Other wagons are from Roseburg, Drain, Cottage Grove, Independence, Eugene, and Hillsboro. The wagons assembled in Hillsboro for final adjustments and repairs, and were to be transported to Portland for the parade.

All of the wagons at those which travelled from Independence, Mo., to Independence, Ore., as part of Oregon's Centennial activities last year.

Disarmament Experts Tackle Munitions Race

Geneva — (UPI) — Disarmament experts from 10 nations of the Communist and Western worlds ended a five-week recess today and assembled for a fresh crack at trying to halt the international armaments race.

Lacking any new direction from the abortive summit conference, today's session was expected to dwell on a revised disarmament blueprint made public by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev last week.

Comment Avoided

Western diplomats said they hoped the new plan meant Moscow finally wanted serious disarmament negotiations but they said it may be some time before the true Communist intent becomes clear.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin avoided comment when he arrived Monday except for one brief reference to the "forces" which he said broke up the Big Four meeting in Paris.

He said he hoped these "forces" would not place obstacles in the path of the disarmament conference.

Zorin carried in his briefcase Khrushchev's new plan in the form of a disarmament treaty. He made no reference to the Soviet premier's threat in Paris to take the whole arms issue back to the United Nations General Assembly.

Tactics Discussed

Chiefs of the five Western delegations—the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—met to discuss tactics Monday evening and ended by expressing the hope Russia now seeks serious negotiations.

Some Western diplomatic sources said the West may seek a brief recess after today in order to give more time to study of the Soviet plan, made only five days ago.

Sammy Davis Jr. Plans Wedding

London — (UPI) — Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. today prepared to "face a lot of problems" arising from his plans to marry blonde Swedish actress May Britt, 24.

"There are some places in America where we couldn't walk down the street holding hands without some people being shocked," the 34-year-old Davis said Monday after announcing the forthcoming wedding. He said the probable date was September and the probable place London.

Davis, in show business since childhood, and Miss Britt, a rising star, both indicated that "a marriage might affect their careers."

"But I'm willing to take the risk," she said.

"If my career is flimsily put together that my marriage to May Britt may ruin it, then my career isn't worth much, is it?" Davis said.

ILLNESS RATIO

Key Workers May Be Pulled To Slow Production

San Diego, Calif. — (UPI) — Convair machinists stayed out on a crippling strike at four key Atlas missile bases today but other machinists ended a one-day work stoppage and returned to their jobs at the two Convair plants where the mighty missiles are made.

However, the International Association of Machinists threatened to pull out key workers at the plants to slow production, yet still allow most plant workers to remain on the job to help finance a strike fund.

The fund would be used to help support about 3,000 IAM maintenance and construction workers striking at the important air force bases at Cape Canaveral, Fla.; Vandenberg, Calif.; Offut, Neb., and Warren, Wyo.

Launching Postponed

The strike at the base began Monday and already has caused postponement of a test launching of an Atlas at Cape Canaveral and tied up construction of pads and Atlas equipment at all the bases.

In Washington, Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) called for action "by persuasion if possible, by Taff-Hartley if necessary" to end the strike.

Stennis told the Senate that the strike indicates "a serious defect in our sense of national urgency."

"As far as I am concerned, this strike is far worse than the U2 incident, because it indicates that the progress of this important part of our defense posture can be stopped by a relatively small number of key people," he said.

Stennis is a ranking member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Operations Crippled

He pointed out that the only combat-ready Atlas missiles are at Vandenberg, and said operations are "virtually crippled" at Warren and Offut Air Force bases, which are being prepared for the Atlas, and at the test range at Cape Canaveral.

Picket lines were thrown up by about 600 workers at Vandenberg, about 800 workers at Cape Canaveral and a similar number struck and walked picket lines at Warren and Offut.

Thousands of other union members at the various bases refused to cross the picket lines, including about 1,500 members of the Transport union and the Teamsters union at Cape Canaveral.

Hypnosis May Help Space Travelers

San Antonio, Tex. (Science Service) — Space travelers might be helped by hypnosis, Prof. Roy M. Dorcus of the department of psychology at the University of California, Los Angeles, told a symposium here.

He said hypnosis might implant ideas for reducing fear and anxiety and might be used to reduce boredom. He said spacemen could be trained in self-hypnosis so "that they may bring about sleep when desired and awaken at any time in an alert condition."

Prof. Dorcus spoke at a symposium on psychophysiological aspects of space flight arranged by the Southwest Research Institute and sponsored by the School of Aviation Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base.

PALSY VICTIMS

Washington — It is estimated more than 500,000 persons in the United States are afflicted with cerebral palsy.

Light Vote Seen In California Primary Election

San Francisco — (UPI) — A light vote was forecast today in a California presidential primary election which may give some clues to Richard M. Nixon's popularity in his home state.

Nixon was unopposed in his bid for the state's 70 votes to the GOP National Convention in Chicago in July. But a last-minute movement for Nelson A. Rockefeller was in evidence and Democrats were determined to run up larger vote totals than Nixon does.

Write-ins Prohibited

Under the state's election laws, write-ins were prohibited in the presidential primary although were legal in balloting for nominations for Congress and the Legislature.

And voters could not cross party lines to vote for either Nixon or Brown.

But both parties awaited the returns to see whether Nixon ran ahead or behind of the favorite son candidacy of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Factors to be considered in comparing Nixon's and Brown's vote totals were these:

Urge 'Silent Vote'

Supporters of Rockefeller urged Republicans to cast a "silent vote" for the New York governor by refraining from putting an X after the spot on the ballot reserved for Nixon's delegation. A Citizens for Rockefeller spokesman said failure to vote for Nixon would be indicating a strong preference for Rockefeller. Rockefeller refused to comment on the drive although he announced May 25 he would be available for a draft for the presidency.

Brown faced opposition on the Democratic ticket from George McLain, Los Angeles pension promoter who has been conducting what he called a "grey-haired revolt" against Brown's aged aid program. McLain was not expected to upset the governor but may poll upwards of 500,000 votes and hurt Brown's chances of topping the turnout for Nixon.

No Brown Preference

Nixon could draw from only 2,519,000 registered Republicans while Democratic registration exceeded that figure by 1,156,000, an almost 3-2 edge.

Nixon is an active candidate for President while Brown has expressed no personal preference for any of the ranking Democratic hopefuls — Adlai E. Stevenson or Sens. Stuart Symington, John F. Kennedy or Lyndon B. Johnson. Democratic leaders said this might result in a heavier turnout for Nixon. Brown hopes to control the state's 81 votes to the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles in July and play a major role in the selection of the presidential nominee.

Eichmann 'Volunteered' To Leave Argentina for Trial, Israel Declares

Buenos Aires — (UPI) — Israel announced Monday night that "Jewish volunteers" took SS Col. Adolf Eichmann out of Argentina to face trial in Israel for the alleged wartime killing of millions of Jews.

An Israeli note formally denied widely published reports that Israeli security agents kidnaped Eichmann from this country. It said he voluntarily accompanied the volunteers, who handed him over to Israeli security forces somewhere outside Argentina.

It did not say when or by what means Eichmann left Argentina, or where he was turned over to security agents.

The note said Israel is sorry if the volunteers, "themselves survivors of the wartime massacre who put this historic mission above any other consideration... violated Argentine law or interfered in any way with Argentine sovereignty."
