May Fellowship Luncheon Plans Nearing Completion

Program and luncheon plans for the annual May Fellowship luncheon, sponsored each year by the Medford Council of United Church Women, are nearing completion, according to Mrs. Everett Lasher and Mrs. Lyle Schoppert, co-chairman for the event.

The luncheon is to be held in the YMCA building on Friday, May 6, at 12 noon. Tickets may be purchased from representatives of the several affiliated churches of the Medford council.

Since the theme for 1960 is "Citizenship-Free and Responsible," emphasis throughout the program period will be focused on the responsibility of Christian citizens with regards to political issues in this election year. Mrs. C. E. Wilson in her talk on "Responsibility of the Christian Woman," will stress the importance of careful consideration of all measures presented on the ballot and a study of the desirability of candidates seeking office.

Young People
Included in the talks by Miss Shirley Boswell, Tri Hi Y, and Robert Baker, Hi Y, members who recently represented their groups at sessions of the state legislature in Salem from the local YMCA.

Robert was chairman of the judicial and finance committee and spoke before the legislative body. Miss Pat Bigham, also a representative from Medford, was chaplain of the senate for the two day sessions, and will also participate at the luncheon program. The young people will discuss "What Legislature Means to Us."

Musical numbers are also to be featured during the luncheon period.

Actor Adding 'Moby Dick' To One-Man Repertory

Ashland — Shakespearean performer Philip Hanson, long known for his acting-directing at the festivals at Ashland and San Diego, Calif., has prepared Herman Melville's novel "Moby Dick" for theatrical presentation as a solo performance.

The first major opening since the tryout appearance at the University of Idaho, is slated for presentation at the Contemporary Dancer's center, 1725 Washington street, in San Francisco May 28.

Lake Creek Women Elect New Officers

Lake Creek — Mrs. Murray Bartling was elected chairman of Lake Creek Home Extension unit recently at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Foster Swiger.

Others elected were Mrs. Joe Arens, vice chairman; and Mrs. Ernest Burrell, secretary-treasurer.

Twelve members attended. The project, lesson, "Care and Handling of Synthetics," was given by Mrs. Murray Bartling and Mrs. Willard Walch. Members were given the instructions in washing the new fabrics and the meaning of some of the new names given to fabrics. Exchange of ideas between members was also held. Several women displayed Easter eggs that they had learned to make from Mrs. A. Case.

The May meeting on patio cookery will be held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Osterman. Project leaders will be Mrs. Ira Woolfolk and Mrs. David Woolfolk.

This will be in conjunction with the actor's current success "Kings and Clowns," a Shakespearean potpourri which will appear at the same theater May 27.

Adding another dimension to his talents, the performer will sing sea chanties and accompany himself on a small harp. Similar to the Shakespearean piece, this presentation features the actor in solo performance playing all the parts and using no scenery except for a bench and a chair.

Even with these simple effects it is reported that Mr. Hanson is capable of bringing the entire sweep of the novel with all of the atmosphere of the sea and the whale-hunt. He portrays some 50 characters in "Kings and Clowns" playing all of the roles in entire scenes from the plays of Shakespeare. In "Moby Dick," the actor is not as busy, but still busy enough, playing some 15 characters from the novel.

This is but one in a series of programs which the actor will offer to audiences in repertory. Another work now in rehearsal features pieces from American Literature.
