Medford High School
 Staff: Esther Jacob, Rita McBeth, Jim McCormack, Donna Pace, Diana Mohr, Ann MacManama, and Sue Riehl.

Elaine Jennings, Torch Honor president, welcomed the parents, students and teachers at the Torch Honor initiation April 28.

Club officers and Senior Members Dick Peterson, Ron Handley, Bob Hamilton, Marjorie Williams, and Doug Kliever gave addresses on standards, scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The main address of the evening was presented by Dr. Leonard MacFadyen, titled, "There is No Substitute for Knowledge."

Certificates and pins were presented by Miss Josephine Kirtley, vice principal, and the initiation followed.

Refreshments were served to all present.

The new members initiated were Frank Bach, Nancy Brown, Linda Carver, Margaret Childers, John Crawford, Sandra Croucher, Jan Den Herder, Stan Dowson, Carol Dyche, and Marilyn Egan.

Julie Faught, Carolyn Finch, Jim Frake, Bev Gehard, Mary Kay Harris, Roger Harris, Linda Hess, Shirley Hopkins, Donna Husong, and John James.

Refreshments and pins were presented by Miss Josephine Kirtley, vice principal, and the initiation followed.

The honor roll for the third nine-week period has been posted for correction. The final list will come out early this week, the office reported.

"The Birds" spring production of the Theatrical Troupe 386 will be presented tonight and Saturday at the high school auditorium.

The plot is based on the adventures of two young men, Pheidias and Euphrosion, who are sent to the island of Delos to study the art of civilization.

Other leading roles are played by Linda Jo Waller, Elaine Trochilus, Mark Goodman, Epops, who is king of the birds; Marty Wyatt, who is a "man in time" god; and Lucille Lowry, captain of the birds.

Craig Wright, priest-bird herald, and real estate man; Jim Douglas, first messenger; Bill Deckard, second messenger and inspector; Mike Higgins, poet; Paul Moore, prophet; Mike Cannon, lawyer; Ron Robertson, musician; Cliff Colner, Neptune; Russell Rosenberg, barbarian god; and Phil Baird, Hercules.

The Medford High school orchestra, under the direction of John Drysdale, presented a concert at Madison High school in Portland May 1. They left Medford early Sunday morning.

A reception was held for them following the concert at which time they were met by the Madison music students.

 This column is offered with a folder from the organization, the finishing touches on a novel he is writing. He will return to his reporting activity next week. His reactions as registrar of voters can be summed up briefly in this significant trend which he noticed.

"It is quite apparent from the general comment of the voters here that they are primarily interested in selecting the right man for the job rather than the party name. This is especially noticeable so far as the highest office in the land is concerned," he reports.

Al Birman, sports supervisor, has sent in the final scores for the Bowlers Victory Legion tournament held here during April. The Camp White veterans came through with a total number of 8,748 in the four-game series.

This is nearly 1,000 points better than the 1955 score when Camp White finished well up in the national competition.

The team deserves credit for staying in the tournament, which was a very close combination midstream. The two final games were run off after postponement with the man Gilman, Walter Blasing and Robert Grimes added for the final games.

Irving Gray and Otto Kahner both bowled over 200 in two frames. Gray's high score was 215 the first night and Kahner bowled 212 in the fourth set.

The Hobby Fair has come and gone and the sponsors are well pleased with the results this year. Some 2,500 visitors came to White City for the hobby fair in the covered area with the Pear Blossom festival in Medford.

While there were not as many exhibits as in former years, the quality of workmanship was exceptional. District Commander Phil Holt is difficult for the judges to reach their decisions. In fact, the show was delayed while the judges conferred on the awarding of prizes.

The Steeple of Oregon State Federation of Garden Clubs, District 4, at White City was the first time this important group has held their annual gathering here.

A considerable stake in the dominion of the Steeple is the activity in decorating the chapel, sponsoring the local club, pointing instruction in horticulture, decorating and assisting in the planting of flowers. Many of the plants now growing were donated by them.

A little company of dancers from the Colleen Hope school came out to the dominion theater to put on a show in the Red Cross variety program last week.

Mrs. Fred Rehling, Mrs. J. Stagg and Mrs. Mel Krow of the gray ladies team at the Southern Oregon college were the program follows:

Kathy Goddard and Lellara Buchanan in "Toby Twitchy Feeling"; Luana Welch and Tamra Lynch in "I Have Learned a Ballet Dance"; Debra Gates, Debra Voth, Barbara Peters, Stephanie Grubb, Cheryl Davis, Pamela and Mickey Langley in "Animal Crackers"; Tricia Fasel in "Sealwings"; Linda Ellis in "Ball in Jail" and Louise Lull in two ball numbers.

Back in 1921, a group of citizens of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, started a community center which in 1924 became the Jane Boyd Community House. Classes in Americanization, English and homemaker instruction and child guidance were instituted.

Gamble, who eloped to marry Romanian-born Andre Prumbeanu, said the baby is expected the second week in January.

She and Prumbeanu broke the news from the resort hotel here where he works as an assistant manager in charge of "guest relations."

Gamble and her 25-year-old husband married against her family's wishes April 6 at Hendersonville, N.C., after a secret flight from New York.
