

Tornado Entertains Yreka This Tuesday

Our toughest game so far this season.

That is what Coach John Kovenz anticipates when his Medford high baseball team opposes Yreka, Calif., here on Tuesday afternoon. The non-league scuffle is set for 4 p.m.

The teams have met no common foes. But Yreka has split with the strong Klamath Falls Pelicans and has topped Crater. Both Klamath and Crater are Southern Oregon conference foes of Medford.

The Miners of Yreka have a good pitcher in Jim Brooks and a reportedly good hitting club. Brooks pitched a four-hitter win over Crater in a 5 to 1 game. Yreka downed Klamath 9 to 3 after losing 9 to 10.

Kovenz was not too definite about the Medford twirling for the Miner try. He said that Bob Quinney might throw some with Herb Wheeler or Jerry Anderson possibly also seeing hill service. Wheeler has been having some arm trouble and if the limb is sore won't pitch, of course.

Possible Lineups

The Tornado may have Ken Jensen catching with Lowell Dean at first base. Ray Konopka at second. Cal Dean at shortstop and Dick Ragsdale at third base. Outfield selection is from among Mike Parsons, Quinney, Anderson, Wayne Thompson and Jim Barry.

Yreka's lineup may be Dennis McCarthy at catcher, Dan Behnke at first, John Ellis at second, Gary Gresham at short, Jay Trinta at third and Daryl Severns, Roger Conry and Bob Wilcox in the outfield.

Medford had no games over the week end but drilled on both Friday and Saturday. Kovenz had some misgivings about the advisability of working out on Friday when Dick Ragsdale was beamed with a pitch and Lowell Dean turned an ankle. The ball which hit Ragsdale hit the batting helmet partially, taking some of the force away. Both players are expected to be in action on Tuesday.

The Tornado has a double-header here on Friday against Grants Pass and goes to Klamath Falls for a Saturday double engagement.

Asland entertains Klamath Falls in a conference game on Tuesday, plays Crater at Central Point on Friday in a double bill and goes to Yreka on Saturday. Crater travels to Grants Pass on Saturday for two games.

McLoughlin 7th Victor

Fractions counted most for North Grants Pass eighth graders yesterday. They won a triangular track meet at Grants Pass by one-third of a point.

North had 53 5/6 points to 53 1/2 by McLoughlin of Medford. South Grants Pass was third with 32 2/3.

Mike Barnes was a triple winner in the meet for McLoughlin with firsts in the dashes and the broad jump and Chuck Kimball won the shot put and discus for Medford. South's Hawkins took the hurdle races.

McLoughlin won the seventh grade section of the meet with 39 1/3 points to South's 36 1/3. North tallied 20 1/3.

Roberts won the sprints and shot put for South. McLoughlin victors were Don Young in the broad jump, Stockman who tied in the high jump, Rick Templeton who knotted in the pole vault and Steve Edmonds, Don Wyatt, George Raymond and Art Lee in the relay.

NBC Franchises 2 League Types

Wichita, Kan. — Baseball continues to flourish in the non-professional ranks.

Not only are the many youth programs booming, but the National Baseball Congress makes known through its 1960 official baseball annual, that a record number of leagues are being organized throughout the 50 states, affiliated with this 25-year successful organization.

The congress is franchising two types of leagues—one for players of unlimited age and the other, known as the rookie division, for younger players. In the latter classification, each league establishes its own age-limit, any year from 17 to 21.

Although each league operates independently under its own constitution and by-laws, the national organization offers many advantages to assure their success. Each league champion is awarded an elaborate trophy from the National Baseball congress in addition to numerous other services.

Ump. Scorer Groups

The congress also sponsors national associations for umpires and scorers and also a nation-wide series of qualifying district and state tournaments throughout the U.S., culminating in the 26th annual national championship classic in Wichita in late August.

For the first time in history this organization is sponsoring a national baseball umpire university. This is for its member officials and will take place at Branson, Mo., a 12-day course—starting May 16. Details of the program are in the annual, at news stands, athletic goods stores or direct through the publisher, National Baseball congress, Box 1420.

Lewis Halts Ring Rival At Yreka

Yreka, Calif. — Amateur boxing fans had the opportunity of watching Medford champion, Larry Lewis, in action, when the PAL club ace stopped Rocky Sokata, Happy Camp, in the second round of the main event in the Yreka armory on Saturday.

In the first round after a flurry of rushing pummeling tactics, by Rocky that forced Lewis to the ropes, Larry proceeded to take charge with a series of combination punches of hooks to the body and right crosses to the head. Sokata was hanging on at the bell. In the second round, a vicious hook to the body and a right cross to the chin, dropped the Happy Camp batter for a nine count. Upon arising, Sokata feebly tried to hold Larry off with left jabs, but another combination to the body and the chin dropped Sokata. The referee, after a look at Sokata, raised Lewis's gloved hand without a count.

Johnny Little Wins

In the semi-final Johnny Little, Medford, PAL took a unanimous decision from George Griffith, Yreka, in a wild slinging, hard punching fight, that had the crowd of 600 people cheering lustily. Bobby Little, Bob and Don Gray of the Medford PAL club, did not appear on the card as their opponents failed to show at the arena. What was to have been a 10-round card turned out to be only a six fight show. Even in the main, George Bender, San Francisco Golden Glove semifinalist, cancelled and Lewis was matched with Sokata.

Three other Medford PAL club boxers met defeat from meeting heavier and taller opponents. Billy Thomas, PAL, lost on a split decision to Bud Brown, Yreka. Cliff Roberts and Jim Martin, PAL, lost on TKOs in the first rounds to Jerry Spannus and Larry Blankenship, Yreka.

MAC Girls Victors In Freestyle

Bartlesville, Okla.—(UPI)—The good luck of Chris Von Saltza and the bad luck of Carin Cone told the story of the 1960 AAU women's indoor swimming and diving championships—a meet which set new records in 11 out of 12 racing events.

Miss Von Saltza, of the Santa Clara, Calif., swim club, set three U.S. records, won three events and led her team to a smashing victory in the meet, which concluded here Saturday night and wrote some new chapters in America's Olympic futures book.

Miss Cone, of Ridgewood, N.J., swimming for the Shamrock Hilton Swim club of Houston, set a new record in the 100 yard backstroke only to lose the event on a judge's decision to Lynn Burpk of the Santa Clara club. Both finished in identical times of 1:03 flat.

MAC Posts Upset

In the 400-yard freestyle medley, the Multnomah Swim club of Portland, Ore., pulled an upset to take the event in 3:51.3, setting a new record.

The 20-year-old Miss Cone lost in the 1956 Olympic 110 meter event on a similar judge's decision. And earlier in this meet she had lost her title in the 200-yard backstroke event to Miss Burke, but by a more decisive margin. Miss Cone was the defending champ in both backstroke events.

Both Miss Cone and Miss Von Saltza remain likely qualifiers in the Summer Olympic tryouts in August.

"This just makes me more determined to get into the Olympics," said Carin after the disappointing outcome.

The blonde Miss Von Saltza amassed 28 of Santa Clara's 83 points in the three-day event, held in the Phillips 86 pool.

Defending team champion Berkeley, Calif., YMCA was tied for second place with the Los Angeles Athletic club, both with 40 points.

Snead Wins Crown; Criticizes Course

Greensboro, N. C. — (UPI)—Sam Snead, already involved in the year's top golf controversy, left today with $2,800, his seventh Greater Greensboro crown and a sneer for the Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Snead birdied the last two holes Sunday for a final round 35-34 — 69. The two-under-par gave him first place with a 72-hole total of 270.

The finish before a gallery of some 9,000 was par for the end of a Greater Greensboro Open.

Dow Finsterwald, 29, of Tequesta, Fla., the 1959 winner, finished with a 68 for a 272 and second-place money of $1,900. After winning last year, when he played with Snead in a final-round three-some, Finsterwald indicated he would not return. He said the gallery was so pro-Snead that heckling by the Siamer's admirers interfered with his game.

Sneads Turn

It was Snead's turn to expound this year.

"I hope it will finally get to (Edward) Benjamin to do something about his golf course," the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., star told the amazed gallery. He had been handed a microphone connected with the public address system after carding his final round Sunday.

Snead said the course was "lousy" and, cocking his panama hat at the gallery, added, "You deserve more than you're getting." The latter was in reference to the lack of "name" players at the tournament this year, including Masters champion Arnold Palmer.

Benjamin is president and main stockholder of the Starmount Corp.

Don Whit of Borrego Springs, Calif., took $1,400 third money in with a 277. Len Woodward of Sydney, Australia, on his first PGA tour, was fourth with 278 for $1,200. Bradley Anderson of Greensboro was the top ranking amateur with a 293.

Ike Throws Last Pitch

Washington — (UPI)—President Eisenhower was to take his last fling today as an opening day "pitcher."

The President, who retires voluntarily — Constitutionally — next Jan. 20, was to throw out the ceremonial first ball at Griffith Stadium inaugurating the 1960 American League baseball season.

The 69-year-old right-hander, who has been in spring training at the Augusta National Golf Course, interrupted his vacation to help the Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox launch the American League campaign — one week later than the National League.

The president planned to fly here from Augusta this morning and return to Georgia immediately after the game for a few more days of vacation. Arrangements were made for him to use a helicopter to get from the stadium to the airport for the return flight.

LA Dodgers Ready For Old Rivals

Los Angeles — (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers leave tonight for San Francisco to take on their old rivals—the Giants—after having fattened on a three game winning streak over the St. Louis Cardinals in their first home stand.

Long ball-hitting and loose St. Louis play accounted for Sunday's 7-5 win in which four of the Dodger runs came on homers and three as a result of slipshod Cardinal work in the fourth inning.

Gil Hodges started the homer barrage in the second with Duke Snider on base. Snider got a leadoff homer in the fifth and Wally Moon led off the seventh with a homer.

The Cardinals also had a measure of long-ball hitting as Stan Musial homered in the fifth with none aboard—his first four-bagger of the season and first in the Coliseum in three years.

Grammas Homers

Alex Grammas, whose fourth inning error let two unearned runs score, homered in the sixth but it was not enough to overcome the Dodger three-run rally in the fourth when nine men went to bat.

Cardinal starter Ernie Baggio gave up only one hit in hat inning but walked three men, and let a run come home on a wild pitch before he was lifted. The jury was still out on whether Larry Sherry would be a starter or relief pitcher for the Dodgers despite his six inning of work and getting the win.

The pennant and World Series hero of last year was touched for nine hits but struck out nine men.

Alston said he would pitch Johnny Podres against the Giants Tuesday. He would follow with Don Drysdale on Wednesday.

Snead-Rudolph Match Judged By TV Viewers

New York — (UPI)—The nation's golf duffers, who have enough trouble trying to win a match without thinking of "throwing" it, were asked to decide today whether Sam Snead deliberately lost to Mason Rudolph in their controversial match on NBC-TV.

NBC re-ran the April 3 telecast Sunday because of the controversy which has arisen over the circumstances of that match.

Before the rebroadcast, the network explained it had investigated the circumstances of the match and invited the TV audience to make its "own independent judgment" after hearing the explanation and seeing the match again.

After the re-run, Snead again insisted he did not deliberately lose to Rudolph. Snead, who has won more professional tournaments than any other player, originally started the furore when he told reporters he had purposely lost to Rudolph after discovering he had 15 clubs—one more than the rules allow—in his bag.

Later, he reversed his field and said he had not thrown the match when he was called on the carpet by the Professional Golfers' association during the recent Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga.

Baltimore, Md. — (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles optioned $115,000 bonus outfielder Dave Nicholson to Miami of the International League.

SEAS ALGERIAN REBELS

Baghdad, Iraq — (UPI)—Premier Abdel Karim Kassem held talks today with three members of the provisional Algerian cabinet seeking financial assistance for the rebel cause.

Orange Baseball Use Predicted

Wichita, Kan. — Within the next five years, most of the teams in the national pastime will discard the present white standard baseballs for bright orange ones.

This is the prediction of the National Baseball congress, with headquarters in Wichita, Kan. This organization a year ago originated the Official Glo-Ball baseball, for added visibility.

Last year this baseball was tested successfully in many of the NBC tournament over the nation.

Six baseball manufacturers are now licensed to make this new product, which is now available at athletic goods stores.

Indians Trade Colavito For Kuenn; Fans Angry

Cleveland — (UPI)—Frank Lane finally got Harvey Kuenn from Detroit and now stands to get a lot more from Cleveland fans for trading away their "pet" home run hitter, Rocky Colavito.

American Leaguers generally agreed today that the Tigers got the better of the swap and Cleveland fans were even more sure of it. The Cleveland Press reported that the reaction of fans calling in was more than 10 to 1 against the trade.

It could turn out to be a rough deal for Lane unless Kuenn, the 1959 American League batting champion, makes Cleveland fans forget all about the home run heroics of the 26-year-old Colavito.

That's going to be no mean trick.

Indians' Big Gun

Colavito, probably the most popular and exciting player to appear in a Cleveland uniform since Bob Feller, bid farewell to the Indians Sunday by slamming a home run in a 2-1 exhibition game victory over the White Sox at Memphis, Tenn. The homer was his eighth of the spring.

Rocky was the big gun in the Indians' surge to second place last season even though he batted only .257. Along with that mediocre mark, however, he hit 42 home runs to tie Washington's Harmon Killebrew for the title and drove in 111 runs.

The 29-year-old Kuenn, on the other hand, led the league with a .353 average, but the majority of his hits were singles and doubles. He hit only nine homers and drove in 71 runs.

PALMER DESERT CHOICE

Las Vegas, Nev. — (UPI)—Arnold Palmer remains the 5-1 favorite in the $42,400 Tournament of Champions at the Desert Inn Country Club course, May 5-8, despite his brilliant victory in the Masters. Gene Littler is the 6-1 second choice.
