

GUARD HELPS—Also participating in the local campaign is Company E of the National Guard. Unit members are shown cleaning portions of Riverside ave. recently. Actively engaged in the same project is the Civil Air Patrol which has volunteered its cadets to help the Medford Jaycees Community Development committee in June. Up to now, many cadets have assisted the cause by doing "beautification" work around their headquarters at the Medford Municipal airport.

CLEAN UP—As part of the current Medford Junior Chamber of Commerce community development and clean up program, members of the Drag Master Car club are shown above cleaning up a lot on the South Pacific highway. Other groups actively involved in the city-wide promotion have been Brownie troop 43, who have cleaned up paper on Oakdale and J sts. near the high school; Girl scout troop 193; and Troop 212, who has helped by picking up paper and trash near the St. Mary's school. Dave Beck Wins Rehearing Fight

Olympia — Dave Beck Friday won his fight for a rehearing by the Washington State Supreme Court of an appeal from his 1957 grand larceny conviction. The court granted a petition by the retired Teamsters president and set June 14 as the date for re-argument. The order gave no reason for granting the rehearing but apparently the only question considered was Beck's contention that a trial court judgment of a criminal case cannot be upheld when an appellate court is equally divided. A King County Superior Court judgment that Beck, 65, pocketed $1,900 from sale of a union-owned automobile was affirmed last February by the State Supreme Court.

Rain Stops Work on Bull Run Dam No. 2

Portland — Excavation work on the site of Bull Run Dam No. 2 has been brought to a stop by 10 inches of rain that fell in the area this month. Contractors said the site was a quagmire and that work could not resume on the earth-fill structure until there was some drainage and drying.

SPOKANE ATTORNEY DIES MAIL TRIBUNE, Medford, Or. 3 Sunday, May 29, 1960

Spokane — Charles P. Lund, 83-year-old Spokane attorney, suffered a heart attack and died at a breakfast in honor of Sen. Stuart Symington at the Democratic State convention here Saturday morning. St. Paul, Minn. — Headaches are the leading cause of absenteeism from office and industry, reports the Minnesota State Medical Association.
