RECORD HOLDER—Don Korth, Southern Oregon college javelin record holder will be among Red Raider entries Saturday in the NAIA District 2 track meet at Portland. The freshman from Phoenix has heaved the lance 208 feet 7 inches. Others making the trip from the Ashland school are Stu Baker in the sprints, Len Dobry in the discus, Ora Bannister and Charles Swingle in quarter mile and Don Story, who will team in the relay with Baker, Bannister and Swingle.

George Trautman Tells Baseball Bill Opposition

Washington —(UPI)—Minor league boss George M. Trautman today underlined organized baseball's vehement opposition to the Senate's pending baseball bill.

Trautman was scheduled to appear before the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee which extended its baseball hearing to question him. His prepared statement was made public Thursday.

Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick expressed strong opposition Thursday to the bill on grounds that it would destroy the minor leagues and "degrade" the majors. However, Branch Rickey, president of the Continental league, urged its approval.

The 78-year-old Rickey used his testimony to lay his oratorical lash on organized baseball. He led a Continental league delegation which accused the major league owners of blocking the formation of the new league with delaying tactics and what Rickey called "impossible" indemnities to existing leagues.

Frick denied that he was throwing any roadblocks in the path of the new league. He said he hoped Rickey would succeed. He complained, however, that a new major league must not be based on the "wreckage" of the minors.

The proposed baseball bill is part of an omnibus sports bill. It would give a limited exemption under the anti-trust laws to certain baseball operations. But controversial provisions would limit to 100 the number of players any major league team could control and set standards to ease the path for new major leagues.

Portland —(UPI)—The Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast baseball league announced Thursday they have purchased Milt Graff and righthanded pitcher Harry Byrd. The Beavers purchased Graff, a regular second baseman for Portland last year, from Dallas-Fort Worth of the Texas league and bought Byrd from the Miami club of the International league.
