Necklines Diverse This Spring

Unions Press International The wide diversity in spring's new necklines inspires equal diversity in neckline lengths. Major emphasis goes to the shorter necklaces with from two to many strands. The nested necklace that starts at the base of the neck and circles in close-stacked strands gives a wonderful outline to the high-throated and collarless look. Bib necklines in splendid-looking spalls of blended, related or purposefully clashing colors provide both color beauty and a look of balance to the full-skirted silhouette.

With the wipe of a damp sudsy cloth, you can restore new white leathers and patent leathers to bright-as-new finish. The secret is in the new processing of leather in the tanning method, reports the Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

Eyes deep set? Arch eyebrows high—not too thick or dark. Concentrate eyelash make-up at outer edges of eyes.

The fashion future for teenage girls is saucy, shapely and not at all sophisticated. "Seventeen" magazine sums it up this way: "Gingham checks get the biggest credit as the most important fabric. In pastel and white shaped into bag-armed, snug-bodied bouffantery, gingham takes on unexpectedly dressed-up airs. Hemline interest is in the form of white tutting, a ruffle or a frothy, show-off petticoat."

Handbags are doing in ticking for summer. A blue and white striped edition's handle is an oversized, gilded safety pin. Sides have cigarette pockets. The interior is lined in blue denim.
