

Proper Handling Of Flag Discussed At Jaycee Meeting

The proper handling of the United States flag was discussed by Lt. Richard Greer of the National Guard at a meeting of the Medford Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

He said that in many instances in this area the flag has been shown little respect in the way it is handled. He has scheduled a class on care of the flag for May 4 at the Girls Community club. Lt. Greer announced that he hopes to give a similar class for the public soon.

Det. Landing was elected president of the Jaycees at the meeting. Others elected were John Gustafson, first vice president; Hank Haydal, second vice president; Douglas V. Peters, secretary; and Glen Lusk, treasurer.

They will be installed May 10 at the Tally-Ho Dining Inn, with the new district vice president as installing officer.

Describe Program
Bill Sloan, Grants Pass, state chairman for Spoke, described the Spoke program, which is concerned with service, participation, orientation, knowledge and enthusiasm. It is a national awards program recognizing achievements of active five-year Jaycees.

Terry Green, community development chairman, gave a progress report for the committee. Lieutenant Greer told the group that company E of the Guard will help with any of the projects the committee designates.

Bob Wilson, Eugene, who is a candidate for district 7 vice president, spoke on why he wants the position.

Two local delegates, Larry Allen, past president, and Douglas Peters, will attend the state convention May 6 to 8 at Coos Bay.

Government Pays $160 Million in Rent Each Year

Washington - (UPI) - Uncle Sam, the biggest land owner in the world, also is a big renter.

The General Services Administration says the government pays $160 million a year to lease 1,600,000 acres of land and 105 million square feet of office space throughout the world.

The office space alone is the equivalent of more than 2,400 acres.

The government rents some 106,000 acres in six U. S. possessions and 117 foreign countries for about $24 million annually. The remainder is in the United States.

In a sum-up of the government's worldwide rentals for the fiscal year ended last June 30, GSA said:

-GSA and the post office department account for $109,100,000 or 68.2 per cent of the total annual rental. GSA rents office and storage space in the United States for most Federal agencies and government corporations.

-The annual rental went up $9,800,000 from June 30, 1958, with most of the increase due to expanding Federal requirements, rising prices, and some improvement in the working space of Federal employees.

GSA reported in February that Uncle Sam owns 771,700,000 acres of land throughout the world. This land and the buildings on it are carried on the books at their original cost—a whopping $49,200,000,000.

The federal government owns 2,300,000,000 square feet of building space in the United States. Of the 105 million square feet it leases, 95,300,000 square feet are in the United States. This space ranges from 9,100,000 square feet in New York to 118,000 in Delaware.

Three-fourths of the office space rented in the United States is in metropolitan areas. Post office space the United States leases is more evenly divided between rural and urban areas.

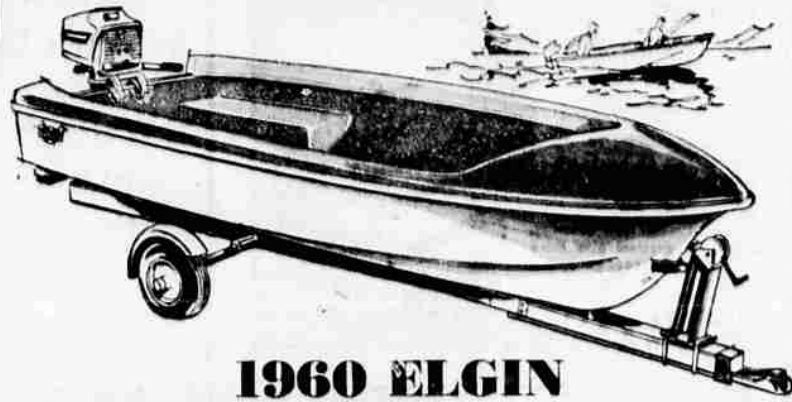

Of the land Uncle Sam leases, 94.7 per cent is for the defense department. More than 70 per cent of the land leased in the United States is located in four states: New Mexico (495,000 acres); California (190,000); Texas (157,000) and Arizona (151,000).

GSA said the United States is party to 46,217 leases in the states and the District of Columbia, ranging from 3,313 in California to 41 in Delaware.

The federal government leases few structures and facilities other than buildings.
