

'Kidnapping' Victim Gets No Sympathy

Sumnerdale, Ill. — A patient in a doctor's office glanced out the window and two youths grab a third and drag him into an automobile which sped off.

She telephoned police and a dozen squad cars came racing to the scene. A few blocks away they caught up with the 'kidnap' car, cruising at a leisurely pace.

The three occupants got off with a stern lecture after explaining it was just a stunt to impress some girls.

Life on 'Outside' Proved Too Rough

Deland, Fla. — (AP) — A 36-year-old man wanted for escape from a Georgia jail walked into the sheriff's office here and gave himself up. He'd been on the loose for almost a year.

"I'm tired, cold and can't get a job," the weary escapee said. "I just want to go back where I know I'm wanted."

Oiga is the Teutonic name for a "holy woman."

Future Device To Permit Talk With People Anywhere

Indianapolis, Ind. — (Science Service) — The future will see a lightweight device that people can wear and use to see and talk with anyone, anywhere, even on the opposite side of the world or high above in space. Dr. Paul A. Siple, explorer and U.S. Army Research Officer, predicted to the National Science Fair here.

Faster air, water and ground transport was also foreseen by Dr. Siple. To accomplish this will require stronger, lighter, and more heat resistant metals and ceramics, better fuels, lubricants and batteries linked with better vehicles, roads and airports.

Accurate Forecasts Seen
Scientists of the future will learn to synthesize food, fuel, clothing and shelter out of the elements carbon, oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen, he predicted.

New weather satellites will give accurate world-wide forecasting.

Government Employees Get Money for Ideas

Memphis, Tenn. — The government rewards its employees at the Memphis General depot with bonuses for coming up with ideas to improve efficiency.

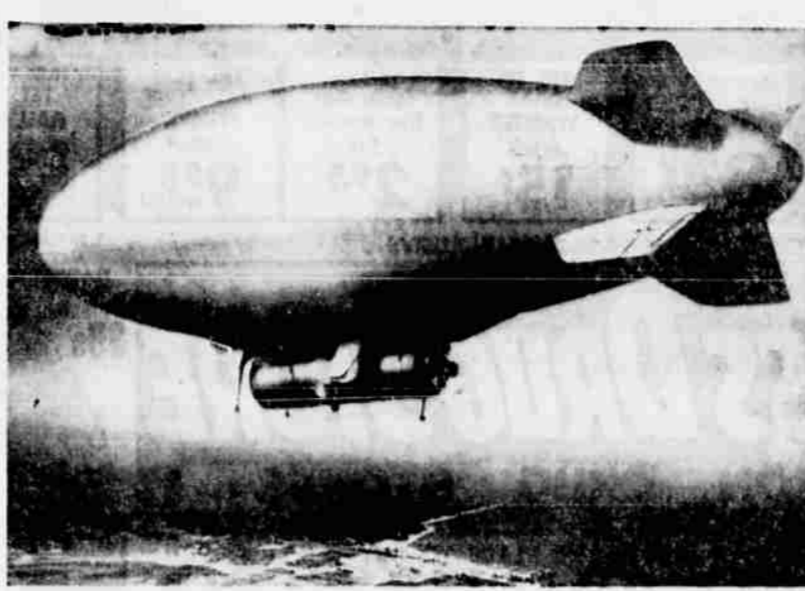

One employe received a cash award when he suggested that holes be drilled in the handles of mops and brooms so they could be hung neatly on the wall. Shortly afterward a special rack for brooms and mops was installed.

Another employe won an award for suggesting that the government stop wasting time drilling holes in the handles.

Thirty-two years ago, as a Boy Scout of 19, Dr. Siple accompanied Adm. Richard E. Byrd to Antarctica, then only 10 per cent explored.

He told the teen-age winners of science fairs all over the world assembled here that never before has there been a greater challenge to youth to supply fresh energy and ideas to improve the world.

BOOSTER HAULER—Huge blimps such as the one shown in this drawing can be used to haul 40-ton rocket boosters from factory to launch site. According to the Goodyear Aircraft Corp., airships ranging in size from 1,500,000 to 5,000,000 cubic feet could haul present and future boosters without difficulty, requiring little ground handling and only limited runways. —(UPI Telephoto)

Nixon To Present Future Program

Portland — (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon said in a filmed interview here Tuesday night that he is not a "stand pat" presidential candidate.

He said he would "present to the American people my own program for the future at the same time that I defend the policies of the past."

Nixon said he thinks the Eisenhower administration has established "a splendid" record. He admitted however, there are "certain areas where my approach may vary to an extent from that of the President."

Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon introduced the vice president, describing him as the best trained candidate for President in the nation's history.

Nixon stands alone on the Republican ballot in the Oregon presidential primary Friday.

Parents Often Aid Delinquency In Own Children

Atlantic City — (Science Service) — A study of 400 juvenile delinquents in a mental hospital showed with "regular frequency" that the parents unconsciously fostered the delinquent behavior in their own children. Dr. Donald J. Carek, Willard J. Hendrickson and Donald J. Holmes of the University of Michigan Medical Center told the American Psychiatric association here.

The parents show an addiction to the child's delinquency that is much like drug addiction. They even suffer a "withdrawal symptoms" when psychiatric treatment results in the child's abandoning his delinquent behavior.

Finds Excuses
Then the parent is likely, unconsciously, to find excuses to interrupt the treatment or place obstacles in the way of its progress.

This unconscious interference by parents is one of the major difficulties in treating the child and his parents, the psychiatrists reported.

They said that as the method for treating delinquent adolescents improves, it becomes necessary to develop more effective treatment for

CHURCH FIGURE DIES

Philadelphia — (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Francis Shunk Downs, 74, former secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and author of several religious books, died Tuesday.

INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE

Dallas, Tex. — (AP) — Fast police work ruined a young housewife's chicken dinner. The housewife's bracelet was found next door in Ollie Wallace's hen house, chicken feathers were found in her trash can, and the cops caught her taking a roasted bird from her oven. She was to be charged with chicken theft today.

School Committees on Anti-Crime Proposed

Salem — (AP) — Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton said today that a high school advisory committee on crime prevention has been proposed by the Oregon Justice Department.

Thornton said he has sent letters to each high school in the state asking that crime prevention committees be formed.

What will you be doing... MAY 20?

THE NATION WILL BE WAITING TO SEE

All America will be watching what you do on May 20.

All America will be waiting to see the kind of president Oregon wants.

Our primary will be the first in which all avowed candidates are entered. The first primary in which special issues haven't clouded the main issue. The first chance voters of any state will have to show their preference strictly on the merits of the candidates.

Your primary vote is important! People all over the country watch primaries—just as if they were public opinion polls. So, May 20 is an opportunity—and a responsibility—not to be missed. Of the several candidates entered, Vice-President Dick Nixon stands alone. Alone in proven courage, experience, leadership. The one man of real presidential timber. The one man as big as the job itself. The one man tested by experience at home and abroad—trained for the presidency in the crucial years ahead. It's time for you to take action yourself.
