Feud Erupts Over Porter's Proposed Stockholm Trip

Washington (UPI)—A feud broke out today over a trip planned by Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) to an East-West meeting of parliamentary officials at Stockholm, Sweden, which will be attended by representatives of Communist countries.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) to make it "perfectly clear" that Porter's views will "neither represent the official position of the Congress or the U. S. government."

Porter immediately replied that Miller's action was "preposterous, cynical, nonsense." He said he attended a similar meeting in London last February, made a full report to Congress and received no criticism.

Porter said he would talk to Russian delegates in an effort to the invitation for Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union reinstated. He said he believed if Eisenhower made the trip it would show the Russians "we're not imperialistic and not materialistic."

Leland Knox Is Named Receiver For Escrow Firm

The Medford Escrow Company, Inc., has been forced into a receivership because of insolvency, it was reported this week.

Leland Knox, Medford certified public accountant, has been appointed receiver by Circuit Judge James M. Main, despite the request of O. H. Bengtson, Medford lawyer and secretary of the firm, that he be named.

Bengtson, a minority stockholder in the firm, filed a complaint in circuit court asking that a receiver be named, and declaring the firm is insolvent.

Bengtson asked that the receiver seize and hold all corporate assets, books, financial records, files and other properties, continue temporarily the collection and disbursement of funds paid into the company under existing escrow agreements, but to conduct no new business, among other things.

The corporation holds about 300 escrow files under the terms of which about 300 persons pay varying sums of money each month. Bengtson said that the corporation is insolvent and unable to pay its creditors, and is without funds to make disbursements to parties to escrow contracts on monies received prior to May 2, 1960.

The corporation has in its possession physical assets of personal property and office equipment and cash belonging to others of about $4,000.

Anyone having claims on the escrow company may make his claims known at the Medford hotel, temporary offices of the Medford Escrow company, it was announced.

Expenses for Five Candidates Listed

The elections department has received five more statements of expenditures for campaigning in the primary election from candidates.

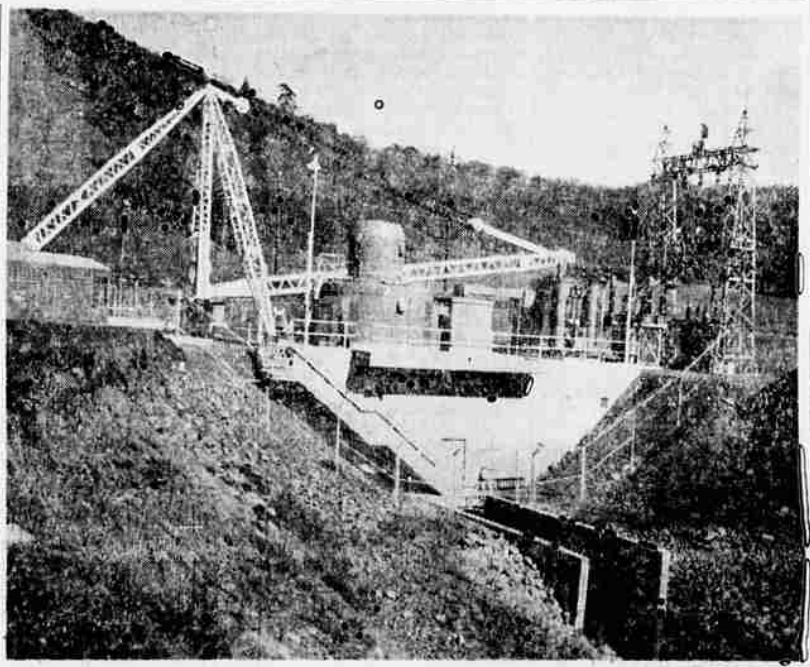

Among those filing campaign costs are Miss Frances Imel Gallatin, $16.70; Betty L. Ladd, $18.50; Ray J. Schumacher, $10 plus $20 filing fee; Alan B. Holmes, $57 plus $20 filing fee; Edward A. McGinty, none; Arthur M. Boner, $85.60; Mark E. Boyer, $82.75; E. H. Taylor, $165.10 plus $20 filing fee, and Chester L. Rapp, $51.85 plus $20 filing fee.

Rapp listed $5 donations from Mrs. Homer Pellett, Lloyd Selby, Don Stathos and Fred Rapp, and $20 from Joe McCallister.

All other campaign expenses were stated as paid for by the candidate.

Durno Disapproves Plan To Create Park on Coast

Florence (UPI)—Dr. Edwin Durno, Republican candidate for Congress from the Fourth District, said Thursday he opposed creation of a National Seashore Park in the Florence-Redport area.

NEW POWERPLANT—Above is the new Green Spring powerplant which went into operation May 6. Furnished with water from Howard Prairie reservoir, the plant produces 16,000 kilowatts. Power is purchased by the California Oregon Power company. Water drops 1,983.5 feet to the 23,500 horsepower four-jet impulse turbine. Revenue from the plant is expected to return about $18 million of the estimated $24,275,000 cost of the Talent project. (Bureau of Reclamation Photo)

Planners' Recommendation Upheld by Medford Council

The Medford city council last night upheld a planning commission recommendation that a change of zone for property located within the boundaries of a proposed civic center area be denied.

R. L. Van Sickle was the only councilman to vote in favor of the request, which would have changed two lots located on Eighth st., between Holly and Ivy sts., and across from West Side park, from a multiple-family to a commercial zone.

Attorney Robert Boyer, who represented himself and others who have a financial interest in the property, argued for nearly 15 minutes in favor of the request and said the action of the planning commission in recommending denial was "questionable."

Boyer had appealed the commission's recommendation to the council. He told the council that a $45,000 service station would be built on one of the lots if the requested change of zone was granted.

He contended that the commission had two main reasons for recommending denial, neither of which are right.

One of these, he said, was that to grant a zone change would be strip zoning of an arterial street. The request for a change of zone is only for two lots, he said, so the argument against strip zoning is not applicable.

Boyer attempted to allay fears that the service station would generate traffic onto Eighth st. He said a service station doesn't cause traffic.

He also pointed out that the planning commission used the reason that commercial developments would generate traffic onto Eighth st. in denying the request. However, he said, this doesn't make sense because the civic center which they are planning would generate much more traffic than a service station.

Councilman Donald Hanson defended the planning commission and said the city has "top-flight" people on the planning commission and in its planning technician. He said they are doing a "par-excellent job."

Several representatives of the First Presbyterian church appeared in opposition to the request as did two residents of the area.

The commission had mentioned the fact that the lots are in the proposed site when it recommended denial of the request at its May 12 meeting, but it had not given this fact as one of its main reasons for denial.

However, Boyer felt to the contrary, and alleged that the commission is trying to depress property values in this area by keeping commercial development out, which is a "misuse of zoning."

The community facilities administration of the housing and home finance agency, has allotted an $11,000 loan to Eagle Point for additional planning for sanitary sewage facilities. Sen. Hall S. Lusk said today.

The interest-free loan will be used in planning for a sewer system estimated to cost $170,000, he said.

Eagle Point residents approved a $30,000 bond issue to help finance construction of a sewer system late last year. The $40,000 difference between the bond issue and estimated cost will be financed through the Bancroft plan over a 10-year period.

The proposed system will include laterals, manholes, cleanouts and other facilities within the city limits, and outfall to pump, a pump station, sewer line from the pump to a pond, and the pond and fence.

Woman Survives 6 Days in Wilds After Air Crash

Victim Stumbles Into Ranger Station

Ash Mountain, Calif. (UPI)—A San Francisco woman stumbled into a Sequoia National Park Ranger station today, six days after surviving a plane crash in the High Sierra.

Janet Robertson, 25, told rangers the pilot was killed in the crash of their light plane near 9,000-foot Hocket Meadow. She had wandered aimlessly without food before locating the station.

The pilot was Jack Steele, 28, a sales engineer for a San Francisco industrial chemical manufacturing firm. The crash occurred while the couple was headed for a holiday week end in Las Vegas. Said "Very Weak"

Miss Robertson estimated the crash scene was about three or four miles from the ranger station.

Rangers described her condition as "very weak." She suffered bruises and possible broken ribs in the crash.

The Cessna 120 took off from San Carlos, Calif., Saturday and refueled at Fresno later in the day. The plane was reported missing Monday when Miss Robertson's mother became alarmed because her daughter failed to phone from Las Vegas as she had promised.

City Wins Four Safety Awards

The city of Medford has won four National Safety Council traffic safety awards, according to a telegram received by Mayor John W. Snider from the safety council's headquarters in Chicago.

Awards were won in school traffic safety education, traffic engineering, traffic enforcement and municipal court. Details of the awards have not yet been received by the city.

City Manager Robert Duff called the number of awards won "outstanding." He noted that the city won safety council awards for school traffic safety education and traffic engineering last year.

Duff said the safety council sets up safety standards for cities, and those cities which meet or exceed these standards receive awards.

Awards are given by the council for the death and injury rate, accident rate, public safety education and safety organization, in addition to those which the city won.

At the end of each year the city prepares inventory sheets of its record in each category and sends this inventory to the safety council for evaluation. The council then makes the awards on the basis of the city's performance in each category.

Duff said the awards will be officially presented to the city at a later date.

North Entrance to Lake Still Closed

The north entrance to Crater Lake National Park will be open about June 15, park service officials said today.

The rim road probably will not be open until about July 1.

Snowfall during May delayed progress on plowing snow from the north entrance road, park officials said, but recent warm weather has contributed to plowing operations.

Firemen Coax Dog From Pipeline

Firemen were called about 6 p.m. yesterday to help coax a dog from a drainage pipeline in the 1700 block of Stratford ave.

The dog, Pete, a cocker spaniel belonging to the Leo Radke family, 1732 Stratford ave., apparently had crawled into the pipe to a point about one block from the nearest opening. Unable to figure out how to get out, he sat and yelped.

Pete at first failed to respond to calling and firemen were summoned. He was finally coaxed out.

Mrs. Radke said the dog had entered such pipes a couple of times before and had come out when called. It is thought he enters the pipe to catch frogs.

SAYS IKE 'DANGEROUS'—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gesticulates during a Kremlin press conference in Moscow today.

He said President Eisenhower was irresponsible, unfit for office and "dangerous" as the head of a major state. Khrushchev offered Eisenhower a job as "manager of a children's home" in Russia, where he said, the U. S. leader could "do no harm." The Soviet Premier also said that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was ready for a "lunatic asylum." (UPI Radiotelephoto)

Crop Dusting Pilot Killed in Crash Near Airlie

Dallas, Ore. (UPI)—A crop dusting plane flying out of Salem crashed and burned in a field near Airlie this morning, killing the pilot.

Killed was Jerrold O. Jeldness, 36, Salem. He was flying for Krietzberg Flying Service. He was alone in the craft, a Piper PA18.

The crash occurred about 3 a.m.

George Krietzberg, owner of the flying service, said in Salem that Jeldness left on the spray job about 4 a.m.

Krietzberg said the federal aviation authority advised him it is sending a man from Portland to investigate.

Cause of the crash was not immediately known.

Jeldness had flown for Krietzberg for seven years. Krietzberg said he was one of the best pilots in the area.

Jeldness was married and the father of three children.

Krietzberg said it was the first plane crash during the 12 years since he started his business.

Sewage Problem To Be Discussed

Possible solutions for the sewage problem in the area southwest of Medford will be discussed at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Jackson county courthouse auditorium, a spokesman for residents of the area has announced.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss elimination of a health hazard caused by piping septic tank effluent into irrigation ditches. The area includes Rogue lane, Clover lane, Peach st. and Maple Park addition.

Dr. C. I. Diamond, Jackson county public health officer, warned that ditches carrying septic tank effluent could transmit typhoid fever, infectious hepatitis and bacillary dysentery.

Expected to attend the meeting tonight are Dr. Drummond, County Sanitarian Orie Moore, and Jack Hoffbuh, Medford Irrigation district manager.

Ike's Opposition to Reunification Said 'Absolutely Untrue'

Washington (UPI)—The White House today described as "absolutely untrue" Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's claim that President Eisenhower opposed German reunification during their Camp David talks last September.

The White House also reiterated this country's intention to "stand firmly" by our allies.

That was a reference to Khrushchev's repetition at a Moscow news conference today of Soviet threats to launch rockets at bases from which any planes take off and violate Soviet air space.

Khrushchev told newsmen that Eisenhower had informed him at Camp David he was "not willing" to see a united Germany because the United States fears a strong Germany.

"Absolutely Untrue"

"The reference to the German unification is absolutely untrue," Associate White House Press Secretary Anne Wheaton told newsmen.

She said Eisenhower was aware of Khrushchev's latest news conference remarks in which the Soviet Premier again made a bitter personal attack on Eisenhower.

Mrs. Wheaton said that while the White House had "no comment at this time" on the rocket threat, she wanted to point out that the State Department has said "we will stand firmly by our allies."

She said that all the White House had to say "at this time," seemingly leaving open the possibility that more might be said later.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was a surprise addition to the President's appointment list this morning. Herter's meeting with the President was not disclosed until after it was held. They presumably discussed Khrushchev's latest statements.

Trouble in Soviet

Some members of Congress suggested that Khrushchev's bitter personal remarks about Eisenhower might indicate he was in trouble at home. This view was expressed by Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) said Khrushchev, judging by his most recent remarks, appears to be "frightened about something and is whistling in the dark" to keep his courage up.

Before the White House issued its statement, a high U. S. official had asserted that Khrushchev "perverted" Eisenhower's Camp David remarks on Germany. He

26 Changes Made In Valuations

Twenty-six changes were made in assessed valuations as the Jackson county board of equalization held its last session yesterday, according to County Assessor Ray Schumacher.

Some of these were higher and some lower than the original appraisal made by the county assessor's office, Schumacher said. Most of the changes were less than 5 per cent.

Largest change made by the board was for the Rogue Valley Manor. The assessor's office had appraised the market or true cash value of the partially completed manor at $1,215,340, based on 25 per cent completion, and estimated the taxes due at $26,000. However, the board established the true cash value at $735,200 based on 15 per cent completion. The assessed value was established at $63,800.

Next in size of change was the Craterian building in Medford which was devalued by $7,000 in assessed valuation. Smallest change made was $80 for Ashland residential property.

Schumacher explained that much of the board's work came from reappraisals made by the county assessor's office, but which were not made in time to be included on the tax rolls before the board met.

The hearings involved 26 property owners representing 33 pieces of property, Schumacher said.

President Said Unfit for Office, Irresponsible

Ike Said To Fear German Unification

Moscow (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev launched another bitter personal attack on President Eisenhower today, saying he was irresponsible, unfit for office and "dangerous" as the head of a major state.

Khrushchev also claimed that Eisenhower told him at Camp David he did not favor unification of Germany because he feared a strong Germany.

As he did at a press conference in Paris at the collapse of the summit conference last month, the Soviet Premier gesticulated with both hands in an excited manner as he lashed out at the U. S. President before 400 newspaper, television and radio correspondents.

He offered Eisenhower a job as "manager of a kindergarten" in Russia where he could "do no harm."

Makes Rocket Threat

Khrushchev also said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was ready for a "lunatic asylum."

He reiterated a threat by his defense minister that Soviet rockets would strike at foreign bases from which any planes took off and violated Soviet air space.

Compared with Khrushchev's tension-filled meeting with 1,500 to 2,000 correspondents in Paris after the summit collapse, today's was smaller but was marked by similar tension and emotion.

In contrast to Paris, where his audience was heavily pro-western, American and other western correspondents were vastly outnumbered today, easily 20 to 1. In this setting, Khrushchev won frequent stormy applause from Communist reporters.

Repeats Threat

Minister Andrei Gromyko said on Khrushchev's left was interpreter Victor Sukhodrev, who accompanied him on his trip to the United States last September. The Premier's remarks were interpreted into English for the benefit of about 20 English-speaking correspondents.

'Dark Age for America'

After reading a long statement in which he reviewed the revised disarmament proposals the Soviet Union presented to the world Thursday night, Khrushchev invited questions and made these other points:

If French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan spoke up honestly and boldly, they would admit they also opposed a unified Germany.

The Eisenhower administration is "the dark age for America and the rest of the world."

Eisenhower was a virtual puppet for then Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the 1955 summit conference in Geneva, taking notes hastily scribbled by Dulles and relaying them to the conference. Crushing Blow Promised

Khrushchev's orders to Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky mean literally that "if foreign aircraft again violate the air space of our country, the aircraft will be shot down and a crushing blow delivered to those bases from which the aircraft took off."

The Soviet Union will be disappointed if there is no new summit, "but we will continue our efforts" for one. (Continued on Page 2)

Elephants Center of Attention as They Graze in Klamath Falls Pasture

Klamath Falls (UPI)—Three elephants who were slightly injured in an auto mishap late Thursday at the north entrance to Klamath Falls were the center of attention in a pasture near here today.

The elephants, Benny, Tommy and Alice, were en route from Marysville, Calif., to Seattle aboard a semi-truck and trailer.

Police said a cattle truck cut in close to the elephant truck and the latter swerved onto the highway shoulder. This threw the trailer off balance, tipping it over and freeing the elephants.

Another truck in the convoy of Rudy Brothers circus came along and the driver, Roy Meyers, helped in rounding up the elephants.

The elephants were put in a pasture where they were to remain until a substitute truck arrives.

Durno Disapproves Plan To Create Park on Coast

Florence (UPI)—Dr. Edwin Durno, Republican candidate for Congress from the Fourth District, said Thursday he opposed creation of a National Seashore Park in the Florence-Redport area.

Durno was one of 51 candidates and others who shared the area Thursday.

He said making the area into a national park would be "a needless waste of money" because it was already owned by public agencies and being developed by Oregon, Lane county and the U. S. Forest Service.

$11,000 Loan Made To Eagle Point

The community facilities administration of the housing and home finance agency, has allotted an $11,000 loan to Eagle Point for additional planning for sanitary sewage facilities. Sen. Hall S. Lusk said today.

The interest-free loan will be used in planning for a sewer system estimated to cost $170,000, he said.

Eagle Point residents approved a $30,000 bond issue to help finance construction of a sewer system late last year. The $40,000 difference between the bond issue and estimated cost will be financed through the Bancroft plan over a 10-year period.
