

SF Picks Sam Jones To Stop Slugfests

St. Louis -UPI- The San Francisco Giants will send Sam Jones against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight in an effort to stop the recent outburst of slugfests.

The Giants—who were walloped 9-4 by Chicago Sunday—came from behind last night to edge the Cards 9-8, in a cliff-hanger. The victory moved San Francisco back into a first place tie with Pittsburgh in the National League.

Manager Bill Rigney's Giants don't have to worry about being behind when Sam Jones has his stuff. The unbeaten righthander has two victories—a one-hitter and a three-hitter. He will oppose Larry Jackson.

The slugfests had to pull last night's victory out of the fire. The Giants got an early lead with a homer by Jim Davenport in the third frame, but the Cards immediately rallied for four sparked by former Giant Daryl Spencer's three-run homer.

St. Louis added one run in the sixth on a homer by Stan Musial, and the Giants scored three in the top of the seventh to make it, 5-4. The Cards increased it to 7-4 in the bottom of the frame—and the Willies went to work.

After two men walked, Don Blasingame singled home one. Then Willie Mays smashed a two-run single to tie the score, and Willie McCovey put the Giants in front with a two-run homer.

Carl Swatski walloped a pinch-hit homer for St. Louis in the eighth—but the Cardinals were still one run down when the game ended.

Johnny Antonelli picked up one of the easiest victories of his career, as he pitched just one rocky inning, allowing two hits and two earned runs. However, he was the pitcher of record when the Giants went ahead.

Mays had two hits to keep his string going. The speedy centerfielder has hit safely in all 11 games of the season.

McCovey had two hits in four trips, Davenport had two for three, and Orlando Cepeda had two for five.

Sam Baker Traded to Cleveland

Washington -UPI- Sam Baker, place kicking specialist of the Washington Redskins and former Oregon State fullback, Monday was traded to the Cleveland Browns for two top linemen.

In exchange for Baker the Browns gave up offensive tackle Francis O'Brien and offensive guard Bob Khayat.

Baker has been with the Washington Redskins since 1953. He led the National Football league in punting in 1958.

Khayat played at Mississippi and O'Brien at Michigan State.

Baker, contacted at his Tacoma, Wash., home said the trade was "Great news to me. You know, they win."

Groza Not Out
Coach Paul Brown of the Browns was quick to say that Lou (The Toe) Groza was not being put out to pasture even though the Browns acquired kicking specialist Sam Baker from the Washington Redskins today.

"This does not mean the end of Lou Groza," Brown told newsmen. "Naturally, there will be competition in the place kicking, but Groza still remains a valuable offensive tackle."

Baker will be available to do the punting for the Browns where Groza confined his kicking to field goals and points after touchdown.

Ahlgvist said the recently signed new contract with the Feature Sports Inc. of New York who he wanted, but Feature Sports "threw in $150,000 more than he expected."

He did not elaborate on the "generous gesture." However, his high praise of the new promoting corporation indicated that neither he nor Ingemar would be adverse to a long-term association with the outfit.

Ahlgvist, who returned to Goteborg, Sweden -UPI- Ingemar Johansson will receive $150,000 more than expected for his June 20 heavyweight title defense against Floyd Patterson, advisor Edwin Ahlgvist disclosed today.

Ahlgvist said the recently signed new contract with the Feature Sports Inc. of New York who he wanted, but Feature Sports "threw in $150,000 more than he expected."

He did not elaborate on the "generous gesture." However, his high praise of the new promoting corporation indicated that neither he nor Ingemar would be adverse to a long-term association with the outfit.

Ahlgvist, who returned to Goteborg, Sweden, stressed that the new contract contained 18 changes from the document that was written in Sweden last August by former owners of Feature Sports.

The arguments about that August contract and other issues not only prevented the return bout being staged last September but also prevented Johansson's collecting his $153,000 share from the first fight until last week.

Ingemar won the title in the first fight, last June 26, by flooring Patterson seven times for a third-round knockout.

For the return bout, Johansson will receive 25 per cent of the gross gate from ticket sales; 35 per cent of the net receipts from the sale of television, radio and movie rights, and outright ownership of the television rights in all Scandinavia.

In addition, Feature Sports must post a deposit of $200,000 in a Switzerland bank four days before the June 20th battle. That $200,000 will be held in escrow for the champion as part payment of what he will earn from the fight.

Johansson Will Get More Money

Goteborg, Sweden -UPI- Ingemar Johansson will receive $150,000 more than expected for his June 20 heavyweight title defense against Floyd Patterson, advisor Edwin Ahlgvist disclosed today.

Huskies Bow To Cougars

Seattle -UPI- Washington State kept its victory streak going in the Northern division baseball race Monday by knocking over a defending champion Washington 8-1.

It was the third victory in four days for the Cougars, who downed Oregon twice at Eugene over the weekend.

McCovey and Mays Pace Giants To 9-8 Win Over Cards; Bucs Idle

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
There'll be a lot of bad jokes this year about the Giants giving everybody the "willies" so let's just say simply that Mays and McCovey are providing the old 1-2 punch again.

The two Willies teamed up on numerous occasions to win ball games for the Giants last year and they pulled the same trick Monday night to boost San Francisco into a first-place tie with Pittsburgh in the National League race.

Mays and McCovey came through with the key blows in a five-run eighth inning rally that brought the Giants a 9-8 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, who had won four straight previously.

Cards Blow Lead
It looked like the Cards were going to make it five in a row when they went into the eighth with a 7-4 lead. Don Blasingame singled home the first run of the inning and Mays' single with two on tied the score. McCovey, who drove in four runs in all, then blasted a two-run homer off loser Bob Duliba, the third of five St. Louis pitchers.

McCovey's fourth homer of the season made the score 9-7 and as things turned out the Giants needed the insurance run when Carl Sawatski socked a homer for the Cards in the bottom of the inning.

There were three previous homers for St. Louis by Ken Boyer, who hit his sixth, Stan Musial and Daryl Spencer, while Jim Davenport connected for the Giants. Southpaw Johnny Antonelli picked up the victory in relief.

It was the only game played in the National League. Only two games were played in the American League with the Kansas City Athletics defeating the Chicago White Sox 6-1, and the Baltimore Orioles nipping the Washington Senators, 3-2.

A's Blast Herb Score
The Athletics registered their victory over Herb Score, who didn't make much of a debut in a White Sox uniform. Traded by the Indians for Barry Latman last week, Score was hammered out of the box in the fourth inning after he had given up seven hits, five walks and six runs, including a homer by Hank Bauer. Knuckleballer Bud Daley, meanwhile, held the White Sox to three hits and retired the last 14 batters he faced to gain his first victory.

First baseman Jim Gentile's three-run homer off Russ Kemmerer in the first inning stood up all the way in the Orioles' win over the Senators.

Milt Pappas ended a five-game losing streak for the Orioles by hurling a five-hitter. One of his first major

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS Northwest League Underway Tonight

By ORVILLE BOYINGTON
United Press International
The Northwest League, that lively six-team circuit which brings Class B baseball to three states, gets its 140-game schedule underway tonight with games at Salem, Lewiston and Yakima.

The Tri-City Braves, representing Richland, Kennewick and Pasco, will be taking the first crack at the defending champion Yakima Bears. Lewiston will host Wenatchee and Salem will entertain cross-state rival Eugene.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini will be on hand to throw out the first ball for the Tri-City-Yakima game as the Bears unveil a team which is new from the manager on down. Buddy Hicks, the new pilot, hopes to duplicate the record compiled by his predecessor, Hub Kittle, who won three pennants in four seasons. Kittle will be watching how things progress from his general manager's office.

Hicks isn't the only manager making his Northwest League debut tonight. Tri-City's Whitley McDowell and Eugene's Dick Klaus will also be making first appearances.

Karl Kuehl of Salem, John McNamara of Lewiston and Dick Wilson of Wenatchee are managers who have been to the post before. Kuehl and McNamara are playing pilots.

All of the teams will be displaying new faces on the field because of the very nature of the league. A good share of the players in the loop are young and are looking to bigger things in baseball. Much of last year's crop has made the jump to leagues on up the baseball ladder.

Working agreements with teams of higher classification provide most of the players for the Northwest League. Yakima has a limited agreement with Milwaukee. Salem works with Cincinnati and has a loose tie-up with Portland. Lewiston has a partial working agreement with Kansas City. Eugene has an agreement with the San Francisco Giants, and Wenatchee has a verbal agreement with Baltimore. Tri-City has no announced tie-up.

In the Northwest League the teams get a double crack at championship glory. The season is split with the first half ending June 30. The second half starts July 1 and ends Sept. 5. When the schedule is completed the first half winner meets the second half winner in a series to determine the overall champion, unless, of course, one team wins both halves.

An all-star game will be played some time in July between the first half pennant winner and the all-stars from the other five teams.

Moyer-Griffith Fight Tonight In Portland

Portland -UPI- The fists fly at the P.I. pavilion tonight in a welterweight 10 - rounder which means a lot to both Denny Moyer and Emile Griffith.

Both boxers are ranked among the leading welterweight contenders but a defeat would hurt either one's title chance for some time.

Griffith, fighting out of New York holds a decision over Moyer in a recent television 10-rounder. It was a split decision and many of Denny's backers feel he can come back on "home" grounds to win.

The winner of the bout is expected to seek a shot at the title. Each is expected to weigh about 151 pounds.

Machen-Miteff Tussle May 20

New York -UPI- Heavyweights Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and Alex Miteff of Argentina have been matched for a 10-round nationally televised bout at Madison Square Garden, May 20.

Machen, fourth-ranked contender, will be striving for his ninth straight victory since being knocked out by Ingemar Johansson in the first round in September 1958.

The 28-year-old west coast fighter was impressive in his last bout when he knocked out seventh-ranked Billy Hunter in the ninth round at the Garden on Feb. 26.

Miteff, 25, is eighth-ranked and needs a victory over Machen to improve his status. The Argentine slugger beat a Shotgun Warner in Atlantic City, N.J., on April 15. His losses include decisions to Zora Folley, current top-ranked contender, and Hunter.

Overall, Machen has a slightly better record with 32 victories in 35 matches. Miteff has lost five of his 31 bouts.

PISTONS SIGN SEIDEN

New York -UPI- The Detroit Pistons, hoping to strengthen their backcourt ranks, have signed Al Seiden, former St. John's University star, to a 1960-61 contract.

Besmanoff Backs Out of Machen Bout

Seattle -UPI- Will Besmanoff Monday announced he would not go through with his scheduled heavyweight fight with Eddie Machen here May 2, forcing promoter Tommy Moyer of the Northwest Boxing Club to cancel the card.

The State Athletic Commission immediately suspended Besmanoff in this state.

Moyer said Besmanoff is slated to meet light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in a nationally televised bout May 27 and probably didn't want to run the risk of missing this fight by being cut or knocked out by Machen, the world's fourth-ranking heavy.

Lewis said Besmanoff could escape the suspension by signing a statement in which he would agree to meet Machen here after the Moore fight.

NCAA May Announce Penalties

Atlanta -UPI- The NCAA council today may announce disciplinary action against one or more schools for rules violations.

The powerful 18-member council, which has authority to take punitive action against members between meetings of the NCAA itself, meets again with infractions committee chairman George H. Young, dean of the University of Wisconsin Law school.

Young was closeted with the council Monday afternoon but apparently did not complete his report on the school, or schools, which his committee has found guilty of illegal recruiting or other violations of NCAA regulations.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive secretary, declined to comment on what was discussed at that meeting, if any, would be revealed, if any, schools may be in line for penalties, however, he did say that Young is expected to complete his presentation today and there may be a report on council action.

The council is holding its annual three-day meeting here. Byers said most of Monday's agenda was devoted to strictly routine matters.

There was one cheerful note in regard to infractions. The council reported that a one-year probation had ended for Gustavus Adolphus College of St. Peter, Minn., which had been cited for playing in an unauthorized post-season football bowl in 1957.
