

Colavito Paces Detroit To Win Over Former Teammates; Orioles Lose to Washington

By United Press International
Rocky Colavito ripped into his former Cleveland teammates as if it were a labor of love when he smashed a pair of homers against them Saturday to pace Detroit to a 7-4 victory in 10 innings.

Colavito's second homer of the game came with one on in the 10th off loser Dick Stigman and broke a 4-4 tie. The Tigers then added another run when Chico Fernandez tripled and stole home.

Koppe Joins Phils List Of Disabled

Philadelphia—UPI—This just doesn't look like the Philadelphia Phillies' year.

As if they didn't have enough trouble, the last-place Phils were informed Saturday that shortstop Joe Koppe will be lost to them for six to eight weeks.

At that, the Phillies got off lucky. They came mighty close to losing their star rookie outfielder—Tony Curry—also in a bone-jarring collision against the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Koppe and Curry both came together with tremendous impact while trying for Rocky Nelson's pop fly in the third inning. Curry, batting .343, sprained unconscious but was revived by oxygen in the dressing room.

Both players were taken to the Temple university hospital, where Koppe was found to be suffering from a dislocated bone in his right wrist and a sheared styloid process of the right elbow. His arm will be set today. X-rays of Curry's chest proved negative but he remained in the hospital overnight because of shock. The Phillies also lost the game, 3-0.

Boston Breaks Old Jump Mark

Sioux Falls, S.D.—UPI—Ralph Boston's Olympic hopes were buoyed Friday night by his record-shattering win in the NAAIA broad jump championships.

His 25-foot, 7 1/4 inch jump was one of four records set under near perfect weather conditions on the opening night of the ninth annual NAAIA track and field championships.

Boston, 5-event threat from Tennessee A&I, sailed four inches past the record set last year by James Baird of East Texas state, who had to settle for third with 24 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

Boston's record leap and Larry Tech's Lan Stewart's 200-meter run mark came in the finals. Records were set in preliminary heats of the 400-meter hurdle and dash events.

Stuart Baker NAAIA Qualifier

Sioux Falls, S.D.—UPI—Fred Schaffer of Whitworth college of Spokane, Wash., won the discus event with a throw of 167 feet, 1/2 inch in the national NAAIA track meet here Friday. The meet ended today.

Bob Roy of Willamette university was fourth in the discus with a throw of 149 feet, 3 inches. Stuart Baker of Southern Oregon college qualified for the finals in the 100-meter run by placing fourth in his heat.

Kennedy Signs With Portland

Portland, Ore.—UPI—The Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast league Saturday announced the signing of former major league pitcher Bill Kennedy. Kennedy was signed as a free agent.

Kennedy, a 39-year-old left-hander, was released by Seattle last week. He had an 0-0 record at the time.

in the fourth inning, now has a total of six for the season, three of which have come against the Indians, who traded him to the Tigers in April. Reliever Dave Sisler, was credited with the victory after pitching his way out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth. Charley Maxwell also homered for Detroit.

Sox Down Athletics
Gene Freese's seventh inning homer broke a 2-2 tie and helped the Chicago White Sox to a 4-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics. Bob Shaw went the distance for the White Sox, yielding seven hits for his fifth victory. Jim Landis also homered for Chicago. Both homers came off Ken Johnson, who struck out 10 men before giving way to Marty Kutyna in the eighth inning.

Bill Monbouquette halted a three-game losing streak by the Red Sox by pitching them to an 8-2 victory over the Yankees. Home runs by Roger Maris in the fourth and Tony Kubek in the seventh were the only runs Monbouquette gave up in bringing his season record to 5-4.

Boston clinched the game in the first inning when it routed loser Bill Short and scored four runs. Frank Malone singled home two of the runs. Pete Runnels hit two doubles and a single to raise his average to .365 and Don Buddin homered off reliever Duke Maas.

Fourth Straight
The Washington Senators won their fourth straight by beating the league-leading Baltimore Orioles, 7-1. Chuck Stobbs and Tex Clevenger combined to hold the Orioles to seven hits, one of which was a homer by Ron Hansen. The Senators chased Rookie Steve Barber in the third inning with an extra-base barrage that included Jim Lamont's two-run homer and a homer by Earl Battey with the bases empty.

Merrill Captures Class B Crown
Portland, Ore.—UPI—Merrill defeated McKensie, 4 to 2, to win the Oregon high school Class B baseball championship here Saturday night.

Denny Salvadori pitched the victory and also batted in two runs. Salvadori allowed McKensie only four hits. He struck out four and walked four.

For Merrill, the win enabled the school to sweep the school to win the Class B major sports championships. Merrill also won the basketball and track titles and tied for the Class B football crown.

5,000 Mark By Beatty

Compton, Calif.—UPI—Uncle Sam's Olympic games prospects never looked better in the distances than today following little Jim Beatty's second record-setting performance in a space of six days.

The 128-pound, 5-6 ball of track energy highlighted the 21st annual Compton Invitational meet Friday night with a sparkling 13:51.7 in the 5,000 meters—the fastest a U.S. trackman has ever run the distance.

The startling exhibition came less than a week after the 25-year-old hawk-faced Beatty stepped off a 3.58 mile at the California Relays in Modesto, Calif.

While the cheers went mainly to Beatty and Compton University's John Thomas, who bettered the established high jump world record with a leap of 7 feet 1 1/4 inches but still shy of his own best mark, the crowd came to see Australia's Herb Elliott.

Elliott, still ailing from a knee discomf, won the mile in 3:59.2. It was ordinary time for him, but in so doing he drew the best out of the U.S. contestants.

Jim Grelle, formerly of the University of Oregon, was second in his all time best of 4:00.1, and Bobby Seaman, former UCLA miler, was third in 4:01.4.

Group Plans Big Housing Project

Woodburn—UPI—A group called Senior Citizens of the West, Inc., has revealed blueprints for a $10 million housing development near Woodburn exclusively for the aged.

President of the developing firm, George F. Brice Jr., said the project is expected to involve 1,000 homes eventually.

Brice is also president of Security Bank of Oregon. His group has taken options on 220 acres west of Woodburn. One-bedroom homes will go for $5,500. The downpayment will be $670 and monthly payments $49.50, according to Brice.

EBBETS LIGHTS TO SHINE
New York—UPI—The lights at Ebbets field will shine again, Marvin Krater, head of a corporation which purchased the property of the former Brooklyn Dodgers, said 500 field lights would be given the city for use at a stadium on Randall's island where soccer, baseball and football games are played.

PRO-LADIES TOURNAY

Mickelsen Is Choice of Portlanders for Majors

By JIM COURRI
United Press International
Portland—UPI—When Portland baseball fans talk about which one of "their" Beavers is the most likely to make the major leagues, the name of Noel Mickelsen usually comes up first.

It's logical. Mickelsen, a 6-foot-6 pitcher, has given every indication this year in Pacific Coast league baseball play that he's ready to be a major leaguer.

The 25-year-old righthander has come on to post a 6-3 record and a 3.16 earned run average in 1960 as a starter after finishing with a 3-6 mark in an entire campaign as a relief hurler with Sacramento last season.

The only thing that interests Mickelsen at the present, however, is piling up victories for the Beavers. It's more than just a professional allegiance. For Portland, the lanky hurler feels he's come of age.

Portland's star hurler signed with the Milwaukee Braves' organization in 1956 after graduation from San Diego State college.

He's been in the minors ever since, his best year record-wise coming with Evansville in the Three-I league in 1957 when he won 17 games and lost only 5.

Pro baseball didn't end Mickelsen's education, however. He has been working toward his master's degree in education at San Diego State as well as gaining coaching experience as an assistant head S.D. hoop mentor under George Ziegenfuss, a former University of Washington All-American.

Mickelsen, who will get his master's degree next year and who was a four-year letterman in both baseball and basketball at the California institution, would like to coach in the future.

Right now, though, all Mickelsen wants to do is win for Portland. But at the rate he's going, Beaver fans are afraid he'll win himself right out of Portland and into the major leagues.

Portland—UPI—Police searched Saturday for an eight-year old Negro boy missing since Thursday afternoon. Charles (Buster) Mack was last seen by his mother, Mrs. Opal Mack, as he was riding a bus.

Man Pleads Guilty To Murder Charge

Vancouver, Wash.—UPI—Roger John Martin, 43, Vancouver, pleaded guilty to second degree murder in Clark county superior court here Friday.

Martin said he killed his wife, Sadie, at their home Feb. 21.

Martin, who at one time had been a Vancouver policeman, was sentenced to Washington State Prison for life.

Computer to Aid Cattle Breeders

Washington—Science Service—A mathematical model that cattle breeders can use to tell when to breed or sell their stock has been reported to the National Academy of Sciences here.

Drs. Richard Bellman and Robert Kalaba of Rand Corporation, Santa Monica, Calif., devised the method to show how modern mathematics and high-speed computers can be of practical help in agricultural problems. The new mathematical system on which their method is based is called dynamic programming and was developed to control defense and industrial processes.

The scientists' formula for determining how to obtain the most money from a given herd of cattle of known ages is reported in the current Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Hatfield to Get Safety Award

Salem—UPI—Gov. Mark Hatfield will receive an award from an insurance company here Wednesday at a meeting of the Oregon Traffic Safety commission for leadership in traffic safety.

The award will be presented by Charles E. Colbert, manager of the Allstate Insurance company regional office.

The commission will discuss ways to reduce traffic hazards caused by lowered or otherwise modified cars. It has been studying a California statute regarding modified vehicles.

Vancouver, Wash.—UPI—Roger John Martin, 43, Vancouver, pleaded guilty to second degree murder in Clark county superior court here Friday.

Martin said he killed his wife, Sadie, at their home Feb. 21.

Martin, who at one time had been a Vancouver policeman, was sentenced to Washington State Prison for life.

Smith Recommends Pushing for Dams

Lebanon—UPI—Republican U. S. senate candidate Elmo Smith said here Friday that "only incessant hammering" will make Green Peter and Foster dam projects in the Willamette valley a reality.

$17 million appropriation for Foster dam in the Army Engineers budget indicates the national administration's recognition of the value of the projects but Smith added this is not enough.
