

Officers Announced By Bethel

Miss Carla Borough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Borough, 1628 Myers lane, was elected honored queen of Bethel 14, International Order of Job's Daughters, at a meeting in the Masonic temple Wednesday, May 4. Her installation will take place Saturday, June 4.

Officers elected to serve with Miss Borough are the Misses Barbara Morton, senior princess; Diane Everham, junior princess; Laura Rupert, guide; Pat Ellis, marshal.

Escorted and introduced during the evening were Mrs. Richard Sherrill, past queen of Bethel 15, Coquille, and the Misses Sylvia Morris and Mike Noble, past queens of Bethel 14.

The Bethel voted to have a skating party in Astland on Saturday, May 14. All girls wishing to go must be at the Masonic temple by 2 p.m. that day for transportation. They will skate until 5 p.m.

Plans were discussed for attending grand session in Salem July 14 through 16 and all girls desiring to attend must give their registration money to Mrs. John L. Hatch, 944 Whitman avenue, or to Mrs. Russel Denyer, 19 Ross court, by Wednesday, May 18.

The next regular meeting of the Bethel will be May 18 in the Masonic temple. There will be a formal initiation ceremony. The next meeting of the guardian council will be in the home of Mrs. C. D. Elhart, 1717 Straford avenue, May 25, at 7:30 p.m.

All members who are 15 years of age or older and participating in the older girls choir, were to meet with Director Clarence Smith in his home, 326 Grant avenue, Monday, for practice.

Valley Women Plan to Attend Peace Conference

Four valley women will be among those attending the 1960 World Peace conference in Portland Thursday and Friday. The Democratic party of Oregon is sponsoring the program and Mrs. Alfred H. Corbett is chairman.

Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, former congresswoman from California, and Senator Wayne Morse, will be among those speaking at the two-day event. Others on the program include Mrs. Maurine Neuberger, Dr. Arthur Livermore, Reed college; the Rev. Harold G. Brown, president, Oregon Council of churches; Myron Katz, visiting lecturer at Lewis and Clark college; Charles A. Sprague, editor, Oregon Statesman; Kalesh Dudnarikar, Bombay, India, professor at Reed college; and Dr. Karl M. Capper-Johnson, president of Oregon United Nations association.

Planning to make the trip from here are Mrs. H. P. Bosworth Jr., Mrs. Virginia D. Card, Miss Inez Holcomb and Mrs. Albert Straus.

Bus Hostess Is New Career

New York—If the glamorous job of an airline stewardess appeals to you but you're strictly a landlubber, a new field might be the answer—a career as a bus hostess.

To be a success, a girl needs a bubbly personality, the capability of a nurse, a good figure, and a wide vocabulary. A high-school diploma and some working experience also are essential. Applicants must be at least five feet, three inches tall and between the ages of 19 and 27.

Before being accepted for a 500 interview with one bus system, applicants complete an eight to 12-week course at the Grace Downs modeling school in New York. The course is identical to the one given to airline hostesses.

Starting salaries range from $62 to $75 a week. But with overtime, it's possible to earn $100 to $125 a week. That's more than an airline hostess makes, said L. Hilton Warwick, operating manager of the bus system, who interviews all applicants.

A bus hostesses' job includes serving meals, carrying electric shavers or bottle-warming equipment to passengers, checking reservations, and passing out magazines and pillows.

If a girl is ambitious, it's possible to work up to the position of assistant terminal manager. "But most girls like being hostesses so much that they don't want to do anything else," Warwick said.

For mixers, blenders and similar electrical appliances, precautionary rules for care are: Be washing away shortly after use, and drying with a soft cloth before storing.

Painting of Actor Unveiled In Time for Sunday Event

A painting of Shakespearean actor Philip Hanson was unveiled this week to coincide with his performance of "Kings and Clowns" in Medford Sunday, May 15.

Now on display at The Marl, Ashland, the painting is reported to be receiving much attention and appreciation. The somber background sets off a brilliant gold crown and startling red robe thrown over chain mail armor.

Guild is Sponsor
Tudor Guild is sponsoring the local appearance of Hanson's one-man "Kings and Clowns." Each year the organization presents a major event to raise funds for scholarships awarded to young actors participating in the festival.

The San Francisco Chronicle describes the unique one-man performance as "astounding," and the Christian Science Monitor said "it leaves the mind awed."

Show time is 8 p.m. and tickets are on sale at The Marl, Ashland, Swem's in Medford, or from Tudor Guild members.

Roosevelt PTA Sets Last Meet For This Friday

The last meeting of Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association will be Friday, May 13, at 2:30 p.m. at the school.

Robert Hayworth, Medford city park and recreation director, will speak on playground facilities. He will outline the summer program for children, including YMCA and school district plans, Campfire and Boy and Girl Scouts camping. A question and answer period will follow.

An installation ceremony will be held for next year's newly elected PTA officers. There will be baby sitting by the Girl Scouts in the health room.

Robert Sage, Roosevelt principal, announced at the last PTA board meeting, that the first graders would give a program for next year's first graders and their mothers the afternoon of May 24th. He stated that all prospective first grade children, who are new to the school district, and have not been contacted, should call the school, Spring 2-2300, and leave their names and addresses.

Kitchens Call for Cool Colors

By JOYCE SCHULLER
United Press International
Chicago—Cool colors are the best choice for kitchen walls, most decorators agree.

But they suggest accenting the cool blues, blue-grays, aquas and pale greens of kitchen walls with warm reds, brilliant yellows, bright coral or apple green. Use these accent colors on the insides of drawers and cabinets as well as for curtains and accessories.

One of the newest cool-warm color combinations for kitchens combines light periwinkle blue walls with cabinet interiors of white and accessories of bright coral.

The same white and coral accents are good with turquoise walls, which also look striking with pink cabinet interiors and accessories.

Even blue-gray kitchen walls lose their drabness when complimented by bright yellow accents.

Pale green, an old standby for kitchen walls, takes on a new look when contrasted with white cabinet interiors and grape accessories or decals of grapes on cabinets.

White, always a kitchen favorite, most often is combined with red or yellow, but looks newer with apple green cabinet interiors and accessories. Aqua also combines well with white walls, particularly when used on the ceiling and for the refrigerator. Bright blue and orange look even more dramatic with white walls.

The right choice of color for a kitchen can do more than make it cheerful. A very small kitchen seems larger, painted a light color, while a long galley-like kitchen appears squarer when the narrower end walls are painted a deeper color than the two side walls. A high ceiling is "lowered" by painting it a deeper hue than the walls, while a low ceiling seems higher painted white or a pale color.

Whatever colors are used, the paint should be either a gloss or semi-gloss enamel to resist grease fumes and moisture and withstand frequent scrubbing.

Mrs. Martha Dawkins, southern Oregon artist, painted the work from a photo of the actor in his outstanding role as King John in last summer's Shakespearean Festival.

Twirlers Club Cancels Dance; Others Are Set

The Y Knot Twirlers club has cancelled its dance which had been set for Thursday at the YMCA because of the benefit dance to be held there Friday night. Y Knot members' next dance will be in two weeks.

Two other square dance groups have scheduled dances for Saturday night. Pioneer Square Dance club will hold its monthly dance May 14 at Roxy Ann Grange hall, Spring street, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Kenneth Hood, club caller, will call the squares. Potluck refreshments will be served. A new round dance, "Lucky polka," will be taught.

The Applegaters will have their regular dance Saturday at Provolt Grange hall. Round dance instruction will begin at 7:45 p.m. and square dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Bryon "Buz" Dibble, club caller, will call. Potluck refreshments will be served.

Phi Mus Plan For State Day

Eugene—Alumnae of Phi Mu sorority will hold a Phi Mu State day on the University of Oregon campus Sunday, May 15.

The one-day meeting will bring together the alumnae from Washington and Oregon. Featured speaker will be Mrs. Russell E. Walker, former assistant dean of women in the University of Oregon.

Events of the day will include registration and a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Robertson, 2011 Lincoln street, at 1 p.m. no host luncheon at the Eugene hotel followed by a business meeting.

Party Honors Mrs. Johnson

Central Point—A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Burl Johnson May 5 at the home of Mrs. Charles Hughes, 174 Glenway. Mrs. Hughes presided over the occasion, which she had made for the occasion. Mrs. Claire Johnson baked the birthday cake.

Others attending were Mrs. Millie Johnson, Mrs. Addie Greenman, Mrs. Al Hooker, Mrs. Richard Simmons, Mrs. Phil Simmons, Mrs. George Simmons, Jimmy Hughes, Terry Simmons, and the Misses Donna Johnson, Punkie Parker and Cherry Greenman.

California Woman At Family Reunion

Hornbrook—Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Killingsworth attended a family reunion recently at the home of Mrs. Killingsworth's mother, Mrs. Martha Russell in Orangevale near Sacramento.

Mrs. Russell, who will be 82 years old on June 10, has six children, 23 grandchildren, 46 great grandchildren and 1 great-great-grandchild.

Forty-four relatives attended the recent event.

Mrs. Russell, who has made several trips back and forth across the plains in the first in a wagon, has a hobby of writing poetry. In recent years she broke a wrist making it difficult for her to write in long-hand so she taught herself to type.

You can store dry onions at room temperature for two to four weeks.

Southern Oregon artist, Mrs. Martha Dawkins, recently completed an oil painting of Shakespearean actor Philip Hanson in the role of King John (above). Unveiling of the painting, which is now on display at The Marl, Ashland, was withheld to coincide with Mr. Hanson's appearance at the Medford High school Sunday, May 15. The actor's one-man show, "Kings and Clowns," has been hailed as "astounding," and the many Shakespearean roles he portrays "leaves the mind awed."

'Diamond' Subject For Gem, Mineral Meeting Friday

Nature's hardest known substance, the diamond, will be the subject of the next meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club at Girls Community club Friday, May 13, at 8 p.m. A motion picture, "A Diamond Is Forever," will be followed by a question and answer session. The Crooners, a vocal quartet whose members are Linda Mullen, Annette Carter, Paulette Creel and Mary Carpenter, will sing.

All persons who attended the last two field trips are requested to bring material collected on those outings for a field trip display. Any other display items, including diamonds, will be welcome.

The meeting is open to everyone interested in any phase of geology, mineralogy or the lapidary arts. Prizes will be given and refreshments served.

For information concerning the club and its activities, those interested may call the president, Frank Otis, Spring 2-5644, or the secretary, Delmar Smith, NORmandy 4-1355.

Responsibilities Needed by Youth

New York—Dr. Ernest Osborne, of Columbia University Teachers college, urges parents to provide more "growth-producing responsibilities" for their children.

He said there should be more recognition of the child's "acceptance as a family member with his own rights and privileges—as well as his responsibilities."

This includes personal privileges such as his own key to the house, a special work corner or work room, and other signs of recognition that he is a responsible member of the family unit.

Dr. Osborne also criticized many parents' failure to allow children "the right to make mistakes."

"Only when children are denied such opportunities because parents are blind to them or too busy to be bothered do we find 'irresponsible' youngsters," Dr. Osborne said.

A combination of port wine and orange juice makes a richly flavored glaze for roast pork, chicken or duck. Baste the meat often during roasting for deep color and flavor.

Extension Agent Arrivals For County

Mrs. Leona Lee Sheehan, formerly of Mount N. D., is the new home extension agent for Jackson county, according to a joint announcement by Clifford B. Cordy, chairman of the county extension office and the county court.

Mrs. Sheehan was temporary home extension agent for Wells county, North Dakota, before coming here. Before that she worked as home service director for a North Dakota power company.

Mrs. Sheehan was graduated from North Dakota State university, Fargo, N. D. She replaces the former Miss Mary Pat Lucy who recently married and is living in Sheed, Ore.

The annual home extension program was planned with Mrs. Lucian Van Gordon, Medford, county committee chairman. A program planning meeting was held for Jackson county on April 29 when Miss Evelyn Funk, state agent for southwest Oregon was here.

The annual program will include a work shop on tailoring, family finance with emphasis on insurance, a series on family life taught by Mrs. Roberta Fraser, Oregon State college specialist in family life, selecting and buying children's clothing, low calorie meals, storage of small electric appliances, plus special interest topics chosen by the various home extension units.

WAC Opens Campaign

One of the biggest recruiting campaigns in history is underway by the U.S. Army's Women's Army corps. The WAC celebrates its 18th anniversary this year.

Recruiters are seeking "The Young Lady Born to be a WAC," a girl born May 14, 1942, who will join the WAC that day of this year.

Lt. Mae E. Hodges, commanding officer for WAC recruiting in Oregon, said this state leads the Sixth Army in WAC recruitment. She added that it is expected that Oregon will be the state to find the young woman who is to be honored.

Women interested in service with the WAC may contact Lt. Hodges through the local Army recruiting service in the Post Office building.

Today's Homemakers Like Lived-In-Look for Home

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
New York—(UPI)—I knew that there was some reason you and I were putting off the spring cleaning. But it took a bunch of motivation researchers to put the blame squarely where it belongs—on our new philosophical attitude toward dirt.

Today's homemaker, these experts found, would rather have a house with a "lived-in" look than one of spit and polish.

Women have decided we are fighting a losing battle against maintaining a household in the tradition of "so clean you could eat off the floor." The floor itself darkens, objects break, children spill, the walls turn drab. Wear and tear are the ultimate victors, said the researchers.

"While the value of cleanliness is a dominating American value," said their report, "...devotion to it seems increasingly modified."

Social Research Inc. did the study for Servicemaster, a Chicago firm which calls itself the nation's largest professional cleaning organization.

The Clean Old Days
Researchers talked to hundreds of women, both those who hold jobs outside the home and those who do not.

Here is one example of how the home situation has changed in the last 25 years, the report said.

"With the first warm rays of spring sun, grandmother would start a housewife cleaning binge that included such chores as carrying the carpet into the backyard for its annual beating.

"Today spring sunshine will find new spots on the sofa, dust on the carpet and smudges on the walls, but instead of urging the housewife on a cleanup campaign a sunny day is more apt to send her to the park with the children or shopping for a new bonnet."

The researchers credited

Gold Hill Family Home From Trip

Gold Hill—Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Jones recently visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Jones and family, Sisters, Ore. Their son is assistant ranger of the Metolisi district in the Deschutes National forest.

He took them on a drive to various scenic spots in the area, including Cove Palisade State park, which is to be abolished for a dam.

Mr. Jones, who is city recorder-treasurer for the city of Gold Hill, attended a meeting for city finance officials at Bend.
