Lot in Jacksonville Selected For Site of Old Rose Garden

A city owned lot immediately north of the Old Pioneer Methodist church, at the corner of Fifth and D streets in Jacksonville, has been chosen by the Medford Rose Society as the site for the first Old Fashioned Rose garden to be established in this area.

A mutual agreement the city of Jacksonville will set aside this lot for use as an Old Rose garden will assure continuous use of the property for this purpose for an indefinite period, but for a minimum of not less than five years. The city will provide reasonable maintenance and care, including irrigation and weeding of the garden as long as it exists.

The Medford Rose Society is an unincorporated non-profit organization, affiliated with the American Rose Society. They have assumed the responsibility of acquiring and planting the rose bushes and will prune and spray them as required as well as such other things which may be necessary and desirable to make the Rose garden a worthwhile community project.

Donated Joseph Kern a nursery man in Menton, Ohio, whose specialty is old roses, and one of the few nurserymen who sell these old varieties, was contacted by the Rose Society and told of their plan to start a garden in the historic town of Jacksonville. Mr. Kern responded with a gift of 96 roses.

A small plaque will be placed in the garden informing visitors of his gift. Mr. Kern is an accredited rose judge and a member of the Old Rose committee of the American Rose Society.

Last month members of the Medford Rose Society planted the 96 roses in an all-day session. Assisting were Mrs. W. R. Peabody, George Renaker, Carl Norris, Eldred Peyton, Von Quackenbush and Mrs. and Mrs. Ranauld Astell.

Rogue Gallery Exhibit Changes Are Announced

An exhibit of art work by Medford High school students now being shown at Rogue gallery will close Thursday, June 2, and a new exhibit will open Sunday, June 5, it was announced yesterday.

The coming exhibit will include sculpture by Tom Hardy, five oil paintings by Richard Doi and water colors and prints by Imanuel Piladakis.

Mr. Hardy, a native of Oregon, is a widely known sculptor whose works have been shown in many cities of the United States. A former Oregon teacher, the artist now lives in California and will be in Medford to arrange the display.

Mr. Doi is assistant professor of art at Southern Oregon college, and Mr. Piladakis is on the faculty of Oregon State college.

It is announced that the gallery will open at 3 p.m. June 5 for a preview for members and guests. At 3:30 p.m. the group will adjourn to a basement room of California Oregon Power company for a movie, "Bisons in Steel" produced by Mr. Hardy. This will show the creation of his sculpture, "Bison Herd No. 4" which was commissioned by Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Baldinger. Dr. Baldinger is director of the University of Oregon Art Museum.

Following the movie, refreshments will be served in the gallery and guests will have an opportunity to meet both Mr. Hardy and Mr. Doi.

It is pointed out that the student exhibit, which has been praised by many touring the gallery in recent days, will remain open until 4 p.m. Thursday. A number of the works have been sold, with the money going directly to the students.
