Book Is Reviewed For Study Club

"Living in State" by Beatrice Russell was the book reviewed recently by the Wednesday Study Club at Girls' Community club. The review was given by Mrs. Hazel E. Flurry.

The author has described life in the American Foreign Service as seen through the eyes of a junior officer's wife. Her husband Earle Russell Jr., passed the State Department examinations and requested Ethiopia as his post.

Mrs. Russell dispels the idea that Foreign Service officers and their wives are "cookie pushers" living a life of ease. She says diplomats are referred to disparagingly as the "striped-pants set" and yet the social end is a serious business, according to Mrs. Flurry's review.

Mrs. Rita Miller read an article describing the Parke-Bernet Auction galleries on Madison Avenue, New York, where many priceless treasures are sold; many coming from Fifth avenue homes which are "breaking up."
