The Medical Roundup

Heavy Smoking and Body Build

Everyone knows today that a high percentage of the men who show up in their 50s or 60s with a cancer of the lung have been heavy cigarette smokers. The problem many physicians now face is that of wriggling out of the most obvious assumption which is that the heavy cigarette-smoking caused the cancers. One way of wriggling out is to assume that the man who has a strong tendency to get cancer of the lung starts out in life with a strong tendency to smoke. Now comes a group of investigators who, for some time, have been studying the build and temperament and interest in athletics of 252 Harvard College men who were sophomores in the years from 1938 to 1942. Carl C. Seltzer (Science, Dec. 18, 1959) reports that while 3.3 per cent of the non-smokers showed some weakness of the masculine component, 9.6 of the moderate smokers showed this, and 17.2 per cent of the heavier smokers showed it. Many of the less masculine smokers had shown an aversion to strenuous exercise and sports, and were low in physical fitness for hard muscular work. Many had poor muscular coordination. Many were sensitive persons, with a considerable degree of nevous instalability; many were able, creative and intuitive, and many had a tendency to be shy, asocial and self-conscious. As Seltzer says, these observations must now be confirmed by studies on large numbers of people; also we will have to study men with cancer of the lung to see if many fall into this temperamental group.

DR. ALVAREZ

Woman Who Wanted Impressive Diagnosis

During the years in which I worked in a large clinic, I had many a woman come to me and say, "After examining me thoroughly with many tests and many x-ray films, your associate says there isn't a thing wrong with me. Now, what is worrying me is that every evening at the boarding house, everyone has to tell what disease he or she has, and what am I going to say? I will be too ashamed to admit that I have nothing. I'd be so proud, and I'd be looked up to no end if I had some rare disease with a long name that no one of the other boarders has ever heard of." I'd then give such women the term hebephrenia hemicranica transitoria (dull days of people with migraine). That sent them off happy—with a most impressive diagnosis.

Dr. Alvarez' booklet on menopause may be obtained by sending 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.

Grange News

Griffin Creek

The last meeting of Griffin Creek Grange started with a potluck dinner. Following the meal a representative of the California Oregon Power company showed a film which showed the procedure in the new mouth-to-mouth or rescue breathing operation. The projector was loaned by Griffin Creek school.

Two young men interested in Boy Scout work spoke on Scouting, its activities and history. The Grange later voted to sponsor and support the Griffin Creek troop of Boy Scouts.

Reports were given by the various committees during business meeting. Marge Mero reported on the rummage sale and Master Kamping commented on the countywide Grange picnic held April 11.

It was mentioned that the water pump trouble has solved itself, trouble being no water. Attention of the Grangers was called to the new placement of the pennants.

Lloyd Hamlin, Jessie Hamlin and Earl Croft were presented 25 year membership pins.

Letters were read from the Christliebs and Elsa Werner.

Upper Rogue

Master Eda Torrance conducted the April 7 meeting of the Upper Rogue Grange and State Lecture Victor Croxton, Sams Valley Grange, was escorted to the master's station. He spoke briefly.

Harold Barber reminded members to register so they can vote in the May 20 state primary election and the national election in November.

A petition was passed for members to sign in regards to billboards along highways. Caroline Harding was escorted to the master's station and Mr. Croxton presented her a "perfect" award for conducting programs for the year of 1959 while she was lecturer.

The Home Economics club meeting will be held Thursday, April 14, with a 1 p.m. luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bob Chamberlain, Rogue-Elk.

The next Grange meeting will be Thursday, April 21. A potluck supper will be served at 7 p.m. with a social hour following. A food sale was held recently, with the money to help pay for the installation of a new water pump.

Cliff Snodgrass and Ted Schimek modeled Easter hats for the women.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carlton, Ashland, and Mrs. Hazel Ulrich, Prospect, served refreshments.

FEARS RABBIT EXPLOSION

Jackson, Miss. — (UPI) — The Mississippi House of Representatives approved a bill Monday to shorten the hunting season for rabbits despite a warning by Rep. Jimmie Brassfield—"this might result in us being overrun by them."

FLUNKS SCOOTER TEST

Bradford, England—(UPI)—Bus driver Ken Davison, who has driven buses more than 900,000 miles, Monday failed to pass his test for a license to drive a motor scooter.
