Stocks in Narrowly Irregular Range in Early Dealings

New York—(UPI)—Stocks moved within a narrowly irregular price range in the early dealings today.

Industrial stocks eased with much of the buying centering in stocks outside those used to compile the averages.

Vending machines, drugs, electronics and scattered aircrafts were strong.

Western Union, which blocked a possible nation-wide strike by settling on a two-year contract with union negotiators early this morning, picked up more than a point.

International Business Machines rose 3 points to a new high in the electronics where General Time spurred more than 1.

Steels were mixed with Youngstown and Bethlehem up small fractions and U. S. Steel and Republic easier. The autos favored a slightly lower price trend. Rails edged up, as did utilities. Universal Match added more than 1 and Vendo around 2. Addressograph spurred nearly 4.

Quotes From the News

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Miami Beach—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, urging labor unions to bring pressure on Congress to extend the minimum wage law:

"The control of Congress rests in the hands of the conservatives, and legislation that is for the benefit of the workers of this country has difficulty in passage."

Los Angeles—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), on whether Democrats should raise questions about the Eisenhower administration's past policy on U2 flights:

"To ask them is not a sign of appeasement. To answer them will not bring national disunity."

Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Stanley Antzack, national commander of the Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic, protesting because 11 men and two boys in Confederate uniforms defeated nine Union-garbed men in a sham battle:

"Would they let a union group win a battle down South?"

Washington—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, on the death penalty for atrocious crimes:

"To abolish the death penalty would absolve other Rosenbergs and plane bomber Jack Grahams from fear of the consequences for committing atrocious crimes."

Agreements for Military Action Will Be Upheld

Washington—(UPI)—The United States repeated its assurances today that it will continue to defend of allies whose bases are molested by Russia in retaliation for border violations by airplanes.

State Department Spokesman Lincoln White made the statement to reporters when asked for comment on Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's announcement Monday that he had ordered Soviet rocket forces to strike at any base from which a plane might violate Iron Curtain frontiers.

"We have agreements with countries for military protection," White said, "and let there be no mistake that those commitments will be lived up to."

White had made the same statement three weeks ago just after the U2 incident but before the collapse of the summit. His remarks followed a threat by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to retaliate against bases from which reconnaissance flights were launched.

This was before President Eisenhower's May 16 announcement in Paris that reconnaissance flights over Russia had been called off.

White called Malinovsky's speech a "typical Soviet tactic" of trying to "intimidate governments which are absolutely blameless in this situation."

Eaton To Pay Porter's Expenses

Washington—(UPI)—Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) Tuesday disclosed that his expenses to an East-West meeting of parliamentary officials in Stockholm this week end will be paid by Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton.

Porter said there are "no strings attached" to the $1,000 Eaton is putting up. Eaton is an advocate of a softer line toward the Soviet Union.

Porter said lawmakers from countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain will attend the two-day meeting, starting June 4, to plan the "foothills" parliamentary disarmament conference.

Porter said he will suggest at the Stockholm meeting that Soviet leaders renew their invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Russia. The invitation was withdrawn when the Summit Conference collapsed. Porter said the President should be given "equal time" in the Soviet Union to make up for the reception given Nikita S. Khrushchev in this country.

Smith Campaign Cost Said $9,773

Salem—(UPI)—Elections officials said today a total of $9,773 was spent in the campaign to nominate ex-Gov. Elmo Smith, a Republican, to the U. S. Senate in the May 20 primary.

The committee to nominate Mrs. Maurine Neuberger as the Democratic U. S. Senate candidate listed expenses of $16,668. Some of these funds were transferred from the campaign fund of the late Sen. Richard L. Neuberger after permission was obtained from contributors.

The campaign expenses of State Sen. Edwin Burns (R-Medford), who won the GOP nomination for Congress in the first district, were listed as $3,723.

38 Traffic Deaths in Oregon in May

Salem—(UPI)—The State Traffic Safety Division said today its official figures show Oregon closed out last month with 38 traffic deaths—five less than for the same period of 1959.

The year-long toll so far is 137 compared with 179 for the like period of 1959.

Body of Fisherman Located in Lake

Vancouver, Wash.—(UPI)—The body of David Moats, who had been missing on a fishing trip on Vancouver Lake since last week was recovered Tuesday.

The body was found by Louis Schleischer, father-in-law of the victim.

Clark county sheriff's office said that another missing man, Charles Foshaug, has not been found.

U. S. Nuclear Test Ban Delegation Asks Advice On Research Explosion Point Raised by Soviet

Geneva—(UPI)—The Big Three nuclear test conference cancelled its session today at the request of the U.S. delegation which was waiting for new instructions from Washington on points about research explosions raised by the Soviet Union.

The instructions were expected to contain details of guarantees that underground explosions to perfect detection methods would not be used also for weapons development.

Informed sources said a key to the American approach might be an off-the-record offer to circumvent current U.S. laws on atomic secrecy so Soviet experts can better check the progress of the new research program.

Because this would be a particularly sticky political issue in the United States in a presidential election year, the program probably will not be attempted for many months, the sources said.

Soviet chief delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin, before Nikita Khrushchev's blowup at the Paris summit conference, had agreed to a limited extension of underground shots for research purposes.

County to Enforce New Boating Laws

A real drive for enforcement of the new state boating regulations will be started by sheriff's deputies this week end, according to Sheriff Joe Walsh.

Deputies patrolled the county's water bodies at the start of the fishing season, but state police made the few arrests. These were mainly for not having life preservers, state police said.

During each of the two shifts to be operated by the sheriff's office, one deputy will be on boat patrol, one on the road, one on the desk at the office in the court house, and the chief criminal deputy and one man will be held in reserve for investigations.

Walsh said this week end, the deputies will use a borrowed boat and as special deputies personnel from the Rogue Aqua Ski club. During the week ends all deputies will be on standby duty, ready to go on call. This means deputies will get one Saturday or Sunday off every 30 weeks, Walsh explained.

Two Drivers To Be Cited After Mishap

Drivers of two vehicles involved in a collision Tuesday were advised by state police that complaints will be filed against them in district court.

Nancy Clair Dalton, 29, of 287 Eighth st., Ashland, is to be cited for having no operator's license on her person, and Anthony Klimek, 1973 Camp Baker rd., is to be cited for following too close, state police reported.

Klimek's southbound pickup truck struck the Dalton car, which was stopped for a red traffic light on Highway 99 south at the Bear Creek Orchards intersection, according to police.

Kennedy, Symington Borrow Truman's Speech Technique

Los Angeles—(UPI)—Sens. John F. Kennedy and Stuart Symington, Democratic presidential hopefuls, borrowed Harry Truman's "give 'em hell" technique Tuesday night and lashed out at Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Eisenhower administration's U2 policy.

But a third Democratic front-runner for the nomination, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, declining to mention names or discuss U2 "mistakes," said Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev is "sadly mistaken" if he thinks Communist maneuvers can divide the United States.

All three presidential hopefuls agreed, however, they would be in no hurry to hold a summit meeting with Khrushchev if they were elected. Khrushchev made clear after the sunlit failure that he felt he could achieve better results with a new U.S. president.

"The Communists are trying to divide us from our allies and among ourselves," said Texas Johnson. "But in this country there is no peace party and no war party."

Johnson, Kennedy and Symington spoke at a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner for California Gov. Edmund G. Brown attended by 1,200 persons. California holds its primary next Tuesday.

Kennedy, victor in seven consecutive primaries, assailed the administration's U2 policy, and had sharp words for Nixon because, he said, the Vice President accused him and Adlai Stevenson of being soft on communism when they criticized the government's handling of the incident.

Said Missouri's Symington: "It's funny to hear Nixon defend the Eisenhower policies on the one hand and explain why he is against them on the other."

He added, "If we don't change our policies soon, we are going to be a second class nation."

West Alliances Not Exclusive

Washington—(UPI)—President Eisenhower said today that western alliances should not be so exclusive as to exclude the Iron Curtain nations if they want to join.

However, he said the tense international climate will require the West "for some decades to come" to maintain "strong organizations among ourselves."

Eisenhower spoke informally on the south lawn of the White House to 140 delegates to the second Atlantic Conference of Young Political Leaders, a meeting sponsored by American groups supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Although the President foresaw an ultimately ideal international situation in which the Iron Curtain countries could join with the West in pursuit of common goals, he described current world conditions as difficult.

"I believe for some decades to come there will be the need for strong organizations among ourselves," he said. "We have got to be very close together."

Hatfield Urges Coordination by Welfare Officials

Salem—(UPI)—More than 150 state and county welfare officials heard Gov. Mark Hatfield call on them Tuesday for more coordination and an "imaginative approach" in administering Oregon's welfare program.

He said costs are too high and there is too much duplication of effort. He called for new ideas and experimentation in welfare work.

The officials were called here by the governor, Hatfield said he would like to see similar meetings held with him semi-annually.

The governor cited a case where one family received welfare benefits from three counties at the same time. "This is an example of how closer coordination would benefit everyone," he said.

New Ideas Urged

He said counties might well look to programs in other counties in seeking new ideas. He cited the pilot welfare work project in Polk county and the home nursing service program in Clackamas county.

Hatfield said the state must emphasize that it is willing to help senior citizens. Along with cutting costs, Hatfield said welfare officials must look at the advantages of advancing vocational rehabilitation, youth work programs and mental health "because all this ties in with welfare to some degree."

Kennedy Group Spent $54,328

Salem—(UPI)—The Oregon Kennedy for President Committee spent $54,328 for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) in campaigning for the state's May 20 primary election.

The amount was the most expended by or for any single candidate in the primary.

Backers of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), Kennedy's closest opponent, listed campaign expenses of $12,818 and supporters of Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) spent $13,253.

The Massachusetts Kennedy for President committee with headquarters in Boston was the biggest contributor to Kennedy's Oregon campaign—$51,010. Contributions totaled $55,835 in Oregon, leaving the Kennedy Oregon group with a surplus.

The biggest Kennedy expense in Oregon was $34,543.19, paid to the Portland firm of Helms & Tuttle. Inc., for radio and television time, newspaper space and bus cards, and printing and distribution of campaign folders.

'ILLEGAL' SHOPS FOUND

Moscow—(UPI)—The newspaper Evening Moscow said Tuesday night several illegal privately owned shops manufacturing icons, crosses and other religious objects have been discovered in Moscow. It said the underground shops were run for private profit by professional criminals or persons without visible means of support.
