

Out on a Limb

By BOB WALTERS

Half a Calf

Gentleman Farmer John O., whose wife Evelyn drops by the office occasionally to write a story or two, took exception to my remarks last week about the garbage in the mail box.

"Here," says Evelyn, dipping into her mammoth pocketbook and showing a wad of propaganda at me. "John says to stop complaining about your darned mail!"

In passing, I feel obligated to qualify the adjective used above in regard to Evelyn's pocketbook. Never before had I seen any as big as the one she carries. It was just a few weeks ago, in fact, that all three little O's were reported absent from school. Guess where they found them?

But back to John's mail. The first item was about the size of the Saturday Evening Post and was entitled "100 Best Fitting Formulas for Blue Ribbon Beef." Then there was a publication called Upper Rogue News, a tractor parts catalogue, a news bulletin from a producer's cooperative, a publication from a feed manufacturer, the latest word about the poultry industry and a little pamphlet about something called FreeWeen.

"FreeWeen," the pamphlet says, "cuts the cost of raising calves in half." This came as quite a surprise, since I didn't even know people raised calves in half.

Wonder what they do with all the other halves?

Also in Mr. O's mailbox were two post cards from a local auto repair shop.

"Thank you," says one, "for letting us service your car. Come in again soon."

"It's been 60 days," says the other, "since we serviced your car. Please bring your car in for service now."

My, how the time do fly.

I bow to Mr. O. on the mailbox issue but I think Farm Editor Joe Cowley has earned the right to the last word.

"I'd like to see John and Evelyn and their five thousand talented turkeys start a television program," he says. "They could call it the George Gobble Show."

The subject of names came up at the Ashland Chamber of Commerce office a while back when Chamber Secretary Mrs. Velma Jones said a man named Cole Rivers from the state fish and game commission would be guest speaker at one of the weekly luncheon meetings.

"I once knew a couple named Minor," chirped Janie, right-hand girl to Shakespearean Festival Manager Bill Patton. "They had a little boy and called him Cole."

A shame they didn't have a little girl. They could have called her Ima.

At least until she was 21.

Great White Father contributed the following:

A jaunty reporter parked his foreign sports car in front of a country store and went in. When he came out, a farmer was looking the car over.

"Well," said the reporter proudly, "it do you think of it?"

"He" drawled the farmer. "Picked that one for: it was ripe, didn't ya?"

'Big Foot's' Den Found by HC Man

Happy Camp - Floyd Lappitt, who lives just above the mouth of the south fork of Indian Creek, reports that he believes he has found where "big foot" spent the winter. He has promised to bring in pictures of the location in the near future.

Floyd has spent many years around the mountains and he says he has never seen a den like this one.

MERCHANTS THANKED

Happy Camp - There will be a meeting of the property owners adjacent to Indian Creek rd. this Friday at 8 p.m. in the Grange hall. Subject will be the acquiring of right of ways by the county for widening and realignment of road.

Reception Set for Newcomers to EP

By DOTTIE HARBISON
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Eagle Point also will be presented.

According to the Eagle Point Greeters chairman, all merchants, organizations, churches, and clubs represented in the Greeters directory have been invited to send a representative and special invitations have been issued to all newcomers known to the group and called upon since the first of February.

The reception is sponsored by the Eagle Point Greeters, a group of volunteers belonging to the Eagle Point Jayceettes.

The Greeters club was organized for the purpose of calling upon newcomers and acquainting them with the social and business opportunities offered within the area.

A directory consisting of most of the businesses, churches, organizations, clubs and a few of the places and things that would help a newcomer become acquainted in their new home was compiled and ready for distribution to all newcomers about the first of February. Everyone whose name was turned in to the Greeters beginning with the first of August was called upon and given a directory and everyone moving into the area after the first of February was given the directory and a gift basket containing a gift certificate from most of the merchants.

The gift certificates are to help welcome newcomers to the community itself and to introduce them to the merchants.

So far, there are about 45 new families who have moved into the area since the first of August. Several other places have just changed hands but the new owners have not moved in as yet.

The Rev. Thornton Gopen of Applegate church gave the invocation and benediction. Arlene Dietrick gave a piano solo, and vocal numbers were given by the upper grades.

Norman Bonzon, principal, was master of ceremonies, and introduced school board members Lester Hill, LeRoy Offenbacher, Frances Krouse, Henry Head, and Karl Herriott.

Crater FFA to Erect New Sign

Gold Hill-Howard Misner, landscape chairman for Crater FFA at Crater High school has announced that the new FFA sign similar to those used by the forest service will be erected soon in front of the Crater agriculture shop.

Glen Jonky, assistant landscape chairman, and Misner have spent about two months constructing the sign, which is 4 feet high by 8 feet wide. Below the sign will be a planter made of granite containing flowers that will bloom throughout the year.

Crater FFA boys recently organized "The Dusters," supervised by the agriculture instructor, Edward Griggs. This vocal group met during noon hours and after school hours to practice popular songs. Participating are Terry Payne, leader, Nathan Baney, Tom Kambal, Russell Walker and Bill Allen, accompanied by Jim Walker and Gary Evans, who played guitars.

CAR A TOTAL LOSS

Happy Camp - John Bariso had a narrow escape recently when his car left the road approximately 10 miles east of Happy Camp. John was able to get back to the road and get a ride to town. He had a few bruises, but the car is reported a total loss.

Registration Set June 15 For GH Recreation Program

By MARY KELL
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Gold Hill-Leon Myers, recreation director in Gold Hill, has announced that June 15 from 1 to 4 p.m. has been set for youngsters to register for the summer recreation program, which will commence Monday, June 20.

The program will be held from 1 to 4 p.m., five days each week for a period of six weeks, concluding July 30.

A registration fee of 75 cents will be charged each child at the time of registration to cover necessary insurance and incidental expenses.

Each youngster must have written permission from parent or guardian to take part. The instructor will have the authority to suspend a youngster's privilege of taking part if certain rules are disobeyed. In this case the registration fee would not be returned. Registration will be held at Hanby school.

Youngsters who have completed the fourth grade, and including those through sophomore year in high school, are eligible for the program.

Myers said he wished to remind parents that this is a leisure time program and there will be no attendance roles. If youngsters who would like to take part in the program are on a vacation with the family when the recreation program gets underway on the 20th, they may still participate when they return. If a family plans to leave during the latter part of the recreation program period, their youngsters may participate before they leave.

Parents Responsible

Parents must be responsible for their youngsters' transportation to and from the recreation program, and pick them up promptly when the day's activities are over at 4 p.m.

Myers said an activity schedule to accommodate the different age groups will be set up after the June 15th.

Six Scholarships Awarded at EPHS

Eagle Point - Six scholarships have been awarded to students of the Eagle Point High school class of 1960.
