

In the Days News

By FRANK JENKINS

From Louisville:
BALMY WEATHER and SHORT BALLOTS greeted Kentucky voters for the state's congressional primary election.

SHUCKS!
Some people have all the luck!

FROM Sacramento:
Governor Edmund G. Brown said today he is going to walk the streets of California to find out whom the people of California really want as the Democratic nominee for President.

He says:
"Polls have their place, but I have long since found that the only way I can really find out what the people are thinking is to listen to them myself."

He will start his walks in Los Angeles tomorrow morning and will continue them in Long Beach tomorrow afternoon.

IS IT A good idea?
It certainly is if you're interested in PICKING A WINNER. If you happen to have strong convictions as to what is right and what is wrong, I think maybe you'd better do some talking yourself instead of just listening. Personally, I'm so foolish as to believe that over the long pull leaders who have STRONG CONVICTIONS OF THEIR OWN as to what is right and what is wrong will be better for us and our children than those who are chiefly concerned with ANYTHING that will get the most votes.

Palate Surgery Technique Curbs Fuzzy Speech

Milwaukee, Wis. (Science Service) - A new surgical technique to close and lengthen a cleft palate in a single, one-hour operation has been reported here. The technique was said to prevent the fuzzy speech patterns that sometimes follow palate operations. Drs. Richard B. Stark and Clayton R. DeHaan of St. Luke's Hospital in New York City described their new technique at the American Association of Plastic Surgeons meeting here. They said they lengthen the palate by transferring to it a flap of mucous membrane and muscle from the pharynx.

Flap Prevents Leakage
The doctors reported that the flap prevents a leakage of air into nasal passages. This leak, which causes indistinct speech, often follows conventional palate operations in which the cleft palate is closed but not lengthened.

The two surgeons said they have now used the technique on 22 babies. They advised that palate operations should be performed before a child has begun to speak. Early surgery prevents the difficult problem of re-training a child to speak. The surgeons said it also may prevent hearing difficulties, a common problem among children with cleft palate.

The two surgeons' palate operation is believed to be the first of its kind. Palate closing and palate lengthening have formerly been separate operations, with the lengthening operation following the closing operation when fuzzy speech resulted.

Higher Taxes Cause Teeth to Fall Out

Richmond, Va. - A vigorous opponent of the proposed state sales tax gave his views at a public hearing before the finance committee of the state senate.

When one of the sharp-witted senators hit him with a difficult question, the speaker sputtered so hard his false teeth flew from his mouth. But he quickly regained his composure.

"I've lost my shirt oftentimes," he said, "but that's the first time I've lost my teeth over taxes."

Victim Fights Back, Then Pays a Fine

Lima, Ohio - Carmen Franch, 26, was the victim of an attacker... and his own temper.

A man walked up and slugged Franch from behind. Police came along and nabbed the assailant and then had to restrain Franch who wanted to get in some retaliatory licks.

Franch was so insistent he wound up with a $10 fine for disorderly conduct.

Although pneumatic tires were invented before automobiles, solid rubber was used at first on wheels.
