

Fund Drive Head For Area Named

Mrs. Edwin Olds, 903 1/2 West 11th st., will head the Medford fund drive for the City of Hope National Medical center early next month, it was announced today.

Contributions will be sought to help support the three-point program of patient care, research and postgraduate medical education at the free, nonsectarian medical facility, Mrs. Olds said.

She called attention to the nationwide scope of the City of Hope, which accepts patients from all parts of the country, and, in turn, is assisted financially by almost 400 auxiliaries from coast to coast and donations of individuals everywhere who subscribe to its humanitarian objectives.

"Although approaching the half-century mark of services to others, the City of Hope has never presented a bill to anyone," Mrs. Olds pointed out. "We believe this to be a remarkable record of philanthropic achievement on the highest possible level."

Located near Pasadena, Calif., the City of Hope National Medical center accepts victims of physically, emotionally and financially catastrophic diseases on referral from private physicians. It specializes in cancer, leukemia, blood, chest and heart disorders. Last year 26,000 patients received treatment.

CP Junior High

Eighth grade students of the Central Point Junior High school attended the Jackson county school forestry tour of the John Black timber demonstration tract.

The program is sponsored by the Oregon State college, United States agriculture department, and the Jackson county schools.

The tour requires about two hours in the field with seven 15-minute stops. Under discussion was commercial thinning, seed production, fire control, tree planting, commercial tree culture, tree identification, pruning and soil and root relationships.

Information is provided by the state forestry department, the Industrial Forestry association, the forest service, soil conservation service, the bureau of land management and the Jackson county extension service.

The Central Point elementary and Junior High school chorus and director, Mrs. Joanne Sousa, have expressed appreciation for the new capes. The Central Point Parent Teachers association furnished the money to buy the material, and the following women donated their time to making the capes: Mrs. Morris Frink, Mrs. Alvin Roberts, Mrs. John Crossell, Mrs. Walter Carr, Mrs. Millie Johnson, Mrs. L. A. Brennessholtz, Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. Bruce Turner, Mrs. Ione Olson, Mrs. Joseph McCalvy, Mrs. L. C. Johnson, Mrs. Walter Drennen, Mrs. D. C. Mapel, Mrs. Shirley Hatcher, Mrs. Don Bohnert, Mrs. Arden Pinkham, Mrs. Fred Samples, Mrs. D. C. Chamberlain, Mrs. Peggy Fishback, Mrs. Clair Villarino, Mrs. Clifford Bailey, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Everett Brown, Mrs. Arthur Foote, Mrs. J. Summerfield, Mrs. Claire Higinbotham, and Mrs. Lewis Cox.

Burglar Robbed, So He Yells for Cops

New York-John Chiatteley struck a blow for justice and also hit himself when he indignantly reported to police that some culprit had stolen some article he has just acquired himself in a burglary.

"You just can't trust anybody these days," Chiatteley said.

Amazed officers learned Chiatteley had broken into a home and made off with two cameras, a radio and some silverware. Then he carefully stashed the loot in a bus depot locker. That was the last he saw of it.

When he came back to pick up the loot he found the locker broken open. Inside was a note, reading:

"This locker has been burglarized. Please report your loss to the management and file a claim."

That's what made him mad enough to call police.

STAMP FIRMS REPORT

New York -AP- More than 138,000 stores will issue stamps of eight leading trading concerns during 1968, a survey indicated. However, there are from 250 to 900 different grading stamp companies in business and experts say there are no accurate figures on how many stamps are issued or how many stores use them.
