Ike Signs Foreign Aid Bill Carrying Slap at UAR, Castro

Washington—UPI—President Eisenhower has signed into law a $4,086,300,000 foreign aid authorization carrying a congressional slap at the United Arab Republic and the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba.

Ike's Statement

It issued this statement by the President today:

"I am highly gratified by the action of the Congress on this measure.

"The act embodies essentially all the requests I have put forward as necessary for the successful continuation of the mutual security program and, with one regrettable exception, the Congress has resisted the addition of amendments which would adversely affect our foreign relations or impair the administration of the program."

Suez Canal Shipping Issue

A White House spokesman said the exception referred to was the so-called "freedom of navigation amendment" aimed at discrimination against Israeli shipping in the Suez Canal by the United Arab Republic.

The President said he hoped Congress now would vote the full amount of actual money

Davidson Wins Convention Point

Los Angeles—UPI—The Democratic national committee man from Oregon said Saturday he had persuaded convention planners to switch the state's delegation to a hotel closer to the sports arena by assuring them a $2100 debt to the party would be paid this year.

C. Girard Davidson said he also had obtained 500 tickets for the acceptance speech by the nominee selected at the July session, in the 108,000-seat coliseum for his state.

He said the Oregon delegation, 34 delegates and 16 alternates, would be housed in the Mayfair hotel, just 10 minutes drive from the sports arena, instead of at a Pasadena hotel as originally planned.

authorized for economic programs, the development loan fund and the military assistance program.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of all but $89,700,000 of the $4,175,000,000 which the President said he needs to bolster the armed forces and economic of friendly nations in the 12 months starting July 1.

UAR Might Lose Aid

Congress wrote into the law over the State Department's objections a suggestion that the President shut off further help for the United Arab Republic if the UAR persists in barring Israeli ships from the Suez Canal.

It also ordered a halt to the remaining trickle of economic aid to Castro's Cuba unless the President himself finds this should be continued.

Powers Said Ordered To Confess Espionage

Washington—UPI—An American official says that U.S. spy plane pilot Francis G. Powers was under orders to admit his espionage mission if captured by the Russians.

George V. Allen, director of the U.S. information agency, said Sunday he understood Powers' admission of his intelligence role to his Soviet captors was in line with instructions from his superiors.

Allen later told United Press International that the pistol and hypodermic needle carried by Powers were for use in taking his life only if he were in danger of being tortured.

The information agency chief belittled speculation that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev might try to stage a propaganda coup by turning Powers over to U.S. authorities during the summit conference.

Allen predicted that Khrushchev would hold Powers "close to his chest for a while." He said about all this country could do would be to try to see that Powers gets a fair trial.

Rockefeller Lifts Remaining Doubts

Washington—UPI—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller removed any lingering doubts about his availability for the Republican Vice Presidential nomination Saturday by refusing two prominent National GOP convention posts and announcing he would not even attend the convention.

His statement was interpreted here to mean that he is keenly interested in first place in 1964, in case Nixon fails to win the White House this year.

Rockefeller's strong disavowal of any convention role and his emphatic refusal to serve as a running mate with Nixon also left him free to criticize the latter if Nixon wins the White House.

United States Said Violating Charter of UN

Khrushchev said American statements on the spy plane were those normally made only by a nation in a state of war and that they doomed the summit in advance. He said the United States was "crudely flouting" international law and had violated the United Nations Charter.

Eisenhower's statement showed he was in no mood to accept Khrushchev's apology ultimatum.

Eisenhower took note of Khrushchev's 40-minute tirade this morning and said Khrushchev was under "an evident misapprehension" when he charged that the United States had threatened to continue flight over Soviet territory.

"The United States has made no such threat," Eisenhower said. "Neither I nor my government has intended any."

Says Flights Suspended

Eisenhower said the U. S. government's statements on which Khrushchev based this charge did not, in fact, go further than to say that "the United States will not shirk its responsibility to safeguard against surprise attack."

"In point of fact," Eisenhower added, "these flights were suspended after the recent incident and are not to be resumed. Accordingly this cannot be the issue."

Eisenhower then announced that if the Soviet attitude made it possible to come to grips in Paris with the plane incident, he was planning in the near future to submit to the United Nations a proposal for creation of a U.N. aerial surveillance to detect preparations for attack.

Appeals for Moderation

He said he had intended to hand this plan to the Paris conference. He explained that the surveillance system would operate in the territories of all nations present to accept such inspection.

Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle of France then pitched in with appeals to Khrushchev for moderation.

But Khrushchev was impervious to the appeals of the British and French peace-makers. He said the spy flights are a matter which deeply involves Russia's internal policies and that they could not be tolerated.

The three-hour session broke up without any agreement whether there would be a next meeting. The fate of the Summit conference became a gigantic question mark.

Stocks Higher in Early Dealings

New York—UPI—Chemicals, electronics and some steels led stocks higher in the early dealings today.

Du Pont and Union Carbide led the blue chips with gains of more than a point, and General Electric with a rise of nearly 2.

In the electronics, Magnavox added around 2 and IBM, Litton, Texas Instruments and Raytheon more than 1. Polaroid jumped nearly 3 in the cameras and Universal Match around 1 in the vending machine stocks.
