Maid Nine Splits With Vancouver

Memorial Stadium, White City—Rogue Valley Dairy Maids and Vancouver, B.C. South Hill Queens divided Saturday night in their Northwest Women's Major softball league twinbill here.

The Maids took the first conflict 4 to 1 and the Canadian club the second 4 to 2. Three runs in the fifth inning helped Rogue Valley to triumph in the opener. The Maids got the advantage of hits by Ellen Callaghan and Pat Barron, two bases on balls and a fielder's option. Barron pitched a two hitter for the Maids and got two of RV's five hits in her three times at bat. Wilda Van Ryzik, Queen starting pitcher, fanned batters five times.

Vancouver got single runs in the fourth and fifth innings for its margin of victory in the nightcap. Both teams tallied twice in the first inning. The Dairy Maids out hit the Queens nine to six but two errors hurt.

Jean Main hit three for four for the Rogue Valley crew and she and Shirley Topley of Vancouver doubled. Janet Pfaff had two hits in four times up. Topley registered six strikeouts in facing RVDM batters.

The outcome gave each team a 2-2 record in the league.

Eugene reportedly beat Salem last Thursday 2 to 1.

Corvallis—UPI—Oregon won the Northern Division golf title Saturday with a team score of 587, while Oregon State was second with 590. Idaho third with 614 and Washington State last with 627. OSC's Stu Schroeder was medalist with 140 for the 36 holes.

First diesel locomotive in the United States was tested by 10 different railroads during the years 1924-5.

District 6 Mantle At Stake Tuesday

Southern Oregon conference baseball competition is scheduled to conclude tomorrow with titular honors to be determined in one engagement and third place and cellar position at stake in the other.

Medford and Klamath Union High schools collide at 2 p.m. in a playoff at Gems stadium at Klamath Falls for the District 6 A-1 banner. Grants Pass and Crater vie at 4 p.m. at Central Point in regular season tussle postponed from last Friday.

The Black Tornado of Medford and the Pelicans of Klamath Falls completed their regular loop slates last Friday. And, the playoff was necessitated when the Pelts spilled Medford 3 to 2 to knock the Tornado in the standings. Each finished its eight-game conference schedule with a 7-1 standing.

Anderson or Quinney
Coach John Kovenz said this morning that the Medford pitching choice will be either Jerry Anderson or Bob Quinney. Klamath tutor Bill Mansfield is almost certain

Herrmann On All-Star

Portland—UPI—Linfield and Willamette placed nine men on the all-Northwest Conference baseball team announced by the league's coaches.

Players from champion Linfield included pitchers Fred Herrmann and Tom Younker, first baseman Les Openthaler, second baseman Bill Bauer and outfielder Jackie Riley.

Willamette placed pitcher Tommy Lee, catcher Jiggs Burnett, infielder Hisao Sato and outfielder Dave Brock.

Catcher Wally Moore and outfielder Royce McDaniel were named from Lewis and Clark, while College of Idaho placed third sacker Bob Persson and pitcher Dell Smith.

Shortstop Tim Smith from Whitman rounded out the team.

to send Blake Griggs to the hill.

Anderson held KF to one hit last month at Klamath Falls and Quinney was the winner in relief in a non-loop tussle in Pelican town. Andy was the losing chucker last Friday, while Griggs was the loser in the counting tangle at KF and the winner here last week end.

Crater (2-5) can have third place alone in the final standings with a win over Grants Pass (1-6). A GP loss would leave the Cavemen alone in the conference basement. But, a Grants Pass victory would mean a tie for third place, or the cellar, among the Cavemen, Crater and Ashland (2-6).

Winner of the Klamath-Medford game will go against North Eugene next Friday at Eugene in the state title quarterfinals. North's Highlanders are champs of District 5.

Hairline Fracture Descriptive of PCL

By ROY WEBSTER
United Press International
A hairline fracture just about describes the Pacific Coast league today.

If Tacoma and Sacramento were any closer in the standings they would be tied for the league lead and if Eddie Fisher's hairline fracture was any closer together he probably would have a no run no hitter to his credit.

As it stands, Tacoma is one again in first place by half a game or 22 percentage points over the Solons, and Fisher has won his third straight pitching assignment, a no run three hit affair, with his glove hand taped because of a hairline fracture.

In Second
The Giants bounced Sacramento into second place last night with a 3-0 victory in the California city. It was the eighth time this week in a week that the clubs had traded first place.

In Other Action, Vancouver trounced Seattle, 11-2, Portland and Spokane traded wins with the Beavers taking the first one, 8-5, and the Indians the second, 4-0; and Salt Lake City had little trouble defeating San Diego, 14-6.

The Mounties scored enough runs to win in the second from when they shelled Rainier starter Dave Stenhouse from the mound and scored four runs. Vancouver players connected for three round-trippers in the game, two of them with two men on.

Howie Goss clouted a solo homer in the sixth, Jim Dyke blasted a three-run blow in the seventh, and little Bobby Balceua put one over the wall in the eighth, good for three more.

Portland put all its eggs in one basket in the opener at Spokane when they got to Indian starter Bill Beibel for eight hits good for eight runs and the ballgame. Chuck Churn came on for Spokane to stem the tide.

Sweet Revenge
Bill Harris earned sweet revenge for the Indians in the second contest as he allowed only four hits and no runs in the seven innings to take the win. Spokane scored their four runs individually in the third, fourth, sixth, and seventh innings.

Home runs told the story at Salt Lake. Bees players, R. C. Stevens and Hank Mitchell hit two each with Harry Bright and Chick King connecting for solo blasts accounting for six round-trippers in the biggest display of power by the Utah club this year.

Mitchell connected for his first homer with none on in the second. Bright hit a two-run blow in the third. Stevens followed with a solo clout, and Mitchell came through for runs four and five in the same stanza with his second home run in two innings.

Stevens put one over the wall for his second in two innings in the fourth with two on. King polished off the display with a solo homer in the eighth. The Bees had a total of 15 hits off three Padre pitchers.

San Diego also got 15 hits but not the runs. Floyd Robinson belted a ball out of the park for the Pads but passed teammate Gary Peters on the base paths and was called out by umpire Pat Orr.

A doubleheader is scheduled tonight at Vancouver between the Mounties and Portland Beavers and Tacoma will square off with Sacramento in a single game.

Pittsburgh Nabs Rubber Tilt 8-7 From Giants; Pinch Hit Nips SF

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
A bench is made to sit on but Danny Murtaugh wants to stand up and cheer for the one that's winning ball games for him in Pittsburgh.

"We didn't have much of a bench last year and you saw what happened," Murtaugh says. "This year we have a fine one and you can see what's happening now. The greatest feeling in the world is to glance down your bench in the late innings and spot someone you know can break it up."

The tobacco-chewing, lantern-jawed Pittsburgh pilot experienced that feeling Sunday when he looked down the dugout in the 11th inning, told pinch-hitter Hal Smith to grab a bat and saw him use it to deliver a two-out single with the bases loaded that scuttled San Francisco, 8-7.

Smith's blow off southpaw ace Mike McCormick gave the Pirates the "rubber game" of a three-game series and increased their National league lead to 1 1/2 games over the Giants.

Skinner Homers in 9th
Bob Skinner sent the game into extra innings with a two-run homer off Billy Loes in the ninth that tied the score at 7-7.

Milwaukee defeated Chicago, 3-1. Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia, 9-6, and Cincinnati salvaged the nightcap of a doubleheader, 5-3, after St. Louis won the opener, 5-3.

In the American league, the Senators swept a doubleheader from the White Sox, 7-5 and 3-2, to shave Chicago's lead to a half game. The Orioles took over second place with a rain-abbreviated 7-6 win over the Indians. The Tigers extended the Red Sox losing streak to nine games by winning both ends of a twinbill, 6-2, and 5-2, and the Yankees beat the Athletics, 9-7.

The Braves won their game from the Cubs even though held to four hits by Glenn Hobbie. One of those four hits was a two-run homer by Joe Adcock that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. Juan Pizarro hurled a seven-hitter for his third triumph.

Drysdale Stops Phils
Don Drysdale made his first relief appearance of the season for the Dodgers and halted a Phillies rally to preserve Ed Roebuck's second victory. Los Angeles blew a four-run first inning, lead, but clinched the game with two runs in the seventh after trailing 6-5.

Daryl Spencer's ninth inning homer against the Reds won the opener for the Cards after Stan Musial had tied the score with a homer in the eighth.

Spencer also homered in the nightcap with a man on base, tying the score at 2-2 in the first inning, but Vada Pinson single home the tie-breaking run in the third and the Reds never were headed.

Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos pitched the Senators to their two victories over the White Sox, Pascual registering his fifth victory in the opener with help from Tex Clevenger and Ramos winning his first game of the season in the nightcap after five straight defeats.

First Defeats At Home
The two losses were the first of the season at home for the White Sox, who had won 10 straight at Comiskey Park.

Baltimore rapped Cleveland ace Gary Bell for seven runs in two innings to move within a half game of the top. Jackie Brandt's two-run homer highlighted a four-run first inning rally and the Orioles chased Bell with three more runs in the second. Woodie Held homered for Cleveland in the second and Vic Power hit a grand-slam in the third but Jack Fisher took over for Skinny Brown and stopped the Indians. Rain caused postponement of a scheduled second game.

Jim Bunning of the Tigers won his first game of the season by holding the Red Sox to six hits in the opener. Hank Aguirre was the winner in the nightcap although Pete Burnside had to come to his aid in the eighth.

Yogi Berra hit two home runs and Bob Cerv and Roger Maris one each in the Yankees' victory over the A's. Cerv hit his homer with two on in the fourth to spark a four-run rally that gave New York an 8-0 lead. Jerry Lumpe hit two homers for Kansas City.
