Market Falter In Final Hour

New York—UPI—Stocks, irregularly higher all day, faltered under a barrage of profit taking around the close today.

The market was ultraselective until the final hour when even some of the recently favored electronics showed the strain of heavy selling. Other chief targets were the steel, auto and oil groups.

Universal Match, strong the last three sessions, dropped a small fraction, as did Polaroid with a loss of more than 4.

International Business Machines up nearly 12 at its best, lost more than half of the rise in the late selloff. Texas Instruments lost more than 3 and Zenith around 2. Selling dropped many of the recently popular glamor stocks from the day's best levels.

Porter Favors Law to Control Explosive Trucks

Washington—UPI—Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) told the House Judiciary committee Wednesday he favored legislation which would place private and contract carriers of explosives under regulations now governing common carriers.

Porter said the Interstate Commerce commission after an investigation found the explosion occurred as the result of the explosives-laden truck being left locked but unattended while parked upon a public street.

Porter said the ICC has recommended private and contract carriers be subject to regulations now governing common carriers.

Under the proposed legislation private and contract carriers carrying explosives and other dangerous articles could be fined up to $1,000 or imprisoned for one year or both for violating ICC regulations.

PGE's Bond Sale Approved by Hill

Salem—UPI—Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill today approved the sale by Portland General Electric company of 15 million dollars in 5 1/2 per cent series first mortgage bonds due in 1990.

PGE plans to dispose of the bonds to 15 institutional buyers in similar but separate purchase agreements.

The utility plans to use the proceeds to dispose of $12 million in outstanding notes payable next June 1, and to reimburse its treasury by about $3 million to cover funds used for acquisition of property and in improving facilities.

Man Pleads Not Guilty of Homicide

Pendleton—UPI—Claude Ellis Milligan, 38, Boise, pleaded innocent Wednesday to a negligent homicide charge in connection with the traffic death April 11 of Margaret Nelson in a collision east of here.

Trial date was set for July 11. Milligan is free on $2,500 bail.

Wall Street Chatter

New York—UPI—The rally in defense-related issues as a result of the summit debacle is coinciding with improved technical patterns for quite a number of other well-deflated stocks, according to Prentice-Hall, Inc.

The publishing firm says that if you want to go along with this trend, it's wise to confine new purchases at this time to (1) primarily defense issues, like aircraft and military electronics; (2) other strong growth areas like office machines, electrical equipment, drugs and glass; and (3) defensive situations like electronic utilities, natural gas, soft drinks, food, finance and retail chains.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute is convinced that while an indefinite period of adjustment lies ahead for the oil companies, with the probability of mergers for some of the weaker or strictly domestic producers, purchases of stocks in the major companies at current prices should prove safe and attractive holdings for the patient investor.

Ike's Japan Trip May Be Postponed Because of Riots

Japan Must Assure Safety of President

Washington—UPI—U. S. officials said today President Eisenhower's trip to Japan next month might be postponed unless the Japanese government gives assurances soon that his reception will not be endangered by political turmoil.

According to informed quarters, a decision must be made in Washington within a few days on whether to go ahead with plans for the trip to Japan and Korea.

If the trip goes off as scheduled, it will be expanded to include the Philippines and Formosa, and possibly other Far East countries.

Some official quarters said the state department had suggested a postponement until July: In Tokyo Wednesday night, Chief Cabinet Secretary Etsusaburo Shiina said Japan was not considering recommending a postponement.

Arrangements for the President's long swing across the Pacific are going forward, officials said, despite continued anti-American demonstrations by left-wing elements in Japan.

Students, socialists and some labor union members have been demonstrating for six days against pro-American Premier Nobusuke Kishi and the new U. S. - Japanese security treaty.

At least 30 policemen were injured, five seriously. There were no indications that any students were injured.

But in Himeji, outside of Kobe, 13 students were injured when about 500 of them clashed with police while staging antitreaty demonstrations.

It was the seventh straight day of antitreaty demonstrations in the capital. Members of the student federation warned the demonstrations would continue "every day until Kishi resigns."

The left wing opponents of the U. S. - Japanese security treaty - equipped with Communist party sound trucks - shouted demands for "Kishi resign" and for Eisenhower to cancel his June visit.

After passing the American Embassy the huge throngs began streaming toward Tokyo's main railway station many blocks away where they planned to disperse and board commuter trains that would take them back home. By then more than 100,000 had thronged.

Students Stone Police
Kishi remained in his office and looked nervously out the window from time to time as a roar swelled up from the crowd for him to resign because he had aligned Japan with the United States in the cold war.

The streaming, fanatical students outside yelled for Eisenhower to stay home and for Kishi to scrap the defense alliance. He had no intention of doing so.

The students milling outside the Parliament Building began stoning police when they found they could not break through the cordon.

Police said 10 police were injured, two seriously, in the first volley of stones from the fanatical Zengakuren Students Federation.

I stood behind the police cordon at the main gate while stones rained onto police ranks.

Faces Spurt Blood
I saw two policemen just in front of me who were hit by huge stones. Their faces spurted blood.

Tens of thousands of Communists and leftist demonstrators, many carrying red flags or banners demanding "stay home Eisenhower," streamed into the area forming a dancing, shouting mass.

Japanese policemen, used to wild demonstrations, blanched. One collapsed next to me sobbing and shaking.

"I'm going home," he cried, and some of his fellow policemen carried him away.

10,000 Police on Duty
At least 10,000 policemen manned strategic spots, blocking off the entrance to the Diet compound and the adjacent official residence of the premier. But in contrast to the crowd of demonstrators the police force seemed puny.

BULLFIGHTER DIES
Sevilla, Spain—UPI—Rafael Gomez, "El Gallo," one of Spain's leading bullfighters in the 1920s, died Wednesday. He was 77. "El Gallo" was the brother of Jose Gomez, "Joselito," regarded by some aficionados as the greatest torero bullfighter of all time. "Joselito" died of a gore wound in 1924.

Rockefeller Announcement Causes No Stir Among Dick Nixon's Supporters

Washington—UPI—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's announced availability for a draft for the Republican presidential nomination caused hardly a ripple today among GOP leaders.

Although he bowed out five months ago before he ever became an announced candidate, Republican leaders generally assumed that Rockefeller would take it if offered.

Hence they were not surprised by his statement at Albany Wednesday that he was available for a draft. But Rockefeller himself conceded this was only a remote possibility.

Northern Utility Cancels Application
Salem—UPI—Northern Utility company has withdrawn its application for a certificate of convenience and necessity to provide natural gas in the Chenoweth area adjacent to The Dalles, public utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill announced today.

Northern Utility, a subsidiary of Harvey Aluminum, asked that the withdrawal be effective upon the completion of negotiations for the sale of Northern to Northwest Natural Gas company - expected June 1.

Sprague Elected Chairman of Advisory Group
Salem—UPI—Former Gov. Charles A. Sprague Wednesday was elected chairman of Gov. Mark Hatfield's 17-member advisory committee on reorganization of state government. Former Gov. Robert D. Holmes, Portland, was named vice chairman.

Hatfield said he felt the three main objectives of the reorganization plan to be submitted to the 1961 Legislature are strengthening of related programs, possible reduction of the number of state boards and commissions and reduction in the number of independent elected officials - making them appointive.

Among the tentative proposals are making the positions of attorney general, labor commissioner and superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective. Another proposal would have functions of the board of control taken over by new integrated agencies.

Freeman Holmer, state finance director, said the general outline was to try to reduce the 171 agencies of state government to 91.

Twelve committee members attended the first meeting. Those unable to attend included prominent Central Point rancher John Day, recovering from an ordeal on Alaska's Mt. McKinley.
