

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

DIPHONG IS THE SLOPPIEST GUY IN SIX STATES—TWO MINUTES IN A ROOM AND IT'S STRICTLY A DISASTER AREA—

BUT OH, HOW PARTICK HE IS ABOUT HIS HOME WORKSHOP! HANDS OFF! EVERYTHING IN ITS ETC....

COULDN'T WE KEEP THIS ROOM A LITTLE TIDIER—I'VE PICKED UP THREE TIMES IN HERE TODAY...

AW! YOU'RE ALLUS BELLY-ACHIN!! A HOME IS TO RELAX IN, AIN'T IT? WHY DO YOU HAVE TO BE SO FUSSY! MAYBE YOU NEED A PSYCHIATRIST!!

I JUST WANT THE HAMMER TO HANG JUNIOR'S PICTURE—

YOU'RE ALLUS THROWIN' MY TOOLS AROUND! NEVER PUT 'EM BACK IN PLACE!! GOT NO IDEA OF SYSTEM OR ORDER!! USE YOUR SHOE! LEAVE MY THINGS ALONE!!

Volunteers Demonstrate They Are Ready for Any Emergency

By GENE MORGAN

The volunteer members of the Central Point Rural Fire Protection district demonstrated their readiness for any emergency at Hoover Lake last Sunday.

At 5:10 p.m., more than two hours after the boy had fallen into the lake, Allan Bishop, a district volunteer, found the boy's body in more than 20 feet of water.

It was not learned until later that Bishop did not know how to swim, yet he had been under water twice looking for the boy, and used up nearly two tanks of oxygen.

Of Bishop's courage, Hadley remarked, "This shows something of the caliber of fellows we have for volunteers."

Both Hadley and Claude Hoover, a member of the district's board of directors, agree that although this was the first underwater rescue attempt in which the district has participated, there will undoubtedly be more.

Hoover said there have been six or eight new ponds and lakes created within the 75 square mile boundaries of the district this year.

Consider Regular Operation The district is giving strong consideration to forming a regular water rescue operation so it will be ready to meet future emergencies of this sort when they occur, according to Hadley.

An opportunity to form such an operation may already have presented itself. The Central Point Fire department has some available funds and has been considering the purchase of a disaster car to be equipped with such items as first aid equipment, stretchers and skindiving apparatus.

The district has no regular skindiving equipment, as has the sheriff's office, and its divers used smoke masks while under water. A smoke mask which is good in smoke for at least an hour, lasts only for a maximum of 18 minutes under water.

To acquaint the viewing public with some of the lesser-known aspects of domiciliary life at White City, the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health association will feature some of the men who are active in the manual arts department, as well as a two-man combo, who will furnish music on a regular bi-weekly "Adventures in Medicine" program at 3 o'clock this afternoon over station KBEST-TV.

Through the combined efforts of medical, administrative, and rehabilitation personnel, the veterans at the Domiciliary are taking advantage of a "Planned Living" program, and finding new interests and objectives in the process.

Dr. Arthur Anderson, chief medical officer, John Glenn, domiciliary officer, and Louis Reale, chief manual arts therapist, will appear on the program in an informal discussion about the Domiciliary, pointing out some of the benefits of physical, corrective, recreational, and manual arts therapy.

The Domiciliary houses nearly 1,000 men, most of whom are veterans of World War I, with the next largest group being from World War II, and a few veterans of the Korean conflict.

The installation at White City is one of 18 Veterans' Domiciliaries in the United States.

The physical, economic, and social advantages of domiciliary life will be noted and explained by the panel.

Cancer Lecture Speakers Listed

Guest speakers for the John Tomlin Memorial Cancer lectures which are scheduled in Medford June 24 and 25 have been announced. They include Dr. Frederic H. Bentley, Portland; Dr. Clyde A. Stevenson, Spokane, Wash.; Dr. Stuart H. Quan, New York City; and Dr. John S. Spratt, St. Louis, Mo.

Subject of the 1960 lectures will be tumors of the colon with emphasis on their diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. Bentley, a former professor of surgery at the University of Durham, England, is now a consulting surgeon in Portland. Dr. Stevenson, formerly professor of radiology at University of Texas post graduate medical school, is chief radiologist at Sacred Heart hospital, Spokane.

Dr. Quan is assistant attending surgeon at New York Memorial hospital for cancer and allied diseases, and instructor in surgery at Cornell medical school. Dr. Spratt is assistant surgeon at Barnes and Allied hospitals in St. Louis, and instructor in surgery at Washington university school of medicine.

Physicians and surgeons in southern Oregon and Northern California have been invited to attend the two-day program in cancer education made possible by a bequest of the late John Tomlin to the Oregon division of the American Cancer society.

Two persons were hurt in one of two accidents reported Friday by state police.

Nancy Lee Hurlbut, 18, of route 4, box 437, Medford, was reported in good condition Saturday by Sacred Heart hospital attendants while recovering from cuts on her face and back bruises.

Charles Allen Parlier, III, 22, of 1628 East Main st., was treated as an outpatient for cuts about his face and hands and released Friday.

The one-car accident occurred about 10:20 p.m., Friday, as Parlier was driving east on Griffin Creek rd., state police said. The Parlier car started to pass another vehicle, hit a left road shoulder and went out of control. The car went into a ditch, up a bank and rolled over.

An accident occurred about 2:40 p.m. Friday on South Pacific highway near Kim's restaurant. A car driven by Beverly Gertrude Reynolds, 211 Fourth st., Phoenix, had stopped to make a left turn when a car driven by Clarence Scott Miller, 79, of 403 DeBarr ave., struck the Reynolds car.

State police said no injuries were reported, and both cars had been removed from the scene of the accident before an officer arrived. However, Miller was informed a complaint would be signed charging him with following too close.

Washington - Armored cars were used by the marine corps as far back as 1916. Even those early types were reported to attain speeds to 60 miles an hour, amazing in that test period.
