuffed turkey, 4 to 30 pounds, depending on the size of your family or the number of your guests. Put it in the refrigerator to thoroughly chill before Easter. Use giblets and broth in your favorite dressing recipe to add flavor. Keep dressing refrigerated until ready to bake for dinner.

Cocktail, Salad and Bread

The day before Easter you can also prepare the fruit cocktail and chill in the refrigerator. You can clean and prepare the greens for your salad and store in the crisper. Garlic bread can be prepared, wrapped tightly in aluminum foil, and stored in the refrigerator before heating in the oven.

Make your applesauce or serve canned applesauce. Cook a slice or two of lemon, rind and all, with your apples to add flavor to your sauce.

Prepare potatoes and place in water. Make the shortcake with prepared biscuit mix, according to the directions on the package, and store in the refrigerator. Leave frozen strawberries in the package and thaw in refrigerator overnight.

What To Do Easter

The work on Easter is then cut to the bare minimum.

When ready to cook, drain and add a small quantity of water to the potatoes. Add frozen peas to the cooking potatoes. When ready to serve, drain and add butter lavishly. Toss the salad.

Heat garlic bread in the oven. Bake dressing. Garnish turkey with strawberries and greenery. Decorate table with fresh spring flowers.

Bake shortcake while the main course is being eaten. Then spoon crushed strawberries generously over hot buttered biscuit cakes. Top with whipped cream.

Daughters Hold Election

Mrs. Elmer Ness was elected grand regent of Medford court, Catholic Daughters of America, at the last meeting of the group. Also elected to office were Mrs. William Dugan, vice-regent; Mrs. Florence Lance, financial secretary; Mrs. Robert Hamelin, historian; Mrs. Lawrence Duff, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Pruitt, monitor; Mrs. George Davy, prophetess; Mrs. John Laferriere, lecturer; Mrs. Lee Pendergast, organist; Mrs. Alvin Schmitt, sentinel.

Serving three-year terms as trustees will be Mrs. Lee Dugan and Mrs. Paul Newcomb. Installation will be in June.

Mrs. Fred Rankin, state chairman of community services on the Oregon State Council on Aging, was speaker. Mrs. Rankin stressed the need for volunteers to visit the nursing homes, furnish transportation for the senior citizens to and from Fifty Plus club meetings and for teachers at the Senior center.

Many other opportunities are available for persons who are interesting in working with the aged, she said.

Altrusa Club

Members of Medford Altrusa club will gather at the Medford hotel Thursday, April 14, for a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Maisie Daily and Mrs. Winifred Mack.

Vocational information chairman, Mrs. Enid Rankin, will be in charge of the program.

Relatives Attend Ashland Event

Hornbrook—Mrs. Martin Stryker and her daughter, Mrs. John Zanotto, Ashland, attended an open house April 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis in Ashland.

The event honored Mrs. Davis' father and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Bem, Ashland. Mrs. Bem, before her recent marriage, was Mrs. K. B. Dowler of Hornbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Stryker then spent the remainder of the week with the Zanottos, returning home on Saturday.
