Julius Boros Wins Colonial

Fort Worth, Tex. — Julius Boros flew home to see his two-week-old son for the first time — a $5,000 richer and packing a distinct partiality for southwestern golf courses after winning the Colonial National invitation title with par golf Sunday.

The 40-year-old New Englander, who now lives in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and plays out of Mid Pines, N.C., sank a 20-foot sidehill pressure putt for a birdie on the 17th green to win a wild final round scramble.

Boros' final round 36-34-70 along with earlier rounds of 70-71-69 for 280 enabled him to nose in ahead of Kel Nagle and Gene Littler who finished at 281, and the fast-closing Ted Kroll, who wound up at 282.

Morris Kicks Winning Point

Eugene — Two former University of Oregon linemen picked up loose footballs and ran them back for touchdowns to give the Alumni a 13-12 victory over the 1960 Duck varsity here Saturday.

Greg Altenhofen grabbed a blocked punt and rambled 30 yards to give the Alumni team of Norman Van Brocklin its narrow victory. The score came with 2 1/2 minutes remaining in the game.

The alumni scored its other touchdown when husky Bob Peterson yanked for a fumble and ran 40 yards for the score in the third quarter.

Jack Morris, a defensive back with the Los Angeles NFL Rams, kicked what proved to be the winning conversion.

Coach Len Casanova's Ducks opened the scoring in the first quarter on Ben Brown's three-yard burst into a Van Brocklin aerial. Their end zone. It was set up by Bill Swain's interception of second six-pointer came in the third quarter when fullback Bruce Snyder took a pitehout from Oregon quarterback Dave Gross and scored from 34 yards out.

Portland Man To Lead Climb This Summer

Portland, Ore. — A former Portland man will lead an American expedition this summer against the second highest mountain in the world, it was learned here Saturday.

Plans were announced for an expedition to be headed by U. S. Army Major William D. Hackett, who is now stationed as a special training officer in Fort Monroe, Va., to tackle the 28,250 foot Mt. Godwin Austin.

The peak, generally known as K-2, is only 778 feet lower than Mt. Everest. It is located in the Kashmir part of the Karakoram.

Dick Phillips Sets Pace For Tacomans

By ORVILLE BOYINGTON United Press International

Tacoma's fast-rising Giants are only half a game out of first place in the Pacific Coast league today and Dick Phillips is the guy responsible.

Phillips, an infielder, came on as a pinch hitter in both ends of a twin bill Sunday with Salt Lake and sparked a double win which lopped a full game off Sacramento's lead over Tacoma. Phillips banged a solo home run in the eighth inning to give Tacoma

Stenlund Hurls Spear 260 Feet

By HAL WOOD Fresno, Calif. — The glory road that leads to Rome for track and field artists moves to Los Angeles on Friday for the big Coliseum Relays.

And some of the boys who turned in disappointing results in the West Coast Relays here on Saturday night will have to improve to keep in contention for the big Summer Olympic Games.

But the future looked bright for others, including: — Doug Smith, the skinny Occidental sprinter who edged the powerful Ray Norton in the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds. It was the first defeat in 30 starts for Norton since last summer.

— Dave Edstrom, Oregon, who won the high hurdles in 13.9, but says he would have done "much better" if he hadn't locked a rima with Chuck Cobb, ex-Stanford runner, while going over one hurdle.

— Gary Stenlund, Oregon State, who got off the second best javelin toss in United States this year with a measurement of 260 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Stenlund, only 20 years old, topped his best throw of last year by more than 12 feet and figures to make the U.S. team — if he continues to improve.

Edstrom, a decathlon expert, is pleased with his development in the high hurdles. "If I can get my time down around 13.5 or 13.6 I may give up the decathlon and try to make the team as a hurdler," he said after his easy victory. "I love the decathlon, however."

Darrel Horn of OSC won the broad jump in 25 feet 5 1/2 inches and Jim Grelle, ex-Oregon ace, took the mile in 4:09.9; Amos Marsh of OSC had a 9:5.5 in the 100 yard dash but finished fifth; Norm Hoffman of OSC finished third to Grelle in the mile with 4:15.8.

Chevy Stopside—packing up to 1,000 pounds of payload.

2 Upkeep costs are low despite 2,000-mile-a-month schedule.

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

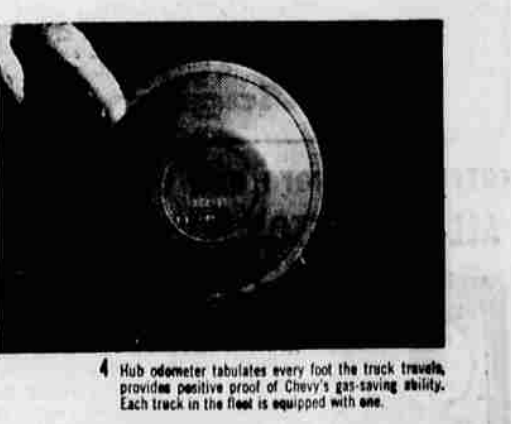

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day, each truck averaging about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon... with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

No wonder, is it, that Chevrolet's famous Thriftmaster 6 is the most widely used truck engine on the road? Well, truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevy performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torston-Spring Ride is.

No question about it, Chevy's independent suspension works as beautifully in a big-tonnage tandem as it does in a pickup. Soaks up road shock that can beat a truck to death before its time. Protects fragile loads. Makes life easier for the driver. Lets you travel at faster safe speeds, even off the road, to get more done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy truck soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

3 "Handles like a car," driver reports. Chevy's famous for it.

4 Hub odometer tabulates every foot the truck travels, provides positive proof of Chevy's gas-saving ability. Each truck in the fleet is equipped with one.
