The newly-elected officers of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian church are to meet with the state CWF officers today at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ralph Cook. Mrs. Cook is state worship chairman.

The state officers will conduct workshops for the district Monday at First Christian church.

"Beyond Brick and Mortar," a movie filmed in the Belgian Congo, was viewed last week by the Fellowship at the church.

It was narrated by Mike Elliott, a building contractor, who recently returned to the states after working with the churches in the Congo where there are nine mission stations.

An old African proverb states, "A tree doesn't reach its full height in a day. It takes time!" The various dialects makes it hard to work with the people and the film showed how the people are being educated in various schools.

Belgium helps the medical part of the program with the missionaries. The Congo compares in size to Kansas it was stated.

Other facts brought out were that the natives must work one month to buy a pair of shoes, which he wears only on special occasions. To purchase an attractive wife one pays the equivalent of $300 to the bride's family.

The devotional part of the recent program was given by members of Troxell circle. Luncheon was served by members of Johnson circle.
